Fashion should be fun. Leather – Leather has the spot-light this season: Worn with denim to dresses, we cannot get enough! Black leather dress, Rust leather tunic, both from the Etcetera Fall collection. Jackets – form Lady-like to denim, jackets are a simple way to dress up or dress down an outfit. Great for warmth over a sheath dress. A longer blazer with leggings is a tailored look for a casual office day. Consider wearing a dark denim jacket as if it was a shirt. Pair it with a black or mustard yellow pencil skirt, sophisticated sandals, and a super ladylike fur-trimmed coat. The jacket adds just the right amount of youthfulness to a very adult look. Denim jacket from J. Layer over a feminine dress for a tough-meets-sweet look, or pair it with fashion-forward pant for an edgier vibe. Consider Cargo-inspired pants in all shades of color, which are undeniably comfortable and provide many useful pockets. You can also try military shades of green and tan or camouflage. One piece goes a long way. Colorful Cords – Similar to saturated color denim in spring, colors and prints are continuing this fall on pants and skirts, with corduroy as their canvas. This trend is hip for teenagers too. Just not as popular with the boys in Cincinnati. Restaurant Blouses – Colorful prints, in sheer silk or satin, these tops quickly change your outfit from business to celebration. Look for ruffles, flounces, metallic and beading. Bring along a new blouse, less conservative shoes and a clutch in your tote and you are ready for dinner right from work. Consider a neutral tan, chocolate brown or black dress that can go to the office with a blazer, and that skims your curves for a night out, topped with a leather jacket. Can be a straight sheath or some volume from pleating. Donegal black and white tweed sheath 7. Denim – It is still everywhere, from skirts, dresses, pants and shorts. Cut-Outs – Only for the bold, fantastic cut-out shoulders on fitted knit and cotton tops. These are great for women who want to cover their upper arms, but show a little skin. Just a glimpse does the trick, so pair with wide leg trousers or a longer skirt. Shoes – Nude heels and boots are still on-trend. Lots of ankle booties with lower heels, that can be paired with shorts and skirts as we ease into fall. Colorful ballet flats and laser cut leather shoes are coming in strong. The cutouts are a great transition to fall.
