The worst fathers of the Bible: Eli: the Permissive but not absentee father "Now Eli was very old; and he heard all that his sons were doing to all Israel, and how they lay with the women who served at the doorway of the tent of meeting.

It is difficult to make a list of the best Bible verses – I mean they are all great – right? But, I decided to compile a list of the most famous Bible verses instead. This too is difficult, because different Christian circles use certain verses a lot more than others. If you know of some other famous scriptures that you think should be included in this list please add them in the comments below! On to the famous Bible verses! For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. But where there are prophecies, they will cease; where there are tongues, they will be stilled; where there is knowledge, it will pass away. For we know in part and we prophesy in part, but when perfection comes, the imperfect disappears. When I was a child, I talked like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child. When I became a man, I put childish ways behind me. Now we see but a poor reflection as in a mirror; then we shall see face to face. Now I know in part; then I shall know fully, even as I am fully known. And now these three remain: But the greatest of these is love. He makes me lie down in green pastures, he leads me beside quiet waters, he restores my soul. Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for you are with me; your rod and your staff, they comfort me. You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies. You anoint my head with oil; my cup overflows. Surely goodness and love will follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the LORD forever. You shall not make for yourself an idol in the form of anything in heaven above or on the earth beneath or in the waters below. Remember the Sabbath day by keeping it holy. On it you shall not do any work, neither you, nor your son or daughter, nor your manservant or maidservant, nor your animals, nor the alien within your gates. For in six days the LORD made the heavens and the earth, the sea, and all that is in them, but he rested on the seventh day. Honor your father and your mother, so that you may live long in the land the LORD your God is giving you. You shall not murder. You shall not commit adultery. You shall not steal. You shall not give false testimony against your neighbor. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint. Then you will be prosperous and successful. For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms. Therefore put on the full armor of God, so that when the day of evil comes, you may be able to stand your ground, and after you have done everything, to stand. Stand firm then, with the belt of truth buckled around your waist, with the breastplate of righteousness in place, and with your feet fitted with the readiness that comes from the gospel of peace. In addition to all this, take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one. Take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. And pray in the Spirit on all occasions with all kinds of prayers and requests. With this in mind, be alert and always keep on praying for all the saints. And the second is like it: Do not be afraid or terrified because of them, for the LORD your God goes with you; he will never leave you nor forsake you. Against such things there is no law. Or what can a man give in exchange for his soul? Either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and Money. No one comes to the Father except through me. Let your hand be with me, and keep me from harm so that I will be free from pain. 2: Discipleship & Living as a Christian: Bible Teaching Godliness and Lifestyle. The spread of false doctrine at Ephesus is producing ungodliness, ungodly behavior, unrighteousness. 7 So Paul is very concerned that the Christians in the church at Ephesus are practicing godliness in their everyday living.

October 23, in Uncategorized 3 With three sons and no daughters I will never be the father of the bride. Thank God for small blessings. It was tough enough being the father of the groom. But then as a pastor and the one who performed the wedding of my eldest son and his fiance recently, I have a somewhat unique perspective on weddings. It was hard enough getting through the ceremony with my son standing before me, pledging his eternal love to his bride. Fathers of daughters are letting go of their little girl, all grown up now, and entrusting her to a young man one only hopes will take care of her half as well as he tried to do. There is a palpable emotional uncertainty felt by the father of the bride that most dads do not embrace well. It is so real there is a whole movie and literary genre on the subject the struggles of fathers of the bride. One movie you may never see is that which focuses on the father of the groom. Yet, the emotions and relational themes are no less real. Far from feeling emotionally uncertain and facing the reality of your daughter now looking to another as her primary source of encouragement, support, and love, as father of the groom I had a very different perspective. As my son stood before me, committing his life to the one he loved, I did get a teary eyed, I think it was a piece of dirt, one in each eye. I also had something stuck in my throat that made it hard to speak for a moment, but I am certain I just swallowed wrong. What I did feel was a deep sense of joy. Rather it was a deep, satisfying, misty-eyed, kind of joy that something eternally significant has come to pass. It is the blessing of knowing that what you have striven for over the years, raising your son to take his place as a man, one who will give his life to serve his bride, lead her, protect her, sacrifice for her, love her, pray with and for her, has finally come to pass. Rather, I was watching as my son took that hand, as I always hoped and prayed he would. I was watching him take a step into manhood that was part of the goal his mother and I have had for him and his two brothers since the days they were born. I watched as he took on the mantle of responsibility that God intended him to have, to lead his beloved as they serve Christ and their neighbors together. As I led him in his vows to his bride, I watched as he looked into her eyes, got a bit choked up himself, and promised to be the man God desired him to be, for her sake and His glory. I will always be his father. He will always be my son. But now he is also someones husband and because of that we share another bond as men, one that I am deeply blessed to experience. I am blessed to see what a wonderful and perfect choice he made in a bride, blessed to see him love her as I know Christ would have him. I am blessed to have declared that he and his bride were now united in Christ. I was even blessed to let him know that he could kiss his bride and embrace her for the first time as his wife. They all come as a result of seeing your son transformed over the years and yet in the blink of an eye, transformed into more than you could have ever hoped and dreamed, yet in some way, exactly what you always hoped and dreamed for, a man who loves Jesus and now has a lifelong partner to join him in that love.

