Short Putt Golf is a game of inches and the short putt puts more fear into a golfer than public speaking. History has shown that even the great players fail when faced with the moment of truth. History has shown that even the great players fail when faced with the moment of truth.

Contact Author Source I enjoy listening to stories or anecdotes that relate to life and that can teach me something. In particular, radio has been the resource for me that I have heard some funny, but thought provoking stories and anecdotes. The stranger had lost control of his vehicle and ran it off into a ditch. The stranger asked the farmer if his horse could somehow pull the vehicle out of the ditch for him and told the farmer that the vehicle was small. The farmer said he would come, bring his horse, and take a look, but could not promise he could help if his horse might be injured in some way from attempting to pull the vehicle out of the ditch. The farmer did see that the stranger was correct and that the vehicle was small, so the farmer took a rope and fixed it so that his horse, Buddy, would be able to pull the vehicle out of the ditch. The farmer then said, "Pull, Casey, Pull," but the horse would not budge. The farmer then said, "Pull, Bailey, Pull," but the horse would not budge again. The farmer then said, "Pull, Mandy, Pull," and again the horse would not move. The farmer then said, "Pull, Buddy, Pull," and the horse pulled until the vehicle was out of the ditch. The stranger was so very grateful, but asked the farmer why he called the horse by different names? The farmer said, "Buddy is blind, and I had to make him think he had help pulling the car out of the ditch or he would not have pulled. Father and Son Source 2. A child and his father were visiting an elderly neighbor. The child had not really seen the elderly neighbor up close, but on this day the child was going to meet the neighbor up close for the first time. The elderly neighbor told the child he was 92 years old. The child had a look of unbelief and asked the neighbor, "Did you start at the number one? Actually, everybody starts before the number one. One day two frogs were hopping in and out of a watering hole and accidentally hopped in an extremely deep hole. They tried to leap out, but to no avail had no success, so they began to yell and croak until other frogs heard them and came to help. The other frogs looked over into the hole and said the hole was too deep for them to help, but both frogs kept leaping up the sides of the hole. The other frogs, leaning over the hole and waving their front legs, began to yell to the frogs to just give up and die and that there was no hope of them getting out of the hole, but both frogs kept leaping and trying to get out of the hole. They leaped for hours and one of the frogs just gave up he was so exhausted and died. The other frog in the hole kept leaping, but the other frogs, leaning over the hole, kept yelling and waving their front legs for him to stop and give up, but the frog kept leaping trying to get out of the hole. Finally the frog leaped so high that he was able to leap to the top of the hole and used his back legs to push himself up out of the hole. The other frogs said even though we told you to give up that there was no hope of you getting out of the hole you kept leaping. Sometimes you have to turn a "deaf ear" to what others tell you is impossible. School Bus Source 4. A mother was seeing her 8 year-old son off to school one morning. She walked him to the bus stop where they waited patiently; the bus came and her son got on the school bus. The mother proceeded to go home so she could get ready to go to work. About 15 minutes later the doorbell rang and it was her son at the front door. She was shocked to see him since she just got him on the school bus, then she noticed the school bus with its door open, in front of her house. The mother asked her son, "What are you doing back home? Experiences of life touch all no matter how young or how old. When I was a nanny in college, I babysat for a family with a little boy and a little girl. While the boy was in school one day, I was home with his little sister, Abigail. Abigail was watching me cook in the kitchen; she was on the kitchen floor with her blanket. Abigail was cute as a button and said the funniest things, but this day proved to be a real doozie. Abigail called my name and told me that, "my toilets at my house were bigger than the toilets at her house. She said, "Miss Kris, your tushy is bigger than my tushy.

Here are some of my favorite golf anecdotes: No two men ever did more for the Pacific Northwest Golf Association than the late brothers, Carl and Ernie Jonson.

