Area possibly settled up to c. Area settled up to BCE. Europe in the Early Middle Ages Medieval Christendom [30] [31] and the political power of the Papacy [32] [33] are also often cited as conducive to European integration and unity. The objective of the Congress was to settle the many issues arising from the French Revolutionary Wars , the Napoleonic Wars , and the dissolution of the Holy Roman Empire. A day will come when all nations on our continent will form a European brotherhood A day will come when we shall see During the interwar period , the consciousness that national markets in Europe were interdependent though confrontational, along with the observation of a larger and growing US market on the other side of the ocean, nourished the urge for the economic integration of the continent. In , the latter gave a speech in favour of a European Union before the assembly of the League of Nations , precursor of the United Nations. However, the Council focused primarily on values - human rights and democracy - rather than on economic or trade issues, and was always envisaged as a forum where sovereign governments could choose to work together, with no supra-national authority. It raised great hopes of further European integration, and there were fevered debates in the two years that followed as to how this could be achieved. But in , disappointed at what they saw as the lack of progress within the Council of Europe, six nations decided to go further and created the European Coal and Steel Community , which was declared to be "a first step in the federation of Europe". They also signed another pact creating the European Atomic Energy Community Euratom for co-operation in developing nuclear energy. Both treaties came into force in Euratom was to integrate sectors in nuclear energy while the EEC would develop a customs union among members. Nevertheless, in an agreement was reached and on 1 July the Merger Treaty created a single set of institutions for the three communities, which were collectively referred to as the European Communities. In , the first direct elections to the European Parliament were held. In , after the fall of the Eastern Bloc , the former East Germany became part of the Communities as part of a reunified Germany. Seven countries have since joined. With further enlargement planned to include the former communist states of Central and Eastern Europe, as well as Cyprus and Malta , the Copenhagen criteria for candidate members to join the EU were agreed upon in June The expansion of the EU introduced a new level of complexity and discord. In , euro banknotes and coins replaced national currencies in 12 of the member states. Since then, the eurozone has increased to encompass 19 countries. The euro currency became the second largest reserve currency in the world. The same year, Slovenia adopted the euro, [60] followed in by Cyprus and Malta , by Slovakia in , by Estonia.