3: How to Remember the Bible Verses You Memorize

'Forgotten Founding Father' is an incisive look at the qualities of leadership that made him such an effective and powerful figure in both England and America and left a legacy that continues to this day.

And the knowledge of the truth that is in accordance with godliness. Godliness and Lifestyle The spread of false doctrine at Ephesus is producing ungodliness, ungodly behavior, unrighteousness. Rather, he is adamant that healthy doctrine produces healthy behavior. Unhealthy teaching produces a kind of lifestyle that is only a "form of godliness," a kind of outward religion and religious belief, but one which lacks its real essence and power 2 Timothy 3: Fearing the Lord and Godliness The idea that best expresses the idea of godliness in the Pastoral Epistles is the Old Testament expression, "to fear the Lord," which was almost a synonym of "believer" under the Old Covenant. Someone who fears the Lord does not live in terror of God, but has a healthy respect for God and seeks in both heart and in action to "love God" and not be offensive to God. I have friends who have grown up in the church, who have even graduated from seminary, but who joke about God and holy things in a way that demonstrates a profound disrespect. I did that myself for a while when I was young, until God brought me up short. Our respect for God shows not only in the way we joke, but by how we live. Godly people live in such a way as to please God. Hypocrites lead double lives -- one for others to see, alongside a secret life that is unseen -- except by God. Godliness fulfills the first great commandment: This is why godliness can only be the fruit of love for God -- not an outward obedience or legalism, but an inward seeking of God in love. Examples of Godly Living What does godliness look like in action? Consider in 1 Timothy 3 the qualities one is to look for in an overseer or deacon. The spiritual fruit that comes from a pattern of yielding again and again to the Holy Spirit within us. Against such things there is no law. Godliness, Training, and Discipleship Do we sometimes fall short of these qualities? But when we do, we repent, ask forgiveness, and get up to follow our Lord once again, washed in the forgiveness of God 1 John 1: He uses the athletic analogy 9 of "going to the gym" to make his point: For physical training is of some value, but godliness has value for all things, holding promise for both the present life and the life to come. The root is gymnos, "naked. The noun form of the word, gymnasia, "training" appears in verse 8. Available in Kindle and PDF e-book formats The idea of physical training is to so practice something that you get good at it in two ways. First, your muscles become stronger. Second, you develop muscle memory so that your throwing, for example, becomes accurate and repeatable. Physical training may have some value, 11 Paul says, but spiritual training, training in godliness, is of value both in this life and the next. Are you a top spiritual athlete? Not yet, perhaps, but you are a disciple in training, learning how to love and please God -- learning how to be godly. Werner Forester, sebomai, ktl. The noun asebeia is used "vertically as a lack of reverence for deity and hallowed institutions as displayed in sacrilegious words and deeds: Eusebia and related words are used elsewhere in the New Testament at Acts 3: Eusebeia suggests an abundance of awe, while theosebeia suggests awe towards God in particular. Paul often uses examples from athletics Acts

4: Bible Studies on the Christian Life

Firm Foundation - Christian Living Our Father, God - Our View of Him Page 6 Because He is all knowing, His sense of justice never lacks necessary.

