For directions to these waterfalls, pick up a copy my New England Waterfalls guidebook. It contains detailed directions to each of the falls listed above. This includes the following resorts: This includes the following: There are many scenic outlooks along this scenic byway. There are several excellent waterfalls to be found along this road, including Sabbaday Falls short hike , Lower Falls roadside , Rocky Gorge short walk , Champney Falls moderate hike , and Franconia Falls moderate hike. There are many hiking trailheads along this road. Hikes range in difficulty from easy to very difficult. Open in winter, but potentially dangerous during storms. Boasts stunning views of the Presidential Range mountains, including Mt. Passes through scenic Crawford Notch. There are several excellent waterfalls to be found along this road, including Silver Cascade roadside , Flume Cascade roadside , Nancy Cascades moderate hike , Arethusa Falls moderate hike , Ripley Falls moderate hike. Washington, which at 6,314 ft is the highpoint of New England. Do not bother paying or visiting if the weather is not favorable or if Mt. Washington is in the clouds. Dress warm in all months of the year since the summit rarely hits 70 degrees. Short walk to wonderful views of the North Conway area. Drive a paved road from the town of Bartlett to the town of Gorham Boasts stunning views of the Presidential Range mountains, including Mt. Washington There are many excellent waterfalls to be found along this road, including Glen Ellis Falls short hike , Winneweta Falls moderate hike , Thompson Falls moderate hike , and Crystal Cascade moderate hike. The ultimate one-day driving loop in the White Mountains region of NH is as follows: Take I north to US 3 north. Take US 3 north to the town of Twin Mountain. Turn right onto US and head east until it brings you back to North Conway. This entire loop will take you at least four hours, and many more hours if you stop at the dozens of attractions, scenic outlooks, waterfalls, stores and restaurants along the way. I have probably driven this route times over the last 20 years and it never gets old. Moose viewing is also good along this route, especially at sunrise or sunset. Black bears are also occasionally seen. For more information on renting our cabin, which is only 15 minutes from North Conway, please click here.

Have a safe day. This is where it all begins. Warm, waterproof footwear is very important. Try to find footwear that is warm, provides ankle support and is flexible enough to allow comfort and mobility for your feet. Gaiters are a definite plus. Besides keeping the snow out of your boots, they will waterproof your legs below the knees. Lightweight breathable synthetic or wool underwear covered with insulating layers of warm sweaters or fleece clothing topped off with windproof, water repellent or waterproof-breathable clothing is the ideal arrangement for snowshoeing. If you are too warm, stop snowshoeing and take off extra layers. Too cool, reverse the process. Snowshoes generally fall into two general categories, "traditional" snowshoes and "sport" or western snowshoes. The first decision one should consider is size. Traditional shoes are made of wood and will require frame and binding maintenance. The newer sport snowshoes are made of aluminum, rubber, plastic and other lightweight materials that are durable, require no maintenance, and are easy to use. Click HERE for more information about what type of snowshoe is right for you! Snowshoeing is basically walking with big feet, you just strap on the snowshoes and walk away. When starting out for the first time on snowshoes try a flat trail until you are comfortable with tackling steeper terrain. Depending on the snow, dry or powdery, wet, hard or slippery, the snow will move. The footing will feel inconsistent. Click HERE for illustrations. If you step on the rear of your forward snowshoe with your forward-moving snowshoe, you will almost always plant your face in a nose dive! Snowshoes do not back up well. Frequently, if you step back, your snowshoe tails will drive down into the snow usually causing a fall. Instead of backing up use small U-turns or step turns to change directions. Snowshoes are not well designed to grip with their sides. Traverse at an angle up or down but not straight across if possible.
