There are so many great campgrounds in the south coast region of California from the central coast to greater Los Angeles and through Orange County and parts of the Inland Empire and Desert. Best of all is that they are campgrounds within two hours of Los Angeles!

Those who prefer camping and are lucky enough to get a spot in one of the 14 campgrounds on the Socal coast will be rewarded with one of the best experiences. Few of these campgrounds allow camping right on the sand, but most are close enough to walk to the beach. Others have spaces for tents, but none of the Southern California campgrounds are tent camping only. Read about each campground and adjacent beach to learn rules like where campfires are allowed and where dogs can be walked. Reservations are highly recommended as these limited camp spots are highly coveted especially in the summer months. Traveling north of Socal? If you have an RV, this is a superb spot for camping as it is right on Silver Strand State Beach and has easy access to Crown Cove with calm water and rentals for many different water activities. It has rentals and water toys big and small and is geared for families. It has camp spots but these still fill up fast so reserve early. Long wooden staircases lead down to the beach where lifeguard towers are manned during peak times. They have a cafe and camp store in the summer making it even easier for families to enjoy camping here. This is another linear blufftop campground in North County. It has stairs and ramps to the beach and several lifeguard towers. Like San Elijo, South Carlsbad is a great place for family camping. The entrance is in a hard-to-find spot on a dead end portion of the Old Highway 1 Road. Six different trails meander down the steep eroding bluffs to remote feeling beaches. Dogs are allowed at beaches 1 and 6. There are several other sandy beaches nearby in this state park. Each campground is fairly large and both have easy access to a fantastic sandy beach. The beach here is quite popular. Half of the 60 camping spaces are for RVs and the rest are for tents, vans, and smaller trailers. This park has a long beach to walk, paved paths on the bluff, and a historical district with a restaurant and bar. Trails head inland and uphill from the campground to ridgetops and viewpoints. Visitors can walk on the long sandy beach, bike the paved path that meanders along the shoreline, or cross the highway to explore nature trails at Bolsa Chica Ecological Reserve. A long paved path snakes through the sand for exploring the coastline of Santa Monica Bay. The beaches here have caves, arches, and tidepools making this a desirable campground for families. Hiking trails take off into the hills right from the campground and visitor center. Hikes into Boney Mountains Wilderness Area begin from the campground.

What Our Guests Are Saying: There is no better place to stay than the Anaheim RV Park! The RV Park has nice clean showers and restrooms, a convenient dog walk and a view of the Matterhorn and the Fireworks at Disneyland. My spouse and I are both disabled and were frankly shocked at the way the staff assisted us. We will definitely plan on staying here if we come to Anaheim again. The staff was VERY accommodating. Stayed here for a retirement party get together combined with Disneyland trip. Sites were spacious, bathrooms and showers were convenient and very clean. Very Clean and the facilities are well taken care of! The pool is nice and you have a great view of the Disney Fireworks from the pool or from your RV! The shuttle bus to Disneyland is a great amenity! We would stay here again! We stayed 3 nights just last week. We met other campers and it was the most fun campground of our entire trip! We really enjoyed our stay last year we came back this year again! It was a great place to stay and even nicer this year! They made us feel like family the moment we arrived. Everytime we come we are more impressed We come every few years and have watched this facility truly evolve from an RV park into a resort. Clean- easy to get to. Trees and some grass beside the spaces.