Death is the result of sin in the world, and without the hope of a Savior to forgive us for our sins, we are under the wrath of God. He is fit for all conditions: My hope is that the encouraging Scripture passages I share below will lift your spiritual eyes heavenward as you wait to go home to Jesus. I tell you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed. For this perishable body must put on the imperishable, and this mortal body must put on immortality. When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: O death, where is your sting? Do you believe this? Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on. For if we live, we live to the Lord, and if we die, we die to the Lord. For to this end Christ died and lived again, that he might be Lord both of the dead and of the living. If I am to live in the flesh, that means fruitful labor for me. Yet which I shall choose I cannot tell. I am hard pressed between the two. My desire is to depart and be with Christ, for that is far better. Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing. What is sown is perishable; what is raised is imperishable. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. For since we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so, through Jesus, God will bring with him those who have fallen asleep. For this we declare to you by a word from the Lord, that we who are alive, who are left until the coming of the Lord, will not precede those who have fallen asleep. For the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a cry of command, with the voice of an archangel, and with the sound of the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. Then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so we will always be with the Lord. Therefore encourage one another with these words. The grass withers, and the flower falls, but the word of the Lord remains forever. And there is nothing on earth that I desire besides you. Dying is the last, but the least matter that a Christian has to be anxious about. How blessed to die in Christ! Lewis Let us consider this settled, that no one has made progress in the school of Christ who does not joyfully await the day of death and final resurrection. It is in mourning that we discover the peace of God that passes understanding. Sproul Displaying the glory of the grace of God is the point of suffering. That is true, of course, but misleading. Let us never forget that He walks with us on this side of the curtain and then guides us through the opening. We will meet Him there, because we have met Him here. Your last moment will be your richest moment, better than the day of your birth will be the day of your death. It shall be the beginning of heaven, the rising of a sun that shall go no more down forever! Spurgeon God will allow evil only to the degree that it brings about the very opposite of what it intends. Sproul Jesus holds the keys to death, and Satan cannot snatch those keys out of His hand. He holds the keys because He owns the keys. All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to Him. That includes all authority over life and death. The angel of death is at His beck and call.

5: Fathers in the Bible - Question 2 of 5 - Christian Living

As a Christian, you can approach prayer as a conversation with someone who loves you dearly. As with any relationship, living in the Father's love takes regular time together with him. Plan a daily time that works for you to have focused time with your Heavenly Father.

The central image of God is that of a Father. Islam has 99 descriptions of Allah but he never described as a father! God is the Father of our spirits who loves and disciplines us like our earthly fathers: But if you are without discipline, of which all have become partakers, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. Furthermore, we had earthly fathers to discipline us, and we respected them; shall we not much rather be subject to the Father of spirits, and live? My Daddy can do anything. Oh, that man is out of date; what would you expect. He comes up with a good idea now and then. Must find out what Dad thinks about it. What would Dad have thought about that? I wish I could talk it over with Dad once more. Orphans of the Living: With some stranger paid to listen while their little prayers are said. All the grownups look with pity on such lonely children small, And declare to be an orphan is the saddest fate of all. But sometimes I look about me and with sorrow hang my head As I gaze on something sadder than the orphans of the dead. They have mothers who imagine, life could give them, if it would Something richer, something better than the joys of motherhood. Lord, I would not grow so busy that I cannot drop my task, To answer every question which that child of mine may ask. Let me never serve ambition here so selfishly, I pray, That I cannot stop to listen to the things my children say. The worst fathers of the Bible: Now the name of his firstborn was Joel, and the name of his second, Abijah; they were judging in Beersheba. His sons, however, did not walk in his ways, but turned aside after dishonest gain and took bribes and perverted justice. Now appoint a king for us to judge us like all the nations. The absentee but not permissive father. What is most incredible about this, is that David is likened unto God, the Father and Solomon is likened unto Jesus in 2 Sam 7: David fulfilled many aspects of his role in antitype to God, but failed as a father. His sons were abandoned to the harem as an absentee father. In addition to worshipping idols, Solomon violated every element of this warning in no less than three double sins: He multiplied horses for himself and sent people back to Egypt to get horses and married the daughter of pharaoh the first year of his reign. He was forbidden to marry many Hebrew wives, but instead married non-Jewish wives. It appears that Solomon not only never wrote out a copy of the law himself, neither did he read it throughout his life. My dad works all the time. He is never home. He gives me money and lots of toys, but I hardly ever see him. I love him and wish he would not work all the time so I could see him more. Jeff "Daddy, how much do you make an hour? Greatly surprised, but giving his boy a glaring look, the father said: How much do you make an hour, " the boy insisted. The father, finally giving up, replied: Could you loan me ten dollars? Showing his restlessness and positively disturbed, the father yelled: Maybe he thought , his son wanted to buy something. Now I have twenty dollars! He did evil in the sight of the Lord, according to the abominations of the nations whom the Lord dispossessed before the sons of Israel. For he rebuilt the high places which Hezekiah his father had destroyed; and he erected altars for Baal and made an Asherah, as Ahab king of Israel had done, and worshiped all the host of heaven and served them. He made his son pass through the fire, practiced witchcraft and used divination, and dealt with mediums and spiritists. He did much evil in the sight of the Lord provoking Him to anger. They even sacrificed their sons and their daughters to the demons, And shed innocent blood, The blood of their sons and their daughters, Whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan; And the land was polluted with the blood. Thus they became unclean in their practices, And played the harlot in their deeds. Then He gave them into the hand of the nations, And those who hated them ruled over them. But he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and even made his son pass through the fire, according to the abominations of the nations whom the Lord had driven out from before the sons of Israel. He sacrificed and burned incense on the high places and on the hills and under every green tree. Were your harlotries so small a matter? Then they made their sons and their daughters pass through the fire, and practiced divination and enchantments, and sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the Lord, provoking Him. So the Lord was very angry with Israel and removed them from His sight; none was left except the tribe of Judah.