Ernie called Robinson, who said he had measured from the back tees to the back of the greens. Ernie thought the measurements should have been to the middle of the greens. Ted has a short ruler. That length helped attract the PGA Championship nearly three decades later. Hale Irwin electrified fans on the ninth hole with a hole-in-one on the first day of the Boeing Classic. I bounced up on the green and I rolled right into the hole. The story goes that a fellow went to late Sahalee pro Rick Acton and said he wanted to hold a tournament at Sahalee. He was using a 9-iron, yards. But he has had a few memorable shots. One day, he was playing a match at Twin Lakes Country Club in Federal Way when he launched one of his all-time out-of-bounds slices. When he put another ball in play and marched up the fairway, a homeowner was there to greet him. I just wanted to come out and meet the guy who hit it. Sure enough, Still bogeyed the 17th. The caddie was local looper from Memphis and Still make sure he never used him again. I made it over the hazard on my first shot and chipped in for a two. It once again proves that keeping a good attitude in adversity can make all the difference. It did for Jack. I remember going to the locker room to talk to champion David Eger as the final holes of regulation were being played. Eger poured a beer then looked at the TV and saw that to his surprise he might be in the playoff. He looked at the TV, then looked at the beer and repeated this a couple times. Finally, he shoved the beer aside. Thirty minutes later he was in the playoff, which Denis Watson won. I remember Watson winning but my favorite memory of the tournament was Eger staring wistfully at that beer. It was wonderful training. Craig Smith Craig Smith, perhaps best known by his column name of "Sideline Smitty," was a Seattle Times sportswriter for 32 years before retiring.

Once when he was checking into a hotel under the false name of "G. Luther" the clerk asked him if he was really Ted Williams. Williams denied it and they went on to have a pleasant conversation about fishing. The clerk finally remarked, "I thought you really were Ted. He once told a Boston sportswriter that there was no one who knew more about fishing than he did. The writer replied, "Sure there is. God, who made the fish. Sunday, May 18, , Friday, May 9, , After being told that golf was a classy American sport, he decided to take it up. He never was able, however, to get the hang of it, as he never quite understood that the game was scored in strokes. Instead he treated golf as a kind of race. He employed two caddies. One caddy was posted down the fairway to locate the ball at once. Meanwhile caddy number two would run ahead, Mayer pelting behind him, to position himself for the next shot. When the game was over, Mayer would consult his watch. Three minutes better than yesterday. Birmingham, "The Rest of Us".

The senior should not be penalized for tall grass which groundskeepers failed to mow. This is simply bad luck and luck has no place in a scientific game. The senior player must estimate the distance the ball would have travelled if it had not hit the tree and play the ball from there. The player is not to compound the felony by charging himself or herself with a penalty. The law of gravity supersedes the Rules of Golf. Putts that stop close enough to the cup that they could be blown in, may be blown in. This does not apply to balls more than three inches from the hole. No one wants to make a travesty of the game. The senior golfer deserves an apology, not a penalty. Since this is financially impracticable for many senior golfers, one-half stroke per hole may be subtracted for using old equipment. Please advise all your senior friends of these important rule changes. You hit down to make the ball go up. You swing left and the ball goes right. The lowest score wins. And on top of that, the winner buys the drinks - Anon I play in the low 80s. Think you can keep your head down that long? Do you think my game is improving? Do you think I can get there with a 5 iron? That would be too much of a coincidence. Please stop checking your watch all the time. How do you like my game? Very good sir, but personally, I prefer golf. We left that an hour ago. Author unknown Please send Will and Guy your favourite clean golf joke. See more golf jokes and funny pictures:

6: 70 Humorous Stories and How to Tell Them

Clean golf jokes and free, funny golfing stories. One-liners and funny short stories about golf. It took me seventeen years to get 3, hits in baseball. I did it in one afternoon on the golf course: Babe Ruth.

