Secrets Every Black Man Should Know But No One Else Will Tell You Good information but most of the information was simple things that i learned as a kid. See all 11 reviews.

Let me start by saying, there are good single mothers in our society and I applaud those women. They work tirelessly, with little or no help, to see that their children are provided for and well rounded. The sacrifices they make for their families cannot be measured in any lifetime. This clarion call is not about those women. This is about the numerous modern day single moms who set their sons on a sure path of rebellion, disrespect and dishonor. Most of those boys will grow up to be unproductive men in our society. For irrefutable proof one only needs to examine: The high school drop out rate amongst boys from single-family homes. The incarceration statistics for boys raised by single moms. Am I attacking or demonizing single mothers? A thousand times no! I am dealing with a critical issue that has devastated multiple generations. One that has not been properly dealt with for too long. I have watched this particular group of single mothers reek havoc and sow seeds of discord in the lives of countless children. Like many women who give themselves to dishonorable men, Racine assumed that she could change him and that he would eventually marry her. You should know that Racine was in the church while this disgraceful chain of events took place. After their second child, her live-in boyfriend just up and left. He coldly and calculatedly abandoned her and both of their kids. It is no secret that this is the norm for single women who get pregnant by their boyfriends. But like many women, Racine chose to ignore those irrefutable facts. She somehow believed her situation would be different than the countless single women who are left pregnant and alone every year. Before bolting, her enigmatic lover prepped his family, friends and co-workers not to divulge any information of his whereabouts to his ex. For three months Racine pleaded with his family and friends to tell her what happened. She broke down and told Racine the truth. Her Night In Pining Armour had dumped her and hurriedly married some bimbo. She turned into an angry and vengeful single mom. Her means of getting revenge against her ex was to physically abuse both their children. She would do things such as force them to sit outside in the freezing cold for hours at a time. Because of her physically and verbally abusive behavior, Joseph learned to hate females. Because of how his mother abused him and his little brother, Joseph detests the female gender with an unforgiving passion. Like his mother had been drilling in his ears for years, he followed in the footsteps of his father. He got a female pregnant while in high school, but instead of abandoning her and baby like his dad, he married her. Not because he loved her, but to prove his mother wrong. Joseph had taken on the same vengeful and abusive spirit as his mom. He has been abusing her ever since. Even at my behest, his wife refused to file charges. She felt as though she could change him. Their little girl will be 5-years-old in and Joseph has never held a conversation with her because of distrust and hatred of all females. Did you comprehend what you just read? You just read how generational curses are started. What you are reading are not aberrations. These incidents happen everyday. I could share with you so many other cases and incidents such as the large number of single mothers who for various reasons refuse to divulge to their kids who their true biological father are. It may even spark some dissenting and harsh responses. And the devastating curse of misogynistic men and angry boys will continue. If you are a single mother, this is an opportunity for you to look in the mirror of life and ascertain that you are not setting your son up for manhood meltdown. He will develop a corrupted view of manhood, so take these test questions serious. Some women knowingly and intentionally perform this evil scheme. Others do it unintentionally. While boys are young, this vengeful act seems harmless, but as they grow older, they develop bitterness against their fathers. This root of bitterness, See Hebrews They play out their parental distress by becoming overtly rebellious, joining gangs, committing crimes and engaging in other self-destructive activities such as domestic violence and homosexuality. I have listened to men tell how they thought about killing their dads or wanting to hurt him just to get even for being abandoned. In many cases, their dads did not abandon them. These mothers were being plain evil by fueling poisonous lies of child abandonment. Even if it is true! You may be angry at him for not marrying you or for breaking up with you, or for whatever reason. But you must understand; by poisoning your child against his dad, you are accomplishing two damnable feats. You may hate the father of your child. You may hate all men. You may feel justified in your malice because of how men have treated you. However, all men are not dogs! Good men do exist! A portion of the men who become dogs were trained to be that way by their disgruntled mothers. These boys listen to their moms speak hypercritically, denounce and condemn all men until they develop a disparaging complex about being a male. Once those seeds are planted in their impressionable minds and hearts, these boys lose hope about being an honorable man. Albeit a negative one. Single moms, you must find ways to encourage your son and put a stop to words and actions that dismantle his vision of being a decent man. All men are not dogs! As a single mother, you cannot afford to play the worldly dating game of love, sex and relationships. When you become a revolving door for hordes of males, you indoctrinate your son to systematically devalue and disrespect the female gender. By watching an assortment of males freely enter into and abruptly exit out of your life, your son learns firsthand how to become a playa player, pimp, baller and shot caller. As he witnesses your failed relationships, tears of regret from your manifold sexual liaisons and learns how you were dumped, played, dismissed and disgraced at the hands of detestable males, his conscience becomes desensitized to the well being of all women. As you play the dating game, you persuade your son that males were called to be pimps. As a single mother, if a man refuses to respect you as a woman and honor the fact that you have a child, he is not worthy of your companionship. You need to know that a man should not date you if he is not