2: Why Michael Moore is irrelevant in the Donald Trump era

Donald Trump once spent nearly $, to place a full-page advertisement criticizing U.S. foreign policy in the New York Times, the Washington Post, and the Boston Globe. "There's nothing wrong with America's Foreign Defense Policy that a little backbone can't cure," the ad's headline blares.

Attacks[edit] At 9 p. New York City detectives said the term was used by the suspects themselves to describe their actions to police. Meili was discovered in a shallow ravine in a wooded area of the park about feet north of the nd Street Transverse. She looked like she was tortured. She came out of her coma 12 days after her attack, and spent seven weeks in Metropolitan Hospital in East Harlem. When she initially emerged from her coma, she was unable to talk, read, or walk. As a result of the severe trauma, she had no memory of the attack or of any events up to an hour before the assault, nor of the six weeks following the attack. Clair, Pennsylvania , a suburb of Pittsburgh. Clair High School , graduating in However, two local TV stations violated media policy of not publicly identifying the victims of sex crimes and released her name in the days immediately following the attack. She then began a career as an inspirational speaker. They apprehended Raymond Santana and Kevin Richardson along with other teenagers at approximately Santana, McCray, and Richardson all made video statements in the presence of their respective parents or guardians. If a suspect had reached 16 years of age, his parents or guardians no longer had a right to accompany him during police questioning, or to refuse to permit him to answer any questions. Kevin Richardson, who was sitting beside him, immediately agreed, saying "Antron did it". All I did was feel her tits. This policy was ignored when the names of the arrested juveniles were released to the press before any of them had been formally arraigned or indicted , including one year-old who was ultimately not charged. However, Salaam was implicated by all of the other four, and convicted at trial. Six others were charged with committing crimes in the park that night as well. They pleaded guilty and received sentences of six months to four and a half years. The majority appellate court decision noted that Salaam had initially lied to police in claiming to be 16, and he had backed up his claim with a transit pass that indeed falsely, as it turned out indicated that he was When Salaam informed police of his true age, police permitted his mother to be present. First trial[edit] In a first trial in August , defendants Yusef Salaam, Antron McCray, and Raymond Santana were acquitted of attempted murder, but convicted of rape, assault, robbery, and riot in the attacks on the jogger and others in Central Park that night. Korey Wise, 16 years old at the time of the crime, was acquitted of those charges, but convicted of sexual abuse, assault, and riot in the attack on the jogger and others in the park, and sentenced to 5"15 years. Jesus is going to get you. You made this up. He said that he had acted alone. Morgenthau to recommend vacating the convictions of the defendants originally found guilty and sentenced to prison. An examination of the inconsistencies between their confessions led the prosecutor to question the veracity of their confessions. A comparison of the statements reveals troubling discrepancies. The accounts given by the five defendants differed from one another on the specific details of virtually every major aspect of the crime"who initiated the attack, who knocked the victim down, who undressed her, who struck her, who held her, who raped her, what weapons were used in the course of the assault, and when in the sequence of events the attack took place. And some of what they said was simply contrary to established fact. Tejada on December 19, One defendant, Santana, remained in jail, convicted of an unrelated later crime. His attorney said that his sentence had been extended in that case because of his conviction in the Meili attack. Armstrong , the former chief counsel to the Knapp Commission that had investigated New York City police corruption in the s, and Jules Martin, a New York University Vice President, as well as Stephen Hammerman, deputy police commissioner for legal affairs. We believe the inconsistencies contained in the various statements were not such as to destroy their reliability. The city did not admit to any wrongdoing in the settlement. The only thing left is something like this"so you can receive some type of money so you can survive. Trump said he wanted the "criminals of every age" who were accused of beating and raping a jogger in Central Park 12 days earlier "to be afraid". I do not think so. I want to hate these muggers and murderers. They should be forced to suffer Yes, Mayor Koch, I want to hate these murderers and I always will. How can our great society tolerate the continued brutalization of its citizens by crazed misfits? Warren, said, "I think Donald Trump at the very least owes a real apology to this community and to the young men and their families. Speak to the detectives on the case and try listening to the facts. These young men do not exactly have the pasts of angels. He visited the victim in the hospital and promised to pay her medical expenses. The police doing the original investigation say they were guilty. The fact that that case was settled with so much evidence against them is outrageous. And the woman, so badly injured, will never be the same.
