Govan Hill Legh W. Clarke William Keiter Charles Y. Cooke Deane Hobson James D. Coleman discusses the Battle of Antietam and caring for wounded. But the hottest battle of the war was fought near Sharpsburg Md on the 17th inst. The battle lasted all day and the loss was terrific on both sides, the enemy fighting with more desperation than ever before. We call it a victory and the Yankees did so at first too; we held the ground and both sides were too much worsted to renew the fight next day. We fell back across the Potomac and the enemy then commenced shelling us and boasted that they had driven us across. They acknowledge the loss of sixteen generals. We had two generals killed and ten wounded. Winchester has been perfectly crowded with the wounded there having been more than here at one time and continually passing through. Tribune says if we had followed them, their army wd have been annihilated, and Gen. Lee says he could have done so with more fresh troops. But men had been marched so much and were so broken down, that we had 60, stragglers I have had my hands full ever since, for upon arriving here I was assigned to the charge of two Hospitals--the N. Church and Lovett House Hospitals, containing more than one hundred sick and wounded, and a great many very bad cases. But although I have been until the last few days so busily engaged, I have only lost five patients out of one hundred and eighty treated, while other hospitals have lost a much greater proportion. McGuire told me that he lost fourteen patients on night before last at the Union Hospital! There are not more than one thousand sick here now She was so anxious to see her children before she died. But it is said that everything happens for the best and we should bear everything with an even resignation.

We currently serve over 1,000 cadets. Thank you for your support! Army Secretary of the Army Mark T. Esper. Throughout his life, Senator McCain was an unflagging supporter of our military, especially our Soldiers, Veterans, and their Families. In a lifetime of public service that extended from his decorated military service in Vietnam to his distinguished tenure as the Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Senator McCain was a dedicated and heroic leader for our country. The entire US Army remains appreciative of his service, dedication, and leadership and mourns his passing. We extend our deepest condolences to the McCain family. School was undoubtedly the most valuable and rewarding training I have ever received. Level-C course at Fort Rucker, Alabama. This course is tailored to aviators and military aircrew who are considered to be at a high risk of capture behind enemy lines. The day course incorporated a vast amount of training, including academics, field exercises, and labs. The Code is outlined in six articles: I am an American, fighting in the forces which guard my country and our way of life. I am prepared to give my life in their defense. I will never surrender of my own free will. If in command, I will never surrender the members of my command while they still have the means to resist. If I am captured, I will continue to resist by all means available. I will make effort to escape and to air others to escape. I will accept neither parole nor special favors from the enemy. If I become a prisoner of war, I will keep faith with my fellow prisoners. I will give no information nor take part in any action which might be harmful to my comrades. If I am senior I will take command. If not, I will obey the lawful orders of those appointed over me and will back them up in every way. When questioned, should I become a prisoner of war, I am required to give name, rank, service number, and date of birth. I will evade answering further questions to the utmost of my ability, I will make no oral or written statements disloyal to my country and its allies or harmful to their cause. I will never forget that I am an American, fighting for freedom, responsible for my actions, and dedicated to the principles which made my country free. I will trust in my God and in the United States of America. Level-C is largely based on the experiences of past U.S. I have been taught the skills that I need in order to survive and return with honor if I should find myself in isolation or if I am to become captured. I have an immense respect for my uniform, the American flag, and the freedom I have as an American. I love my country and I know now that if I were to become isolated, I would never be forgotten. After weeks of improving their marching skills, meshing together as a unit and honing their leadership Cadets were awarded with a chance to let off some steam. The day started off with an early morning wake-up, an MRE breakfast, and a short trek to Training Area Hooah.
