All approvals from the Chicago Park District and Chicago Public Schools are in place, and no land acquisition is required. Is this still true? TIF raises funds for development projects by capturing future incremental tax revenues that can be reimbursed to the developer for eligible development costs. Army Corps of Engineers is expected to pay approximately 50 percent of the cost to build the breakwater for the rowing venue in Monroe Harbor. As a c 3 charitable organization, CHICOG will be exempt from income taxes excluding any taxes on unrelated trade or business income, which are described below. Royalties, rents and interest are all exempt from taxation. What are the plans for transit improvements? Venues have been proposed near existing public-transit lines and high-capacity roadways, maximizing the use of existing infrastructure and eliminating the need for any new lines or roads. It looks like you are proposing privatizing 31st Street Beach as part of the Olympic Village plan? Organized around a central Main Street, the Village will include an exciting range of amenities, including a private lakefront beach, that will support competition preparation as well as celebration. The Bid Book never directly states where the private beach for the athletes will be. However, it is clear from the renderings that 31st Beach is intended to be the "private beach" and thus -- off-limits to the public during the Olympics. What about demonstrations or protests that might occur during the Olympics? COPSC will designate areas for these groups to exercise their constitutional right to engage in free speech and peaceful demonstrations without interfering with the Games. Through focused planning, an existing legal framework and specially trained personnel, COPSC will deploy the appropriate resources to monitor and manage protests and to maintain public order. Chicago is conducting community relations efforts to maintain a dialogue with local organizations in order to address their concerns. The City of Chicago has also reached out to these groups and will continue to work with them. During the Games, the city will issue permits to designated free-speech zones. Do you see a problem with protest? Activism and its various forms of peaceful demonstration are a routine and valued element of U. However, public-safety agencies on the national, state and local levels are committed to the detection, deterrence and response to activism that threatens public order. What kind of police presence should we expect during the Games? Staffing estimates for police indicate that a large majority of the 13, Chicago Police Department officers will be assigned to both public-safety functions and Games-related duties during the Games period. An analysis of deployment and scheduling estimates -- combined with workforce projections for -- indicates that COPSC will have an adequate force to meet the demands of the Games as well as the public-safety obligations to the community. The Summer Olympics in Atlanta witnessed civil-rights violations, partially as a result of actions by private-security forces. What should Chicagoans expect? Chicago estimates it will need a total of 7, private-security personnel during the Games. What about the military? Are you aware that Chicago has a poor record with regards to the armed forces patrolling its streets? The resources of the armed forces will be utilized in the security operation. Federal and state armed forces will be deployed in key operational support roles, such as addressing violations of the air and water access restrictions. In addition, specially trained teams will be on standby to respond to any explosive, chemical, biological and radiological issues that may arise. Approximately 5, members of the U. The contributions of the armed forces included logistics, communications, explosive-detection teams, physical security, aviation and temporary facilities. Finally, did you mention that highway lanes will be dedicated to the Olympic Family? Do you know how bad Chicago traffic already is? Chicago has identified a system of Olympic Lanes to provide a high level of service for Olympic constituent groups before, during and after the Games. City arterials will also offer Olympic Lanes to accommodate Olympic traffic. Bob Quellos is a founding member of No Games:
