Cover-to-Cover Reading Program > Novels > Adventure > Courage on the Causeway; Courage on the Causeway. Sarah Beurskens. Reinforced Library Binding. Quick Overview.

Along the way you will see the most breathtaking sights and scenery that Northern Ireland has to offer. From the moment you get on our bus, you will experience an amazing part of Ireland, learning about her history and seeing some of the most dramatic coastline in Ireland. Breathe in the fresh northern air at the causeway and explore the many different shapes and rock formations that are surrounded in mystery and mythology. You decide whether the rocks have been formed through volcanic activity or legendary giants. The North coast of County Antrim is shrouded in history and mythology and on your one day tour to the Giants Causeway with us you can experience it all. The bridge is run by the National Trust and as part of our support for this organisation, we include the price of crossing the bridge in our tour. Take your turn crossing the bridge and try not to look down! As you cross over to the island there are amazing views looking out over the Mull of Kintyre in Scotland and Rathlin Island. You may get to see some of the coastal wildlife on the way as you build up your courage to cross the rope bridge! Along the route we will pass through the charming village of Ballintoy and enjoy fantastic views over Whiteparks Bay and Portbradden. The views really need to be seen to be believed! Then you can descend onto the causeway itself to the feature called the Organ and work your way back towards the Visitor Centre. Admire the mighty ocean as it crashes against the causeway. This natural wonder of the world is not to be missed, rewarding you with unique and spectacular views. Learn about the history of the causeway and hear the local legend relating to its formation. We drive in a circular route that will afford fantastic views before visiting Dunluce Castle; the most romantic castle in Ireland and home for many years to the McDonnell Clan. Please see the section on the castle for more details. We hope you enjoyed your Giants Causeway day tour! This trip rated among my top 3 so far. The nature is fantastic and the whole setting with a lovely Irish summer day was spot on. However what really made the trip for my two friends and I was the guide. A fun loving irishman with so much to share. We got stories about leprechauns, giants, old irish history, you name it he knew it. When he was not telling us stories he sold irish songs and was more than happy to engage the whole bus in singalongs to some of the songs. Basically he made the difference between a good and an amazing trip. We paid 10 pounds per person and got to see Belfast from another perspective than you normally would as a tourist. Infact it would be worth it even if we paid double the amount. My only regret is that we did not get more time to explore Belfast, but you can easily jump on a bus from Dublin and do that another day. Visited July A wonderful, whistle stop tour of the North A wonderful, whistle stop tour of the North Our tour guide, Mac, was incredibly knowledgeable about Irish history and how to maximize our experience. I had booked mainly to see the Giants Causeway but was also blown away by the Carrick-a-Rede rope bridge. He was extremely helpful and knowledgable. They would not allow us to stop to take pictures while on the bridge- though others did without being told to stop. I recommend bringing a Go-Pro camera or video record your walk across the bridge and then take pictures from the videos later. I almost fell several times. The Belfast trip was good. We did the Mural taxi tour as the Titanic Experience was not an option this day due to time limitations. I recommend the Mural taxi tour. Our driver was very nice and knowledgable- was like your cool uncle that you can banter with. We spent more time in the Protestant area, doing a walk through a neighborhood to see some murals. We got to go the the Peace Wall and sign the wall. We did not get a lot of time on the Catholic side, which we knew was caused by time limitations, but we were a bit disappointed as we wanted to see that side. The sights and story is incredible- definitely inspires after tour research! I highly recommend this tour. Me and my Swiss friends really enjoyed it. Best tour I ever had. Our guide shared with us little bits of history about the place while interjecting them with folk legends, which definitely prevented things from being too dry. Belfast was a little underwhelming for me, but that might be due to the fact that we went on a Sunday, and most shops there were closed.