The best fathers of the Bible: Jehonadab was first mentioned in 2 Kings 10 where he joined hands with Jehu in destroying the wicked family of Ahab. Jehonadab was the son of Rechab and his descendants were known as "Rechabites. Jonadab gave commands to his sons and they obeyed him, and his commands were handed down to the next generation who did likewise. Not many fathers command and obtain such respect today. Notice how the Rechabites refused the wine to drink by Jeremiah. Jeremiah used the obedience of these people to reprove the people of Judah. God blessed the Rechabites because of their obedience to their father as an eternal covenant. Job was involved with his children socially and prayed for them spiritually. The cycle of annual family feasts were the invention of Job as a way to keep the family close together. Charles Francis Adams, son of U. On one occasion he wrote this in his diary: A prince to his daughter, a pal to his son. God is primarily and fundamentally a Father. The worst fathers of the bible are: Beatitudes for Parents Blessed are the parents who make their peace with spilled milk and mud, for such is the kingdom of childhood. Blessed is the parent who engages not in the comparison of his child with others, for precious unto each is the rhythm of his own growth. Blessed and wise are those parents who understand the goodness of time, for they make it not a sword that kills growth, but a shield to protect. Blessed and mature are they who without anger can say no, for comforting to the child is the security of firm decisions. Blessed are they who accept the awkwardness of growth, for they are aware of the constant perilous choice between marred furnishings and damaged personalities. Blessed are the teachable, for knowledge brings understanding, and understanding brings love. Blessed are the men and women who, in the midst of the unpromising world, give love, for they bestow the greatest of all gifts to each other, to their children, and in an ever widening circle to their fellow men. Anonymous A father teaches and instructs his children in the law of the Bible: We will not conceal them from their children, But tell to the generation to come the praises of the Lord, And His strength and His wondrous works that He has done.

What the Bible says about Abandonment. How to deal with rejection. Abandoning Ourselves to God. Useful, Practical Lessons and Examples. Cry Out to God – Psalm I pour out my complaint before him; I tell my trouble before him. When my spirit faints within me, you know my way! Look to the right and see: May it not be charged against them. But the Lord stood with me and strengthened me, so that the message might be preached fully through me, and that all the Gentiles might hear. Also I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. God will never abandon you. Can a mother forget her nursing child? Can she feel no love for the child she has borne? But even if that were possible, I would not forget you! See, I have written your name on the palms of my hands. He will be with you; he will not fail you or forsake you. Do not fear or be dismayed. And I will walk in and with and among you and will be your God, and you shall be My people. And not one of them is forgotten before God. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Do not fear therefore; you are of more value than many sparrows. We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair; Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed. Therefore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all, especially to those who are of the household of faith. If a widow has family members to take care of her, let them learn that religion begins at their own doorstep and that they should pay back with gratitude some of what they have received. This pleases God immensely. You can tell a legitimate widow by the way she has put all her hope in God, praying to him constantly for the needs of others as well as her own. Tell these things to the people so that they will do the right thing in their extended family. Anyone who neglects to care for family members in need repudiates the faith. I am the Lord. They are going to throw you out of the meeting places. They will do these things because they never really understood the Father. He makes me to lie down in green pastures; He leads me beside the still waters. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; For You are with me; Your rod and Your staff, they comfort me. You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies; You anoint my head with oil; My cup runs over. Whatever you may do, I thank you: I am ready for all, I accept all. Let only your will be done in me, and in all Your creatures – I wish no more than this, O Lord. Into your hands I commend my soul; I offer it to you with all the love of my heart, for I love you Lord, and so need to give myself, to surrender myself into your hands, without reserve,.

