Read, study, and complete interactive exercises E-mail finished activities to the teacher Print out activities to use in class â€”all without ever bringing their textbook home! Also included are icons that correlate each page to the National Standards, icons that link the supplementary material to the textbook, answers to activities, and teaching suggestions dealing with paired activities, cooperative group practice, TPR, critical thinking, cross-curricular instruction, and games. Pages can be printed out or viewed on screen, instead of carrying the textbook home to plan classes. Click on icons to cross-reference supplementary materials. Workbook Innovative activities correlated to each section in the textbook help students become proficient in written French as they further practice the functions, vocabulary, and structures in each unit. Realia-based activities prepare students to use the language in authentic situations. Program Manager with Daily Lesson Plans The Program Manager pulls textbook and ancillaries together with daily lesson plans for both regular and block scheduling. Assessment Program A unique format in assessment allows you to design tests that evaluate what you have taught in the way you have taught it. Choose to use whatever sections you feel are relevant: The assessment program also has quizzes correlated to each lesson of the textbook. Portfolio assessment is also available with rubrics for oral and written work as well as semester and year-end tests that measure proficiency in all skill areas. Video Program Filmed entirely on location in La Rochelle and Paris, these exciting, full-color videos with a continuous story line are closely coordinated with the functions, vocabulary, and structures of each unit. Your students will easily become involved with their francophone contemporaries in interesting, realistic situations and be eager to discover what happens to them in the next episode. The software offers different exercises from those in the student textbook and workbook. Students actively play the roles of interns at a newspaper and are asked to complete various hands-on assignments for the editor-in-chief. This business setting allows students to solve meaningful, real-world problems as they improve their proficiency in French. Teachers can create and print customized tests. The CD allows teachers to add their own test questions or edit existing questions. Exposes students to authentic French realia. French Grammar and Vocabulary Exercises These workbooks are the ideal format for additional practice of basic structures and topics presented in first- and second-year French. TPR Storytelling Manual This manual with numerous illustrations tells teachers step-by-step how to teach basic and advanced stories, two stories correlated to each unit in the textbook. Gestures are given for new words and phrases to help teachers convey meaning. Philosophy and teaching techniques are thoroughly described for teachers who have little or no background in teaching TPRS. The site also features general teacher and student resources, including useful Web links, teaching tips, and study aids. Communicative Activities Situation cards and information gap activities Oral and written.