prepared emotionally, psychological, physically and financially to take on the responsibility of raising your child. It is an absolute waste of your time for you to date or court a man who: Take that charge serious. Set before him an example of honor, respect and virtue. Time and time again, I meet single mothers who allow men to spend the night, move-in or do long-term layovers. When boys see their moms engaging in such shameful activity, they become indoctrinated to see women as sex objects, booty calls and casual sex partners. Especially when they catch mommy in bed or on the couch with strange flesh. He is your child! Most single mothers will never understand the psychological damage they cause by anointing their sons to be the man of the house. By falsely convincing their boys that they are men, these single moms pigeonhole their adolescents into a pressure-based environment God never intended for them to be in. These teenage boys freely talk about selling drugs, robbing people, car jacking and committing other crimes to take care of their household. It is not their household! Nor is it their responsibility. They stay inside all the time eating potato chips and playing the newest video game system. Put a baseball in their hands and they look like a Deer caught in headlights. No boy should ever be caught dead throwing like a girl. Each Father must teach his son how to throw a solid punch. Bullies are cowards who pick on the weak, after a jab to the nose you can forget about bullies picking on you ever again. Is the internet a better father than you? Make the decision, do not waiver in the face of adversity, and you will reap the rewards of your effort. Discrimination is how you survive and prosper. You see a girl in a bar dressed like a slut, you can be sure she is a slut. You see a group of Mexicans gathered around the Home Depot you can be sure they are illegals. A strong father will not raise a weak child, he will teach his child the importance of stoic strength. People in this world are out to eat the weak and if you show vulnerability the Hyenas will feast. That can mean athletics, yard work, farm work, work in the family business, or school work. Letting yourself go is a sign of weakness, depression, and high estrogen and low testosterone. Always pull out early. There are two ways to get to Maya beach: The front way and the back way. If you go the front way you have to pay, so we had our banana boat driver take us the back way so we could get in for free. At the back door of Maya beach you have to park the boat in the water, jump in the ocean, and swim to the edge of the island where you climb up a rope and then up some stairs. As we were leaving we saw some truly horrific sights. He was being pulled through the ocean by a tiny little Thai man who was not wearing a life jacket. The guy in the life jacket was being dragged like a little baby by a guy half his size who was not wearing a life jacket. The embarrassment does not end there. As a man you do not wait for opportunity to present itself to you, you seek it out. You will live amongst other races who covet the things you have, never forget that and never let your guard down. Never give less than your best. Your aim for perfection is what separates you from the animals of society. Never, ever be known as a liar or as a flake. Your reputation is special and must be kept in-tact. Working for others to make them rich and you a pittance is what slaves do. Making money on your own is how you do for yourself. Sex is not a social construct, it is biological. It is only when you know who you are and what you stand for that you can be comfortable with yourself. They will not respond to you trying to bond with them and have things in common with them. The further away from their femininity you are the more they will be attracted to you. Tease them, play with them, treat them like a little sister and you will not have girl problems. Sports will develop your body at the point in time it is most essential to develop your body – your teenage years. Timidity is good for nothing. If you want something you go after it and you take it. You must be disciplined enough to keep your hair trimmed and clean, you must bathe regularly, you must wear clean clothes daily, you must not dress like a slob, and you must keep yourself in top physical condition. Most of those you see did not have the same benefits you had a father who taught you about life. Pity them, but do not join them in their quest for self-destruction. Be good to your pets because they will be good to you. Remember, son, you have friends and family and the whole world, your dog only has you. A firm swat to your dogs behind is enough discipline, but you must never take your frustrations on a helpless animal. Small dreams are worthless. Aim high, go for the gold. Never think that you know everything about everything. Atheism is a form of nihilism. Spending your money on the latest gadgets and doo-dads and not saving anything for a rainy day is stupid. You will always need a backup fund for a rainy day or for an investment opportunity. The Richest Man in Babylon is good bed-time reading. Keep a lid on the motor-mouthing. A firm handshake says the world about you. A limp handshake says the opposite. The internet should not be a guide to life. Every son should learn to shave from his father. Especially with the world delving into chaos. If you shoot an animal for sport be sure to eat the meat. No is the most powerful word you can ever say. The cooler is for ice, water and beer. Some day you may be on the highway far from anywhere when a tire blows, you will need to know how to put on a spare tire and not have to rely on mechanical support. Paying someone to change your tire is just a waste of money. You will see parts of the country you would have never seen otherwise and road trips will be some of the fondest memories you will ever have. It is imperative to know how to cook steak, eggs , chicken, pork , bacon, and fish. Those foods should be your staple foods and you can add things like potatoes, vegetables, rice, and other foods that require cooking. Fast food equals fast fat on your belly. Learning proper from from a seasoned pro is better than learning from the internet. If the cook made your order wrong tell them. Never be shy to get what you paid for. If your woman asks you what you want for dinner you always answer. Always pay cash money. An offer with cash in hand is often irresistible. People are not all the same. Black is not white. Woman is not man. Gay is not straight. It will give you stories to tell for years to come.