Without saying a word, she gestures to the bus driver by sticking her thumb on her nose and waving her fingers at the driver. The driver acknowledges the lady, turns to her and uses both hands in the same type of gesture and waves all his fingers at her. The woman holds her right arm out at the driver and chops at it a few times with her left hand. Then the driver puts his left hand on his right bicep and jerks his right arm up in a fist at her. The woman then cups both of her hands under her breasts and lifts gently. So the driver places both of his hands at his crotch and gently lifts up. Then the woman frowns, runs a finger up between her derriere, and gets off the bus. There is another woman sitting in the front row of the bus who witnessed the whole exchange. She speaks up, "That was the most disgusting thing I have ever seen on a public bus! What the hell were you doing? She asked me if the bus went to 5th Street. I said no, we go to 10th Street. She asked if we make many stops. I told her that this was the express. She asked if we go by the dairy, and I told her we go by the ballpark. After choosing a student in particular, she recited the following story: A man with a gun shoots one of the birds. How many birds are left on the wire? She holds up three fingers. A man with a gun shoots one," she puts down one finger, "how many birds are left on the wire? One woman is licking the popsicle, one woman is biting the popsicle, and one is sucking the popsicle. Which one is married? But I like the way you think. Expecting a long line, he is surprised to see nobody there at all, except for an angel sitting in a chair with his feet up on a table. They go to hear the Heavenly Choir, three hundred angels singing on high. He is escorted out. Then, Saint Peter walks him into a huge room filled with thousands and thousands of clocks, large and small, all shapes, all kinds. The man is puzzled. He asks, "What is this room full of clocks all about? Each clock in the room represents a single human soul. The time on each clock represents how long each is to live. Each and every time a person lies, however, the hands of the clock move a bit faster. His curiosity gets the better of him and he asks, "What is that clock? We use it as a fan. The receptionist momentarily looked at the sack of money, then walked back to one of the rear offices. When she walked in to a large office with a nicely tailored man behind a great oaken desk. The bank president stood up and asked, "How can I help you? Where did you come by this kind of money? What kind of bets? The little old lady then said, "Okay, but since there is a lot of money involved, may I bring my lawyer with me tomorrow at That night, the president got very nervous about the bet and spent a long time in front of a mirror checking his balls, turning from side to side, again and again. He thoroughly checked them out until he was sure that there was absolutely no way his balls were square and that he would win the bet. The next morning, at precisely She introduced the lawyer to the president and repeated the bet: The little old lady peered closely at his balls and then asked if she could feel them. He is really looking forward to two weeks of sightseeing and golf. The day they arrive, he signs up for pro golf lessons at the beautiful Pebble Beach Country Club. After a night out with his wife, they wake refreshed and go out to the links. The man and his wife and the golf pro begin the course and they do rather well. After the sixth hole, they catch up to the party ahead of them and need to wait for them to finish the seventh before they can play it. A tall man with a beard tees off and hits his ball right into the water. His companions all hit their tee shots into the fairway. The retired man watches as the bearded man actually walks on to the water to find his ball. To the golf pro, he blurts out, "Who does he think he is, Jesus Christ? Within a few weeks, the female gorilla became very ornery, and difficult to handle. Upon examination, the zoo veterinarian determined the problem. The gorilla was in heat. Mike was approached with a proposition: Mike showed some interest, but said he would have to think the matter over carefully. The following day, Mike announced that he would accept their offer, but only under three conditions. Secondly, I want nothing to do with any offspring that may result from this union. During the tour some of the children wanted to go to the toilet so it was decided that the girls would go with one teacher and the boys would go with the other. Having no choice she went inside and began hoisting up the little boys by their armpits. But thanks for the lift anyhow. They meet a Martian couple and start talking about all sorts of things. Mike asks if Mars has a stock market, if they have laptop computers, how they make money, etc. Maureen discusses hobbies, cuisine on Mars etc. Finally, Maureen brings up the subject of sex. Discussion ensues and finally curiosity gets the better of them and the couples decide to swap partners for the night and experience one another. Maureen and the male Martian go off to a bedroom where the Martian strips. With each pull, his member grows wider and wider until the entire measurement is extremely exciting to the woman. The next day the couples rejoin their normal partners and go their separate ways. As they walk along, Mike asks, "Well, was it any good? All she kept doing was slapping my forehead and pulling my ears. He had been employed there for a number of years when he came home one day to confess to his wife that he had a terrible compulsion. He had this urge to stick his penis into the pickle slicer. He vowed to overcome the compulsion on his own. One day, a few weeks later, Bill came home absolutely ashen. His wife could see at once that something was seriously wrong. I mean, what happened with the pickle slicer? Jones went to have a talk with the minister at her local church. What should I do? I will be able to tell when Mr. Jones is sleeping, and I will nod to you at specific times. When I nod, you give him a good poke in the leg. Noticing this, the preacher put his plan to work. Soon, Jones nodded off again. Again, the minister noticed. Before long, Jones again winked off. However, this time the minister did not notice. As he picked up the tempo of his sermon, he made a few motions that Mrs. Jones mistook as signals to bayonet her husband with the hatpin again. The minister asked, "And what did Eve say to Adam after she bore him his 99th son? She went to a pet shop and immediately spotted a large beautiful parrot. She went to the owner of the store and asked how much.

