As a centering exercise, I meditate on at least one quote each morning to get me started on my day. So I challenged myself to come up with as many as I could find to share with you and here they are – a list of 67 inspiring quotes by black women. Please use them in your own journey and share this post with as many people as you can on Twitter and Facebook! It merely astonishes me. How can any deny themselves the pleasure of my company? It means living your life consciously, aware that each moment you breathe is a gift. I grow from this and I learn. There are hungry people to feed, naked people to clothe, sick people to comfort and make well. Only you give it power. Nobody goes undefeated all the time. If you can pick up after a crushing defeat, and go on to win again, you are going to be a champion someday. In fact, it may be necessary to encounter the defeats, so you can know who you are, what you can rise from, how you can still come out of it. Always, from the start. I had to go out in the world and become strong, to discover my mission in life. A queen is not afraid to fail. Failure is another steppingstone to greatness. The world is behind you. Harriet Tubman was not our great-grandmother for nothing. I believe in me more than anything in this world. The thing itself cannot touch you. But if you allow your fear to seep into your mind and overtake your thoughts, it will rob you of your life. You can practice any virtue erratically, but nothing consistently without courage. From there I was promoted to the washtub. From there I was promoted to the cook kitchen. And from there I promoted myself into the business of manufacturing hair goods and preparations. I have built my own factory on my own ground. We are all the same in this notion: The potential for greatness lives within each of us. If God gave you the talent, you should go for it. That is our inheritance. Learn about our signature programs:

Christ is the Lamb of God Orange Comforter, teacher, companion Combines the work of Love in relation to the merits of the sacrifice as a Healer and Restorer and Teacher of righteousness. Yellow Character, fruit The work of the Holy Spirit is to bear the fruits of God in us - of these the greatest is to love. Our character is described as "gold tried in the fire" Green Combines the work of law in relation to love. Blue Law The Father sits on the sapphire throne from which the stones for the law were taken Purple Priest, defender, lawyer Combines the work of sacrifice in relation to the breaking of the law Subtractive color systems start with light. It explains the mixing of natural colorants dyes, paints and inks. Color is perceived by subtracting some colors and reflecting others. Sin is not reflecting all the light. Perfection of all characters and principles before God. Black The absence of the light of God. The primary colors appear to represent the core attributes or character of God. The secondary colors appear to represent the roles of God as He seeks to reconcile one character to another within us. The colors black and white, represent the status of man as we reject or accept the colors of God. Just as He uses numbers prophetically and symbolically, God uses colors symbolically in the sanctuary, its services and in the prophecies. By looking at the colors and combinations and their symbols a pattern emerges. By examining the roles assigned to the members of the Trinity and the use of color in the bible, one can speculate about the meanings of the secondary colors and how the combination of primary colors interact to demonstrate a truth. The Bible teaches that it is valid to look at nature to learn about God. And it also teaches that everyone has some internal knowledge of God that is convincing and they also have "a measure of faith" Romans Because that which is known about God is evident within them; for God made it evident to them. For since the creation of the world His invisible attributes, His eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly seen, being understood through what has been made, so that they are without excuse. The heavens are telling the Glory of God and their expanse shows the work of His handiwork. Day to day they speak and night to night reveals knowledge. Substitute Red For the life of the flesh is in the blood. When life is taken, red can appear to mean death. It is the blood of Christ which cleanses us and covers us from the penalty of sin. The sanctuary had a covering of red. This symbolizes the protection the blood of Christ offers us. This covering is the mercy seat over us. This dimension points out a characteristic of heaven. If one suffers all suffer. We give, no matter the cost. Receiving is just a bonus. What we are about is the welfare of others. We are a sacrificial people. Yellow I advise you to buy from Me gold refined by fire so that you may become rich. It is achieved through receiving the Holy Spirit as He writes the law in our hearts. It is the motives and intentions behind all our actions. It is rooted in the law and acted out in love. We are good people. Orange I advise you to buy from Me gold refined by fire so that you may become rich. Gold tends to be part of this color scheme. Orange combines red and yellow. As Witness and Comforter on earth, the Holy Spirit has the task of making us perfect. Because of the sacrifice of Christ, he can now change our character and reconcile us to God. He sustains or comforts the saints as we wait for our deliverance. He provides the daily link we need to heaven. Because of this role in daily leading us to God, He can switch to being a witness for or against us in the future - because everyone will be given the chance to accept or reject His call. So he is also a judge at this time. Judging between good and evil, searching our hearts, cutting away the evil, repairing the damage of sin, placing us in the fiery furnace until we emerge perfect. Our court systems pretend to rehabilitate us. God actually does it through the Holy Spirit. Instead of immediate punishment, God has a plan of rehabilitation. We have a comforting Judge who now dispenses mercy instead of justice. We are a persevering and patient people. Blue And they saw the God of Israel and under His feet there appeared to be a pavement of sapphire, as clear as the sky itself. The ten Commandments were carved from a blue stone which was a part of the throne of God. The Israelites wore a blue tassel to remind them of the Law Numbers. The whore of revelation was adorned in everything except blue - she violates the law, yet she wants riches, priesthood and sacrifice. She just did not like the rules. But we are a people of the law. Purple Covered The Altar. Then they shall take away the ashes from the altar, and spread a purple cloth over it. Significantly, the altar of sacrifice was covered in purple when the sanctuary was moved. This prophecy was fulfilled when he was dressed in purple at the trial. And the soldiers twisted together a crown of thorns and put it on His head, and put a purple robe on Him; John He studies this law and teaches it to the people and administers justice. Therefore, Christ becomes our priest and defender before God. The color purple is in the doors to the sanctuary because the sanctuary is the place where we go to get justice from God. Purple is the color of the royal priesthood. One is priest first and king also. Since purple was expensive to produce, it became associated with wealth. The emperors of Rome eventually used this color for royalty. So at the time of His trial, the soldiers intended to mock Jesus as the king of the Jews and they dressed Him in purple and placed a crown of thorns on His head. When they did this, they inadvertently dressed Him up as the altar of sacrifice! So, although they intended to mock Him, they unknowingly fulfilled a prophecy as they dressed the altar for transportation. Purple is a combination of red and blue. The priest fulfilled the demands of the law by becoming the sacrifice. He atoned for the broken law blue with His red blood. Therefore, when the law and sacrifice combined it formed purple. No wonder the place of sacrifice was covered in purple. We are also destined to be priest-kings of God. We die daily to sin. Green Green is the symbol of royalty and eternal life. It is a combination of blue and yellow. A good king has laws and he does his duties in love. And his people keep the law because they are of good character. The blue combines with the gold to produce one harmonious society. We see the green color in at least four places in the Bible, three having to do with happy times spent with the king. And He who was sitting was like a jasper stone and a sardius in appearance; and there was a rainbow around the throne, like an emerald in appearance. Jasper can also be red or blue. God is described as sitting on a throne with an emerald green rainbow over him. The rainbow was always a covenant symbol. It is the King who makes the covenant to combine the law with love, in our hearts. The covenant says that he will be our God and king and we will be His people. To do that he will write the law in our hearts. He combines the blue and the yellow. When Christ came to Jerusalem on that last Sunday before his crucifixion, he was greeted as the king with green palm branches. The Feast Of Tabernacles. Now on the first day you shall take for yourselves, the foliage of beautiful trees, palm branches and boughs of leafy trees and willows of the brook, and you shall rejoice before the Lord your God seven days. It is the time when we lived with the king.