This list will help. The beauty of the iSixSigma community is that everyone is always willing to share thoughts and experiences. Collectively, we can come up with things. Let me know what you think: What requirements are there of Green Belts at your organization that you think should be ubiquitous within the larger Six Sigma community? Send your bulletized thoughts to iSixSigma editors using our contact form. We promise to review every response and if there is enough agreement, your idea will be added to the list. Green Belts lead Six Sigma improvement projects part time. Usually 25 percent to 50 percent of their time is spent on Six Sigma projects. Becoming a Green Belt is an opportunity to gain valuable tools and experience. Green Belts who display prowess of Six Sigma methods and produce significant benefits are usually promoted within organizations. Unlike Black Belts, who typically lead cross-functional projects, Six Sigma Green Belts usually work on projects within their own functional area. They usually receive between three and 10 days, whereas Black Belts receive upwards of 20 days. Six Sigma Green Belts will be able to explain the Kano diagram and how it relates to customers. Many require employees to at least undergo training. Green Belts can be trained in classroom sessions, completely online, or a combination of the two hybrid. The Six Sigma Green Belt training curriculum varies from company to company. Six Sigma Green Belt certification requirements vary from company to company. Certification as a Green Belt from one company most likely will not be recognized at another company. Some companies require Green Belts to complete one project per year to maintain certification requirements. More advanced statistics usually require support from a Black Belt coach. Six Sigma Green Belts should expect to schedule regularly occurring meetings with their Black Belt coach to review project progress and seek advice. Green Belts will be able to create a histogram and pareto diagram, and know the difference between the two. Adding Green Belt training and a project adds to what must be accomplished in the work day, but remember: Would you rather put out fires everyday or start preventing fires from occurring? Not everyone on your Green Belt team is going to like the Six Sigma improvement process. Change is often difficult for people to embrace. Putting off your Six Sigma Green Belt project until tomorrow will leave you a lot of work to accomplish the day before your tollgate review. Just because your project needs resuscitation and is critical to you does not automatically make it a priority for your Black Belt. Plan ahead and stay in control of your project plan. Managing by data is always defensible. They should, however, know of the existence of tools and be able to ask Black Belts for help. Six Sigma Green Belts will lead the data collection process of their project and validate the measurement system. The Green Belt should expect to work on and improve their team facilitation skills. The Six Sigma Green Belt will be able to calculate the mean and standard deviation of their process data sets. Green Belts are selected because they are business professionals, not Quality gurus or statistical geniuses. Green Belts will know how to perform basic statistical tests using a statistical software package like Minitab or JMP. Six Sigma Green Belts will understand how to create a Cause And Effect Fishbone diagram to identify possible causes of process defects. Green Belts will be able to lead brainstorming sessions with their project team. Green Belts can make their bosses and co-workers look good by using graphs to show process improvement in a highly visible and easily understood visual form. Green Belts can help win support for Six Sigma by preventing the defects that create so many headaches for their bosses and co-workers. Green Belts can help overcome resistance to change by involving their co-workers in the process and leading them to data-driven solutions. Green Belts should only start a project if there is top management sponsorship willing to commit necessary resources. Green Belts should have a solid communication plan that is reviewed at each meeting to ensure that the right information about the project goes up, down and out to all stakeholders.
