Awakening to the Heartbeat of God Paperback - June 1, by Susan C Skelley (Author) out of 5 stars 1 customer review.

The people were hungry and desperate for a fresh move of God. One night, as I stepped to the pulpit, I was instantly caught up into an open-eyed vision. As the Spirit caught me up, I could see the entire state of Texas. Then I saw a large heart beginning to beat stronger and stronger; it was the heart of Texas. The Holy Spirit spoke to me and said, "I am about to revive and awaken the heart of Texas. We are about to see Texas visited with a mighty move of the Holy Spirit. As the heart of the Church is revived and awakened in Texas, it will then cause an Awakening to hit the entire nation of America; turning the heart of our nation towards God. There is a governmental authority God is giving to Dallas to reverse the death culture that was released over our nation in Roe vs. Wade back in As the heart of Texas is revived, we will see a reversal of this death culture and the Spirit of Life released over our nation. Dallas, TX is a key city for prophetic decrees to be released and to see a breakthrough in the Supreme Court of America. Three Groups Will Be Visited: Government Leaders, Spiritual Leaders, and the Remnant As Awakening is released in our nation, not only will it revive and renew the Church, but we will also see a shift come as society begins to get radically impacted by this move of God. This anointing and outpouring will reach into many areas of society and bring great Kingdom transformation. As the prophetic voice was released, there was a supernatural stirring that took place. It means "to awaken someone from sleep and rouse them to a place of action. The Lord showed me that there will be three groups of people hit with this Awakening: We will see the prophetic word of the Lord invade the government arena as God opens doors for His servants to prophesy the word of the Lord to government leaders. We will also see the hearts of many spiritual leaders across our nation and the world stirred with a fresh moving of the Holy Spirit. Kingdom pursuits will become much more important and prioritized than just living a comfortable lifestyle. He gave me a prophetic warning not to fall into false comparison. God may show up in a way that is very different than our preconceived ideas. We must be careful not to fall into a false comparison even with past moves of God , and allow God to release His greater glory in the way He wants to do it. Once more I will shake heaven and earth, the sea and dry land; and I will shake all nations and they shall come to the Desire of All Nations, and I will fill this temple with glory. The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine. The glory of this latter temple shall be greater than the former and in this place I will give peace," says the Lord of hosts. His promise is that no matter what the temple looks like on the outside, the glory shall be greater on the inside! He also throws in there a promise for continual divine provision to get the job done. God reaffirms that all the gold and silver are His; He owns it all. God Will Invade Our Society: In Politics and Media There is a greater glory upon us. Awakening is about to hit America and the nations on many levels including both spiritual and political. This is where we will begin to see the walls broken down once again between Church and State. Not only will the Church be set on fire, but society will be impacted through righteous political leaders. We will also see an invasion of God into the media. Jesus is about to be glorified in Hollywood and through the media, both secular and Christian. New networks will be formed that will glorify God. The church must be prepared to take the airwaves for God as a new wave of media outreach and anointing is upon us. This next Awakening will shake the Church and bring a great transformation in our culture and society as the Holy Spirit empowers us to reach the world with His supernatural grace and power. Get ready not only to be refreshed, but empowered for the end-time harvest of souls!

Whether in Daytona, New York City, China, Africa or in the smallest island of the in the world, whether the people involved are rich or poor, and whatever color they happen to be, the heart of God beats steadily for souls everywhere.