You truly are a kind man. We were married 35 years. You drive hard to make the green and then end up in the hole. Golf is more complicated than that. Henny Youngman U. Upon arrival, they noticed the most beautiful golf course they have ever seen. Peter told them they were welcome to play the course, but he cautioned them with one rule: The duck squawked, and soon there was a deafening roar of ducks quacking. Peter appeared with an extremely homely woman and asked, "Who stepped on a duck? Peter immediately pulled out a pair of handcuffs and cuffed the man to the homely woman. The quacks were as deafening as before, and within minutes, St. Peter walked up with a woman who was even uglier than the other one. Peter walked up to the man and had with him the most beautiful woman the man had ever seen. Peter smiled and without a word, handcuffed him to the beautiful woman and walked off. The man, knowing that he would be handcuffed to this woman for eternity, let out a sigh and said, "What have I done to deserve this? He lives on greens. A golfer drove his tee shot onto an anthill. Funny Golf Story - Golf Accident One beautiful fall Sunday afternoon, a man staggers into an emergency room with two black eyes and a five iron wrapped tightly around his throat. Naturally, the doctor and nurses run up to him and ask what happened. She was teeing off on the last hole when she sliced her ball into a pasture full of cows. Meanwhile, the emergency room was becoming busy, and the doctor was growing impatient. And I carefully walked over and examined it up close. They decided that they would adhere strictly to the rules with no improving their lie. As he reached down to pick up his ball to get relief, his friend said, "We agreed that we would not improve our lie. So the man went to the cart to get a club. As he stood over the ball he took a few practice swings, each time scraping the club on the pavement, taking out big chunks of blacktop and sending out lots of sparks! Finally, after several practice swings he took his shot. The ball took off and landed on the green about 6 feet from the pin. I make it very, very clear that my purpose in raising Tiger was not to raise a golfer. I wanted to raise a good person. Earl Woods, father of Tiger Woods I do much of my creative thinking while golfing.

