On the Fourth of July, at a get-together of militia officers of New York City at City Hall, he elbowed up to the speaker's platform and blurted out the happy news that he had been called "to a distant and perilous service" on the northwest coast of Mexico, where his regiment of volunteers would be discharged at the end of the war.

Grief weighed heavily on a crowd of roughly 1, people who attended a vigil to honor the victims of a mass stabbing in Boise. The nine victims were all members of refugee families who were attending a birthday celebration for a 3-year-old girl Saturday night when a man armed with a knife attacked. At the Monday evening vigil, many attendees held signs to show support for the refugee community. Louai Nasri, who lives in the apartment complex that was attacked, held up a large poster of a young girl dressed in an ornately embroidered shirt and hat. In the photo she is standing in front of a Disney Princess-themed banner and gesturing to a pink, doll-shaped birthday cake. The picture was of Ruya, the 3-year-old girl whose birthday party was attacked. Ruya died of her wounds Monday morning. The Monday evening gathering was held at City Hall and featured more than a dozen baskets filled with white flowers. A speaker asked for a moment of prayer. The stabbing Saturday night at a Boise apartment complex left three adults and five other children injured. Timmy Kinner, the year-old suspect, has been charged with several felonies including first-degree murder. Police say they believe Kinner may have been trying to get revenge for being asked to leave the apartment complex over bad behavior. Police in Boise, Idaho are asking anyone who interacted with a man charged in a mass stabbing to contact them with details. Timmy Kinner, 30, is charged with several felonies including first-degree murder and aggravated battery in connection with the Saturday night attack on six children and three adults at a Boise apartment building. A three-year-old girl died; seven other victims remain hospitalized, some with serious injuries. Boise Police Chief William Bones says Kinner has an extensive criminal history spanning multiple states. He is currently on misdemeanor probation in Utah according to court records there. Police are asking anyone who has had contact with Kinner in recent months to call the department or reach out online at www. Police say one child injured in a stabbing attack at a Boise apartment complex has been released from the hospital. Authorities have not released the names of any of the nine victims, but on Monday said seven of them remain in the hospital, many with serious or critical injuries. A 3-year-old girl has died of her injuries. Police say Kinner had been staying as a guest at an apartment in the complex, but had recently been asked to leave because of his behavior. All of the victims in the attack were members of refugee families from Iraq, Ethiopia and Syria. Police have said there is no evidence to suggest the attack was committed as a hate crime. A man charged with stabbing and killing one child and wounding several others and adults at a Boise apartment complex says he wants to represent himself in court. He is being held without bond. The 3-year-old girl died of her injuries. A 3-year-old girl who was stabbed at her own birthday party in Idaho has died. The child whose birthday it was has died of her wounds, according to the court. A judge told Kinner on Monday that he is charged with first-degree murder as well as several felonies in connection with the Saturday night attack. Kinner is American, and the victims are members of refugee families from Syria, Iraq and Ethiopia. Bones says Kinner had recently stayed at the apartment complex but was asked to leave Friday over bad behavior. Timmy Kinner has been charged with injuring nine people in the attack Saturday at Boise apartment complex that is home to many refugee families. Police say he stabbed children at the party and adults who tried to intervene. The stabbing Saturday night at a Boise apartment complex injured six children and three adults. More than people gathered at a prayer service Sunday evening at the Imam Hussain Islamic Center, and roughly people held a rally near the attack, calling for safety for refugees. Timmy Kinner is charged with the stabbing. The attack Saturday night was at an apartment complex that is home to refugee families. Nine people were injured, including the birthday girl and five other children ranging in age from 4 to Thirty-year-old Timmy Kinner was arrested a short distance away. He has been charged with several felonies. Boise Police Chief William Bones says Kinner, who is not a refugee, had recently been asked to leave the complex after staying there for a short time.

Air Force Chaplain Maj. Hundreds of people who attended the ceremony listened to a guest speaker who survived the Holocaust and joined a candlelight vigil and prayer in remembrance of those who died from the genocide. Air Force Chaplain Col. Milne is a Jewish Holocaust survivor from Czechoslovakia who shared her story with the audience in honor of those who died during the Holocaust in World War II. Milne is a Jewish Holocaust survivor who shared her story as part of the Holocaust Memorial observance at the chapel. Milne is now a year-old resident of Okinawa and mother of U. Carolina Nisenoff, 18th Medical Operations Squadron staff psychiatrist. Randy Sellers, 18th Wing senior protestant chaplain, read a Hebrew prayer by candlelight during the Holocaust Memorial observance candlelight vigil at Chapel 1 on Kadena Air Base, Japan, April 19, During the ceremony, hundreds of people who attended joined in remembrance of the millions who died during the Holocaust. The prayer was recited in remembrance of the millions of victims of the Holocaust. At only five-years old, Milne was able to evade concentration camps by running and hiding as the Nazis invaded Czechoslovakia. After the invasion her family crossed the border into Hungary and went their separate ways. For their safety no one other than her parents knew where the others were. I would be somewhere in that grave with my baby sister," said Milne. The year-old survivor told her story so people would not forget the horrors of a distant past. Katherine Schultz, an Army veteran attended the event with her two kids. The Army veteran said the event was not only informational for her children, but a rare opportunity for them to meet someone who had lived through the Holocaust. Schultz said the stories of those who have been through such tragic times let others know they are still needed and that the day-to-day job is helping in some way. The prayer is a traditional Jewish memorial prayer for victims of the Holocaust. Afterwards, the audience was given the chance to talk and take pictures with Milne in person.