This 13 part study on Christian Family Living was preached at Flagstaff Christian Fellowship in Audio and manuscripts are available for each lesson (excepting audio for lesson 13).

He brings you his power so that you can live the awesome life Christ has planned for you. Power to overcome temptation and sin, to love others, and to live a life of obedience, freedom and joy is yours through your relationship with Jesus Christ. The Holy Spirit also provides the way for you to enjoy a life of prayer. Jesus taught his followers to think of God as their Heavenly Father. Prayer is communicating with your Heavenly Father and hearing back from him. It is conversation with someone who loves you dearly. He desires to hear from us, and he promises to listen! And if we know that he hears us in regard to whatever we ask, then we know that we have the requests that we asked from him. Then you will know who your Heavenly Father is—and why you can trust him. What words come to mind when you think about the character of God? Is he someone you can know? But, his Word does give us part of the picture—He is an awesome God! Take time to think through each of the following characteristics of God and how each one affects your view of God—and your relationship with him. Read 2 Samuel 7: God is the sovereign ruler over his creation. He rules it with supreme authority and power. God is more powerful than anything or anyone else in the entire universe. God uses his power to work for us and in us. Do you feel confident that you can ask him to work in your life, and he will do it? God is present everywhere. God is present everywhere at the same time. Can you go to any place where God is not with you or cannot hear your prayer to him? God knows everything there is to know. God always does what is morally right and fair. How does knowing this make you feel as you share your heart with him? God is good all the time—in the tough times, in different ways for each person, and in what he allows or does not allow into our lives. As you talk to your Heavenly Father, are you willing to trust his goodness in the way he chooses to answer your prayer? Praying to Your Heavenly Father Now that you begin to see how great your Heavenly Father is, you may be afraid to approach him in prayer. Yet, as his child, you are always welcome in his presence. And your prayers do not have to be especially long. He loves you that much. When you talk to him about your thoughts and needs, it shows him that you trust him. You can call out to him, and He promises to answer—what a wonderful guarantee! Your prayers do not have to be anything fancy. God is pleased with honesty, not impressed with formality. Just start today by telling God what is on your mind and asking him to speak to you through his words in the Bible. You can pray with confidence when you pray according to his will. Pray with humility, wanting to be dependent on him and learn from him. Developing a Life of Prayer As a Christian, you can approach prayer as a conversation with someone who loves you dearly. Plan a daily time that works for you to have focused time with your Heavenly Father. Jesus, as our example, got away from the people surrounding him so that he could spend time talking to his Father. In your daily life, when could you carve out focused time to meet with your Heavenly Father? How would you minimize distractions? You can start talking to your Father in the morning before you even get out of bed. Today, before I get going, I just want you to know I love you—and want to live for you today! God in his goodness may choose to delay the answer. God delights in your bringing him your requests since doing so is an act of faith and obedience. Keep asking him for things that are within his will as revealed in the Bible. He promises to answer those prayers—still, in his time! Remember to Be Thankful! God has done so much for you that your heart should want to thank him in prayer and adore him because of his greatness and his unending love for you. Instead, in every situation, through prayer and petition with thanksgiving, tell your requests to God. All relationships need good communication to be healthy. He wants you to seek his guidance, comfort, peace, and companionship always—not just when you want things. And, he is a God you can know. Because of this, you can think about him rightly as you pray. Renewing Your Mind with Truth Continue putting truth in your mind through memorizing Bible verses that are relevant to what you are learning. Review Memory Verse 1 — Ephesians 2: Review Memory Verse 2 — John Review Memory Verse 3 — Galatians 5: When you talk to your Father, approach him with humility and respect for his absolute authority. When you talk to your Father, humbly realize he can do anything. And, although he cares about every detail in your life, think about how small your problems are compared with how awesome he is! God is present everywhere: When you talk to your Father, remember that wherever you go he is already there. Even in the worst situation or location, he is not blocked out. When you talk to your Father, think about how he knows what is going on deep in your heart. And, he knows what is best for you! When you talk to your Father, remember that he is good all the time in the tough times, in different ways for each person, and in what he allows or does not allow into our lives. So, begin talking to your awesome Father! Getting to Know Christ Continue reading through the gospel of Mark to get to know Jesus better reflecting on his life, his relationships, and his teaching. Also, begin to pray regularly to your Heavenly Father. Consider praying for specific issues in your life, for friends and family you desire to know Christ, and for your personal spiritual growth.
