*Emily and the Ostriches [Dan Bernstein, Gary Aagaard] on www.enganchecubano.com FREE shipping on qualifying offers. Pirouetting into a blizzard and finding herself in a strange world populated only by ostriches, Emily must win the creatures over despite her lack of a beak and long neck and eventually lands a role at the New York City Ballet.*

Emily described their relationship as a slow-and-steady process that grows better with time. They go snorkeling and have dinner that night on a beach. Sean read her a letter that he wrote for Ricki and he also told her that he was falling in love with her. They also went paddle-surfing and cliff-jumping. Emily felt like they balanced each other well and Jef was comfortable with how their relationship was progressing. They commented on the obvious physical attraction that they have towards one another. Sean is eliminated at the rose ceremony. Week 10 Finale [edit] Located in: This includes her parents, Dave and Suzy, as well as her older brother, Ernie, and his wife. A few days later, Jef is the first one to have his last date with Emily. Emily agrees and decides to let Jef meet Ricki back at the hotel that the two were staying at. The three have a pool day, with Emily being impressed at how comfortable Ricki had become around Jef in such a short amount of time. The next day, Emily meets up with Chris Harrison. Meanwhile, Arie is confident in his relationship with Emily and fully plans on proposing to her at the end. He creates a love potion for her right before she comes to deliver the bad news. She sends a confused and upset Arie home while in tears. At the final rose ceremony, Emily tells Jef that he was the only man left, having also been the only guy to meet her daughter and the only one to even receive a last date. She officially declares her love for him and as does he. Jef proposes to Emily and she says yes. The engaged couple are then joined by Ricki and the three walk off of the show hand-in-hand. The episode was done live rather than pre-taped and it aired right after the season finale, this was the second time in the show, season three was the first. Arie, runner up, confronted Emily about his elimination. The viewers learned that after the show was finished taping, he had difficulty finding closure with the demise of his relationship with Emily. He took it upon himself to fly to her home town of Charlotte, N. Instead, he left his diary on her doorstep in hopes that it would clarify any doubts she had about his feelings toward her. Emily chose not to read the diary out of respect for him and Jef her fiance. She returned the diary to him on the live portion of the show. Next, Jef came onto the stage and he and Emily were introduced to the public for the first time as an engaged couple. Jef confirmed that their relationship had been progressing well and he had begun to form a bond with her daughter Ricki. The couple would live separately until the wedding. A wedding date had not yet been set. On October 16, , just months after their public engagement, the couple announced their breakup.

Um, not really, but nice try, ABC. Shortly after, she found out she was pregnant with her daughter, Ricki. I liked Emily when she was on the Bachelor, and I thought she was too good for Brad last year. Mushroom farmer Data destruction specialist er, shredder? Racecar driver " gee, you think he has a shot? May as well hang it up now, folks. Luxury Brand Consultant translation: Daddy has lots of money so I spend it. Lumber trader so, Home Depot? She wants to find her husband and have a minivan full of babies! Um, actually not so much. ABC has shipped in 25 guys who are tripping over themselves to meet her. And she had a nanny. Who knew suburban Chicago was a hotbed for fitness models? Limo 2 held Alessandro, a grain merchant from Minneapolis huh? Limo 3 was definitely the party limo. Jef, the do-gooder entrepreneur, rode in on a skateboard behind the limo. Lerone was there, too. Limo 4 was " strange. Randy, a marketing manager who is old enough to know better, came dressed as a Grandma complete with a wig, cane and Snuggie. He ripped them off to reveal " a suit vest! Put the Snuggie back on! Not really, but he was old enough to be her father and it was kind of creepy. This reminds me of the Phantom of the Opera mask guy the last time around. And finally, douchebag Kalon arrived in a helicopter in the middle of the lawn. They were talking about what a MILF she is. The guys were literally tripping over themselves to talk to her. Chris had custom bobble heads made of him and Emily and started having a conversation with her via Bobble Head Theater. Emily read the letter aloud and was clearly touched when she got to this part: The Egg Warmer and Helicopter Guy got roses. So, what do we have to look forward to this season? Arie and Emily or Emily and Dolly? I was also taken aback by the honesty or stupidity of some of the bachelors. It was a sad day for Shelly the Ostrich Egg. The bachelors toasted to her memory. Chris the manly-man as Emily calls him went on the first one-on-one this episode, which included scaling a building Spiderman-style to get to their dinner. Later they danced to a live concert by country singer, Luke Bryan, where Chris asked if he could kiss her. Either way, watch out for this one, Emily likes him a lot. Determined to completely kill the romance and then put that baby in reverse and back right over it and really ground these boys in reality, Emily brought her girl friends on the group date followed by a boatload of kids. Yep, a good-old-fashioned grill session, an excellent way to weed out the boys from the men. Then while Emily got the scoop from her friends, she watched the guys interact with a bunch of kids on the playground. Sean and Doug won over her friends during the interrogations, but it was Sean who left the date with the rose and Tony who just left the date. He had a mini breakdown missing his son, so Emily thought it was best he go. His dad had epilepsy, his mom left, he grew up in foster homes, currently a charity director. Dolly Parton is years-old, has known her husband 47 years married for 45 of those and met him at the Wishy-Washy laundromat. Failed Quotes of the Night: Ryan who, as we will recall, Emily thought was Mr. He is wearing on my nerves. What hole did you crawl out of and how did you make it this far? In your case, honesty might not be the best policy. Hi, my name is Alessandro. But the final kicker? Blood boiling, Emily booted him out the door before the roses were handed out. Arie to the rescue! I think he might be who she chooses. Tweets of the Night: Again, thank you to Possessionista for putting into tweets my innermost feelings. In other news, Michael tried to pull off the half-up-half-down look whilst playing football. Off to Bermuda next week to put a little romance back in these dates. Until next time, Bachelor Fans!

