

1: A Prayer for God's Glory and Spendor

De Lisle Psalter - Splendor and Devotion Take a minute to read this Alumina article about a lavish Gothic masterpiece: De Lisle Psalter. Made in the 14th century, it is a preeminent example of English Gothic illumination.

All purchases support thefatimaproject. These sacramentals and prayers strengthen our spirit; focus our mind on Our Lord and the Holy Mother; and call upon the power of God to assist us in battle. Yet, I note that so many men seem to be embarrassed to carry one on them at all times in preparation for our spiritual battles ; and fewer are comfortable to use them in private or public. I have spoken to many men over the years and have tried to encourage them to use these sacramentals as part of their daily spiritual lives. After pressing further I often find that the underlying problem is the appearance of the sacramentals in question. It is not that men are opposed to tools spiritual or mechanical. As a matter of fact, if you look into most of our garages and basements you will find more tools than we commonly use; and WAY more tools than we actually need. We care for them, in some cases display them, as if they are works of art. We can even find ourselves envious of tools that others have! Tools are part of our life. So why is it that when it comes to spiritual tools, we are so hesitant? Look at the tools a man stores in their toolbox. Do they look cheap and plastic-y? Do they glitter and shine when the light hits them just right; like sunbeams glittering off diamond snowflakes? They are dark, heavy-duty, and made in such a way that a bomb would go off and the rest of the house was destroyed our Estwing hammer would still be found intact. I believe that when it comes to spiritual tools a. I have to admit that before I became friends with an amazing artisan, and saw what he could create in the way of sacramentals, I was hesitant to carry a rosary or chaplet myself. Just looking at them draws me in, creating a desire to pray. It is the art drawing my soul into combat; much the same way a well forged sword is at the same time beautiful and deadly to the enemy. I encourage ALL men to find rosaries and chaplets that speak to them. Yes, these items are usually more expensive than many other rosaries that you can purchase; however, the quality and durability feel much more masculine in prayer. Do not flinch at the cost, as most of us have purchased power tools for a lot more and rationalized those purchases. If the artistry assists you in your prayer life, and you use it effectively as a weapon against the enemy, it is WELL worth the price! He has also designed and created a Fatima chaplet which received Nihil Obstat and Imprimatur in I post his link here not as an advertisement though I am VERY smitten with his work , but as a place to start in searching for a masculine sacramental. Don your armor and and wield your weapons. We are called into spiritual combat with an enemy that does not rest. Support your brothers in arms, and care for those who fall. May our Lord Jesus Christ continue to bless all of you, my fellow warriors; and may Our Lady keep you close to her heart, always. Feast day of St.

He has hurled down the splendor of Israel from heaven to earth; he has not remembered his footstool in the day of his anger. The book, as its name implies, is a series of laments over the fall of the city of Jerusalem, once so beautiful and full of joy. Indeed Jerusalem was a beautiful place. A Babylonian inscription reads: However, the city of Jerusalem has been repeatedly sacked by enemies and the beauty destroyed. The bustling marketplace is eerily empty but for a few stragglers who rummage for anything useful. The city walls are heaps of rubble. The city weeps and the prophet often has a good cry too Lam. Their shared mourning is over the fact that the people were led astray and willingly followed: While it is certainly wrong to say that all sorrow is caused by sin, it is equally wrong to say that sin is NEVER the cause of sorrow. We must ask our pastors prophets to tell us the truth. We must humble ourselves to accept the discipline of the Lord. Random House, , Some of them were objecting to the idea of Jesus as their priest because Jesus descended from the tribe of Judah rather than the tribe of Levi. The writer creatively argues that there is a scriptural precedent for a non-Levite priest. Melchizedek was a priest-king before the nation of Israel was born. Even Abraham, the father of the nation, had to offer sacrifices without a Levite. Jesus is kind of like this Melchizedek in that He is a King-Priest. Only He is even greater than all the priests who came before because He sacrificed Himself for all of our sins and through Him all other sacrifices have ended. He is our priest. He is our king.