Interview October 2011 Jenni Every time we open up ourselves to the love of God we move into the now of time. But it is here in the circumstances of the now that we can start to doubt the goodness of the Father and focus instead on his power and knowledge. Somewhere in our souls we start to see God as something else than a heart that overflows with generosity and compassion. Whenever we move away from the abundance of real love, life clips our wings and dulls our shine. Shared from his heart of goodness. A manifesting in and to creation that we were created and birthed out of His good pleasure. And every moment is a now moment where his love is giving his goodness to us. His story is a work of total commitment, desire and passion. It is a story about yourself, about someone else, about the world, about life, about God and above all else it is a story of intimacy beyond our wildest imagination. Every promise of God is given in the now and is kept by his unfailing love. God continually declares this by the way he passionately pursues his people, the children of the promise given to Abraham. He comes to Israel in the bondage of their adulterous relationships and gives them hope. He hears their cries of anguish under the oppression of their taskmaster and opens up a path to set them free. In the midst of their constant rejection of his love he weeps for them and is consumed with a heart to heal their brokenness. Instead of judgement and anger, hurt and rejection he offers grace and a solution. What God gives us is an insight into the ache within his heart. He never sees us as products of actions, he never looks at us through the lense of black and white. He removes himself from judging us to be right or wrong or good or bad. Instead he sees us as a prism of light, multi coloured, a bright radiant spectrum of his love. In short, he sees us as we were created to be. God created us to be whole. He created us with his desire to have perfect communion with us. His holiness was birthed into our hearts, his breath birthed our spirit and he placed the pinnacle of his desire in a garden of delight. It was here in this garden that the first man and woman lived and enjoyed the glory of God. They enjoyed every moment experiencing the unconditional love of their Father. They lived in a complete relationship until a fallen angel spoke a lie into their perfect existence. This lie was simple as it was destructive, it produced a thought that God did not want them. That to please God they had to do something to make themselves more acceptable. And it was the lie that entered their heart and planted a seed of separation. And it was this lie that caused suffering to take root and illness, violence, greed, jealousy and selfishness started to run rampant. For it is our separation from God that is root cause of our death. We fail to see the creator in everyone and everything and we close our hearts and hide away in shame. And in a shame based world, our sight is clouded and we start to see everything from a dim reflection in a mirror. Breaking the lie of separation requires us to look again at God and start to see the world from his perspective. To overcome our feeling of shame and accept the reality of his unconditional love.

You will know when spiritual awakening happens, because your life will never be the same. There are no limits to the means. A few examples are: Hearing a song Reading a book or just seeing a word Being out in nature A crisis of some sort A dream Someone says something to you My Wake-up Call My wake-up call came when someone said five words to me. I was having a one-on-one voice lesson with my choir director at church. I felt like a bucket of ice water had been thrown in my face. At that moment, I woke up. I was running as fast as I could. I was running towards achievement and away from the past. I paid no attention to my soul. On the outside I was extremely successful. On the inside I was spiritually bankrupt. I was not nurturing my mind, body and spirit. I was sleepwalking through life. Since that day, I have never been the same. God calls us to look beyond the material world. The Gift of A Midlife Crisis A midlife crisis is so common because facing that your life is half over forces you to wake up. What will my legacy be? How can I find more meaning? For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also. Our hearts and souls speak the truth to us when we are still and listen. The world around you becomes brighter. Your spirit becomes lighter. Your relationships and life take on a greater meaning. So, are you awake? Have you heard the call? If you want encouragement on your spiritual path, join The Guided Life. The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few. WE are Jesus' laborers. Our cry to God should be, "Send Me!"

Devotional Day 1 How close do you feel to God? I have observed that while the vast majority of believers start out with a lot of passion and zeal in their relationship with God, over time that enthusiasm subsides. On a day-to-day basis, their relationship with God eventually becomes passive. There are occasional bursts of excitement, but even that excitement is short-lived. Their walk with God seems to have a few highs, some lows—and a whole lot of mundane in-betweens. Does it strike you, as it has me, that there is something terribly wrong with a passionless, passive, mundane, monotonous relationship with God? The Bible is clear that our passion and spiritual fervor should be constant. A passionate, thriving relationship with God should be the norm, not the exception for every follower of Christ. Over the next 21 days your relationship with God can be awakened. Maintaining a fresh, exciting, passionate relationship with God is something we must literally fight to protect. Make no mistake about it—we have a very real enemy who wants nothing more than for our souls to be lulled to sleep, all while we think everything is okay. For the next 21 days, join us in the experience of fasting, prayer, and listening to the voice of God through His Word. Maybe at one time you were excited about God and were full of His life. Or maybe you are far from God and struggling with addictive behaviors or other issues. The good news is that the potential for a lasting, thriving relationship with God really is there. It just has to be awakened. Take a moment to reflect and journal: What is your biggest obstacle to experiencing the zeal and passion described in Romans? Ask God to ignite or reignite a passion in your relationship with Jesus. Excerpts taken from Awakening:

If you were to do that you had to be pretty close to the individual whose heart you heard. Many quote 1 Samuel I want to the best I can help you along with me lay our heads on God the Fathers Chest and hear His heartbeat. What do we learn as we hear the heartbeat of God? The heartbeat of God is the heart of man. Is it just that God is a completely selfish tyrant that believes it belongs only to Him? The answer is Yes and no. As our creator our hearts belong to Him first and foremost. It is not merely for Him that he desires our hearts. Listen Closely to the words of Jesus. All these evil things proceeds from within and defile the man. Jesus clearly told us why our upward and outward relationships are out of wack. A The Upward and Outward Mark Now think about this with me. One man asked him what some believe to be a sincere question. What is the foremost commandment of all? All you heart, soul, mind, and strength. The second Is this, you shall love you neighbor as yourself, there is no other commandment greater. It is clear and has been said that Jesus summarized the ten commandments. He clearly showed us that our upward relationship to God must be right for our outward relationships to be right. A relationship with God does not create murder, evil thought, theft, adultery, envy, deceit, pride or foolishness. Are you at the end of your rope in your relationship with your husband, with you wife, with you children, friends, co-workers. Realize if they are not a Christian then you have the great opportunity of showing them what a real God can do for relationships. The word Kingdom comes from a Greek word that means not territory but dominion. So we see that the domain of God is the heart. The throne of the King of Kings is the heart of those who believe. Why is this so important. He is also the wonderful counselor, professional sessions every minute of every day. He is the prince of peace. For peace of heart and mind He must sit on the throne. He is the Mighty God. On and on we could Go. If Jesus were truly in complete dominion of all the hearts of churches there would be no division, because there is one Lord, one Baptism, one Mission, The Kingdom of God. That is what Home for you Heart for the world is about. Letting God be at home in us so that our hearts will be transformed to care for others. Site Map Spiritual Awakening: The Caring Heart Our spiritual disease distorts our vision and disorients our heart. To be selfish and self-centered is to be concerned mostly with oneself. We see people, places, and things through the narrow lens of the things that we care about, that we value, that are important to us. We lose sight of and often are blinded to the needs and the concerns and perspectives of others, even those that we love the most. For then we are driven by them, seeking to satisfy them in ways that bring harm to ourselves and to others. A spiritual awakening brought about through the practice of spiritual principles helps us to reorient our vision and our heart so that we come to view and value things from a God-centered perspective. We begin to value and to desire the things of God above everything else. As we practice these principles in all our affairs, our lives are reordered. Our heart is reoriented and our vision restored. Gradually, imperceptibly, we begin to care the way God cares, to see the way he sees. Bob, his wife Anne, Bill W. What a state of mental goose-flesh that used to bring on! Had we not variously worshipped people, sentiment, things, money, and ourselves? Desire and reason are pulling in different directions. I see the right way and approve it, but follow the wrong. But a day comes when he begins to care that he does not cheat his neighbor. The other is to gain it. A man who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing. No man can serve two masters. Your life is shaped by the end you live for. You are made in the image of what you desire. Transformation of the person down to her most important values, therefore, is necessary to correct the vision of the heart. Am I so busy with smaller, less meaningful concerns that I run out of time for the really important considerations? Today I will make room to think about what really matters.