Arrowhead Golf Club Sundown Trail, Littleton, CO , USA We will be having lawn games during the cocktail hour and throughout the reception so be comfortable enough to enjoy those and the driving range that will be open after family pictures are taken. We are going for the relaxed cocktail attire so that it is more party-like atmosphere, than a stuffy black-tie wedding. She is always there to listen and talk when I need it most. Katie is fiercely protective even though she is the younger sister and my constant cheerleader. I am honored to have Katie as my Maid of Honor for my wedding and cannot wait to share this day with her! Brennan Twardowski - Bridesmaid I met Brennan in college at a Zeta recruitment event where I walked up behind her and started massaging her shoulders. I told her she could relax and enjoy this because it was meant to be fun. Since then, she has been one of my closest friends. She is one of the most compassionate people I have ever met and constantly surprises me with her strength and courage. From our constant Gilmore Girls bantering to our equal love of Harry Potter, Brennan is someone who I have shared so much with and am equally excited to share this day with. She joined Zeta and quickly became one of my closest friends. Marina is one of the most authentic and honest people I know, which means she gives the best advice and is always in your corner when you need her. I am beyond proud to have Marina as a friend and as one of my bridesmaids! Amy is caring, supportive and is always there for her friends and family. She has been my mentor in teaching and a soundboard to bounce ideas off of, in teaching and in life. She is a strong woman and mother and I cannot imagine getting married without her by my side. Maren Moorehead - Bridesmaid Maren is my future sister in law and I cannot wait to officially claim her as one of my own. She is always there to make you laugh with her quick wit and humor. Maren and Matt have shown us how strong partnerships are built and what it takes to make a marriage last. I am honored to have her by my side as I marry her brother. Since meeting in college through friends, and finding out we grew up less than 5 miles away from each other Russell and I have found ways to always stay connected and continuously grow our friendship stronger. He has always been a great friend from day one. He is always there to help, he goes out of his way to be anywhere, or do anything I could ask, and is usually my first call to hang out. Russell continues to push me to be a better man in every sense of the term. To working harder, being a better person in my relationship, and even to be a bigger man than petty people in life, even when I wanted to be petty. Zane has been there for me, stood beside me in my worst days, and has helped celebrate in my best. My faith and trust in Zane has never wavered. Erin Halin - Groomswoman What can I say, Erin and I have been constantly helping, pushing, and celebrating each other, our accomplishments, and our journey through life that has come up since Erin has always been there for me to talk about life, and has always been the person to take serious the quirky questions I come up with. But moreso, she has always been able to push me to be better, at work, at home, and how to kick ass in life. She has become a great friend to both me and Emily, and has really helped our relationship grow stronger because she somehow has had the ability to explain to Emily some of my quirks, and then is able to turn around and explain to me what Emily did. Randy Saukkola - Groomsman One of the men that holds me accountable for everything in life, and has been one hell of a friend through thick and thin, long distance and short. Randy is one of the leading people responsible for pushing me to graduate college, and pushing me to where I am today. Randy has always been the person I have gone to when I need the truth told to me with no bullshit. He is always the person I call when I need advice, and I will always be in his debt for what he has helped me through. Everything from stupid Target drama, stupid professors, to the difficulties of life, and love. I was honored to be at his wedding only a few months after we had even met, but more honored to be able to celebrate when he was stationed only 50 miles away while serving in the U. Army, and overjoyed to help celebrate when him and his wife, Amber, brought their son Desmond into the world. Randy has always been the beacon for me to follow being a great person, and is showing me how to be a great husband, and father. Matt is an awesome person that always seems to brighten up a room, and is always able to crack a joke- I am so jealous of that talent. I have enjoyed seeing him be a great husband to my sister, and strive to be half as great as he is to my sister. I am so proud to call him a brother, and so honored that he will be with us on our day!