Have you done the washing? If you have done these simple tasks, you may proceed. Now, at the age of 90 she has amazed her fellow golfers by hitting a hole in one. Will and Guy have learned that she felt amazed and stunned to have achieved the feat. Mary was given a special trophy by the club to mark her success on the par three hole. See more funny golf stories Fascinating Golf Sign Here is a golf story from the Second World War [], a time when many Golf courses in the UK were given over to growing vegetables for a beleaguered population. However, nothing, not even war, could stop the British from playing golf as this list of rules indicates. Here in outer London, England, in Richmond, Surrey we have searched the history archives and found this sign which was placed around the Richmond Golf course warning players of war related problems. Will and Guy have been unable to ascertain whether this document is accurate or not. Golf In World War II German aircraft from Norway would fly on missions to northern England; because of the icy weather conditions, the barrels of their guns had a small dab of wax to protect them. As they crossed the coast, they would clear their guns by firing a few rounds at the golf courses. Golfers were urged to take cover. Players are asked to collect bombs and shrapnel to save causing damage to the mowing machines 2. In competitions, during gunfire players may take cover without incurring a penalty for ceasing playing. The positions of known delayed action bombs are marked with red flags. Shrapnel may be moved on the fairway, or in the bunkers, without penalty. A player whose stroke is affected by a bomb exploding may play another ball from the same place. God, in contrast, is a picture of virtue wearing his old gardening clothes and trailing a tatty old canvas bag with a real mixture of ancient and rusting clubs, some of which even have hickory shafts. On the first hole St Peter smacks a beauty yards straight down the middle. God, however, tops his drive that trickles along the ground. Before the rabbit can reach safety, however, a magnificent eagle swoops down and snares the rabbit in its talons before rising majestically, the rabbit still struggling in its grasp but defiantly holding the golf ball in its mouth. As the eagle soars over the green a bolt of lightning from a clear blue sky strikes it, killing the bird instantly. It drops the rabbit, which in turn drops the golf ball, which strikes a sprinkler head at the side of the green and takes one bounce straight into the hole for an ace on a par-5 hole. St Peter slowly turns and says to God: We have a report of a golfer who has defied estimated odds of 67 million-to-one to score two holes-in-one in the same round. Mr Rob Tyson had never managed a hole-in-one before his double recently Will and Guy have discovered. The 67 year old used his six iron to score his first ace on the fourth hole, then took nine shots on the next due to the excitement. However, he more than made up for the blip when he used the six iron again for another hole-in-one on the seventh. See more golf stories. Desert Island Castaway A retired corporate executive, now a widower, decided to take a vacation He booked himself on a Caribbean cruise and proceeded to have the time of his life, that is, until the ship sank. He found himself on an island with no other people, no supplies, nothing, only bananas and coconuts. After about four months, he is lying on the beach one day when the most gorgeous woman he has ever seen rows up to the shore. How did you get here? I landed here when my cruise ship sank. The oars were whittled from gum tree branches. I wove the bottom from palm branches, and the sides and stern came from a Eucalyptus tree. I found if I fired it to a certain temperature in my kiln, it melted into ductile iron. I used that for tools and used the tools to make the hardware. After a few minutes of rowing, she docks the boat at a small wharf. As the man looks to shore, he nearly falls off the boat. Before him is a stone walk leading to an exquisite bungalow painted in blue and white. While the woman ties up the rowboat with an expertly woven hemp rope, the can only stare ahead, dumb struck. Would you like a drink? How would you like a Pina Colada? Would you like to take a shower and shave? There is a razor upstairs in the bathroom cabinet. There, in the cabinet, a razor made from a piece of tortoise bone. Two shells honed to a hollow ground edge are fastened on to its end inside a swivel mechanism. She beckons for him to sit down next to her. Will and Guy have learned of a man who has recorded five holes-in-one in a week. The year-old has recorded five holes-in-one in the last week, including two on Saturday. Mr Hocker has seven aces: They have had a wonderful time and Rod has had a near perfect game. The final hole, by far the most difficult, wraps around an old barn. With a terrible slice Rod puts the barn between his ball and the green. Knowing that the strokes that it will take to get around the barn will destroy his score, he begins to rant and rave. Phoebe, hating to see him ruin such a great afternoon makes a suggestion. That way you could send it right through the barn onto the green. With Phoebe holding open the barn door he lines up with the hole and gives the ball a terrific "whack". The ball shoots through the air and right into the head of his wife, killing her instantly. Months go by, the man mourning all the while. His friends, hating to see him in such a state, convince him to go golfing with them. They end up at the same course and on the final hole, oddly enough; another terrible slice puts the old barn between his ball and the green. Again he begins to rant and rave at what this dilemma will do to his score. His friend, wanting to please him, makes a suggestion. Please send Will and Guy your funny golf story.
