Since joining the company this past January, both John and Carolyn have been bringing their extensive and diverse experience to support our client companies with candidate assessments, executive coaching, and development coaching. Carolyn Humphrey has more than 15 years of demonstrated consulting experience with a broad range of clients in business and industry, higher education, and healthcare. Her expertise is in providing customized leadership development and learning solutions on an individual, group and organizational level. Combining her background in counseling psychology and organizational systems, her areas of specialty include executive coaching, team effectiveness, psychological assessment, and the design of innovative and sustainable leadership development systems and programs. Carolyn completed a B. She received her Ph. Since , he has been running a private practice in downtown Chicago. Through his clinical work, he has gained a deep understanding of how to administer, interpret, and integrate psychological and cognitive tests. Prior to becoming a psychologist, John worked as a writer and editor in Europe. His primary areas of focus were travel, leisure, and recreation. John is a licensed psychologist in the state of Illinois. Their assessment tests coupled with the expertise and insights of Karen and David Weller are unmatched and help me hire the right people. They took the time to know our core values and guiding principles and help us hire the team players and leaders we need as we grow. They are simply The Best! I could not have been happier with how things turned out. We originally retained Leadership Alliance to help us with our pre-employment assessments. As we found our ability to distinguish higher-caliber employees evolve, so did the opportunity to have Leadership Alliance implement ongoing talent development. As a result, their assessment and coaching techniques have provided our executives and managers the ability to grow as company leaders. Leo Rodriguez, PresidentEmerson Latin America The psychologists at Leadership Alliance make executives so comfortable that they wind up sharing sensitive data that our diligence team could never have captured. We are consistently surprised by the information Leadership Alliance is able to capture. This information clarifies our understanding of what is really going on strategically and operationally inside the company, allowing us to develop deal terms that better align incentives and protect our interests. Scott Schwartz, DirectorCIVC Partners In the process of developing the Human Capital Planning System at my company, I needed a competency-based set of tools to help us determine the success factors for people in our organization and a means to align individual performance with overall company strategy and goals. Leadership Alliance introduced me to the Lominger system, and I have been thrilled ever since! I attended training at Leadership Alliance and found the facilitators to be proficient in their knowledge and use of the tools. We partner with Leadership Alliance to provide our leaders with the objective information required to make effective selection and development decisions. We have been pleased with our experience working with their seasoned and highly capable staff in identifying those individuals with the highest likelihood to meet or exceed expectations. Erick Koshner, Manager, Organizational DevelopmentSigma Aldrich We have been working with Leadership Alliance for several years and as partners they have dramatically enhanced our talent evaluation processes. We would not dream of hiring a key executive in our company without a thorough assessment and analysis from Leadership Alliance. From candidate assessments, executive reviews, behavioral interview training, and employee development we have evolved significantly thanks to this partnership. Leadership Alliance continues to be a valuable partner in this process. Their insightful knowledge of the mentoring process, skillfully developed and presented training workshops, and professional, responsive approach in creating mentoring partnerships helps us to capitalize on and leverage the benefits of the program as we develop theâ€¦ Jerry Barbero, VP Human ResourcesEmerson Tool Company David Weller of Leadership Alliance expertly helped our department realize how to successfully manage peer conflict. If you keep to the training, the results are quite apparent. Each time we received terrific results. Bill Fierle, PresidentEmerson Topworx The clear-cut identification of development needs, the focus on critical competencies, and the customized feedback and coaching provided by Leadership Alliance have enabled us to concentrate our development efforts and accelerate the talent development process. I see this as a very cost-effective investment that has boosted us towards the expansion of our presence in the world area. They brought tools and methodologies to the table in a way that worked for our team and our culture. They spent a lot of time listening to our needs and really figuring out what the most impactful solutions would be for our leadership team. The critical differentiator that makes us a promoter of Leadership Alliance is their ability to work within the dynamic! Audrey McGuckin, VP, Human Development Jabil Circuit Our Leadership Alliance consultant is an expert at calling effective upward potential in leaders. He has worked with us for eight years and has become a trusted advisor on helping us build bench strength, understand who are our high potentials and ensuring we have the right leaders in the right place at the right time. Leadership Alliance has a strong track record with our company and executives call upon our consultant for his guidance and advice.
