Engaged to a wonderful man, the daughter of doting parents, a faithful child of God, she has it all. Then the unthinkable happens: Dynah's perfect life is irrevocably changed by a rape which results in an unwanted pregnancy.

She grew up in a Christian home and was engaged to a wonderful Christian man. Then one day while walking back to her college dorm room, she is ambushed by a stranger and raped. Soon after she discovers she is pregnant. Dynah is left dealing with the Bible school she attends and their rules of how she must go forward as well as needing to tell her parents what has happened. Everyone has advice of what she should do, but Dynah has her own struggles going on as she questions why a God she loves and has served all her life would allow something like this to happen. Francine Rivers is a long time Christian Fiction hero of mine. Francine Rivers is not one of these authors. This book has been on my radar and my book shelf for years. I have read most of what Rivers has written but for some reason never got around to this one. Finally, looking for a smaller read "I reached for this and once again, Rivers made me proud. The topic, a rape in a Christian environment is a difficult one. Our protagonist is given much advice from those who are Christians, mostly they think she should abort the baby and go on with her life. After all, Dynah has a bright future ahead of her and she has done nothing wrong. What Dynah decides is what makes this book a wonderful read. I enjoyed the internal battles going on within the pages and I rooted for Dynah to stay strong. While I found it to be good, I still have to say that Redeeming Love read pre-blogging is my all time favorite of hers. Both I would recommend. The Atonement Child was released in After finishing it I felt it was left open enough to have a second book. I would be interested in the rest of this story. Care to bring back Dynah? I listened to Atonement Child on audio from audible.

Wednesday, December 10, "The Atonement Child" by Francine Rivers [Quotable Quotes] In addition to book reviews, I decided that if a book contains one or more amazing quotes, I want to spend time talking about them. There were 11 quotes from this book alone that I thought were beautiful enough to share. Francine Rivers gives insight into the heartache of women who have chosen abortion or feel they have no other choice and the healing that comes with it. I trust her knowledge. I encourage you to read the book and my review on it. You will not walk away unscathed. How could they when the rhetoric said there was no child? No one wanted to admit the truth. She hit the nail on the head: For an expectant mother who suddenly finds herself frantically calling her OB after finding bright red blood It is hopes and dreams and answered prayers. It is destiny and a future and a promise of another generation. But it can never be both. Society can never acknowledge that we lost a baby and with the same breath declare the rest to be tissue. That is how abortion has changed the discussion of miscarriage – it has silenced it. There will be no moments of silence or Today Show features for women who are organizing support groups. Despite the huge number of families miscarriage impacts each year – it will not be discussed widely. Oh, and they have ruled, Joe. We have to care what people think. The appearance of wrongdoing, remember? What sort of witness would that be? We spend too much time trying to reign in our emotions when we should instead focus our minds on Scripture. Once we focus on mind on Scripture, our mind automatically gravitates to the things of GOD. That is exactly what the Bible teaches us to do see Romans Gain wisdom through Scripture. Renew your mind according to Scripture. That is the entire reason why I created the 40 Day Challenge , to renew my mind according to Scripture. Secondly, as Christians we should care what people think. The more time we learn and grown in Him the more He sets us apart. Our lives should be different because the One who lives within us is different. The more we grow and learn in Him the bigger witness we become and He will use us for His glory. What good are we to Him if we continue to live in sin? We are not using our lives for His glory! Without facing the truth and confessing it, how could she be forgiven how could she be restored? How could she be free? Her Savior was there, waiting to speak to her and show her the way home again, the way back to love. The sad part is that in broken homes the Bible sits on a shelf gathering dust. Who better to love us through the fire and refine us into something beautiful and useful despite our wrongs? She could be an anchor in stormy seas, or she could let him drift into the rocks. And when a pregnancy is terminated through abortion, the process is interrupted, which leaves cells in a state of transition. And they say cells in this state have a very high risk of becoming cancerous. Interruption during the first trimester of a first pregnancy causes a cessation of cell differentiation, which may result in a subsequent increase in the risk of cancerous growth in these tissues. Therefore, susceptibility to mutations declines in the breast cells of women who have had an early full-term pregnancy. Besides the emotional trauma of going through something so violent, there are the physical aspects, the aftereffects. When abortion was legalized, we wrote it into law. Children rank way below college. Children are the last thing you should ever spend your time doing. After reading that I had to sit down, determine where my children rank, and make some changes I would not have known the father. I did not want to quit school to support a child or deal with whatever lay ahead had I chosen a full-term pregnancy and adoption selfish. Even if you did make the decision to abort your baby there is forgiveness through the gift of salvation through Jesus Christ. If He can forgive you for sins past, present and future, who are you to remember them and who am I to hold it against you? Give them to Jesus, find someone who will encourage you according to Scripture daily , and let the healing begin. Any healing process is laborious but with Jesus anything is possible! What I believe about life: I believe that God creates life from conception. I believe God knows each individual before conception. David wrote about that truth in a beautiful Psalm I praise you for I am fearfully and wonderfully made. Wonderful are your works; my soul knows it very well. My frame was not hidden from you, when I was being made in secret, intricately woven in the depths of the earth. Your eyes saw my unformed substance; in your book were written, every one of them, the days that were formed for me, when as yet there was none of them.

3: The Atonement Child Quotes by Francine Rivers

The Atonement Child by Francine Rivers follows the story of a young college girl who is raped and finds herself pregnant. Yes, it's intense material and an intense read. While she struggles with the decision of what to do and her faith, her family struggles and nearly falls apart in the process.

I love anything by Francine Rivers, but this book is probably one of my favorites of hers. Just the shame and disappointment that Dinah is forced to go through and the struggle to decide what to do with her child and the choices she makes to give her baby the best chance in life is truly redemptive and wonderful. Aurelia This was an amazing book about a young girl who had life planned out; everything was going perfect for her until that one fateful night. Francine Rivers is a wonderful author. I would highly recommend this book. Debra Slaven This book sounds awesome and I want to know if I can get a copy to upload to my Ipad to read. It reminds me so much of another author who I can not remember her name but here is a synopsis of her book: I read and met a similar author, she had lost the use of her left hand I believe through an accident as a child but she could play the piano so wonderfully. She too while happily married was raped by a black man she was a pure white girl , she already had children from her current hubby and they decided to keep the baby God had blessed her with a beautiful Negro girl who loves the Lord with all her might and soul I could not stop crying at this Christian convention she was speaking at. Keri This is my second favorite book by Mrs Rivers. LOVE the story line. She makes you feel like the story is really happening and you have a front row view. Without revealing spoilers I was very disappointed with an ending I felt was rushed and forced and there were certain plot points that I found completely unrealistic. I hate to say it because I love her other works but this one fell short. Rebecca This is probably one of my favorites books that I have read! There needs to be more books on this topic. I hope to be able to use this as a resource as well. Thanks for writing Mrs. Shae This book is riveting and hard to put down. The struggle Dynah endures is heartrending and the decisions she is forced to make tug at the heart strings. So regarding that, I would give this book 4 Stars.
