This set of pictures is from Day 3 as he toured Castaway Cay. For pictures of the ship in general please visit disneygeek. Backing into Castaway Cay. As we approached the dock a Christmas tree came into view. The Kargo Handling Tram stop had some decorations too. As did the welcome sign. Time to head ashore. A photo op near the tree as you got off the ship. The Post Office had some decorations too. Along the walkway some more. The tram was decked out for the season with reindeer antlers. Along the first portion of the tramway some of the poles were decorated. A better shot of the reindeer tram. Even the back! As you went further into the island there was less in the way of decorations. So a couple random shots as I walked the Island.. The tram to Serenity Bay was not decorated. Nor was anything out at the bay. A group of carolers roaming around the dining areas. The cruise activity cast members had holiday shirts on. The characters had a different holiday design. I just liked this shot! Heading back to the ship! A closer look at the tree. A couple more pictures of the Island from the ship before we departed. A better shot of the small building near the ship and its decorations. Thought the light house tree topper was great. One last shot of the photo location to end. Hope you enjoyed this highlight tour of the Christmas decorations on Castaway Cay.
