The beloved echo song The Other Day I Met a Bear is stunningly illustrated in the latest installment of John M. Feierabend's series of picture books based on our great folk music heritage. This delightful song functions both as an echo song and a songtale.

As I walked out in the streets of Laredo As I walked out in Laredo one day, I spied a poor cowboy, all wrapped in white linen All wrapped in white linen and cold as the clay. Put bunches of roses all over my coffin, Roses to deaden the clods as they fall. To cool my parched lips", the cowboy then said. Before I returned, his spirit had departed, And gone to the round up " the cowboy was dead. We beat the drum slowly and played the fife lowly, And bitterly wept as we bore him along. Origin[edit] The song is widely considered to be a traditional ballad. James Infirmary Blues ". The Irish ballad shares a melody with the British sea-song " Spanish Ladies ". The Bodleian Library , Oxford , has copies of a 19th-century broadside entitled "The Unfortunate Lad", which is a version of the British ballad. My father oft told me, and of[ten] times chided me, And said my wicked ways would never do, But I never minded him, nor ever heeded him, [I] always kept up in my wicked ways. Get six jolly fellows to carry my coffin, And six pretty maidens to bear up my pall, And give to each of them bunches of roses, That they may not smell me as they go along. And fire your guns right over my coffin, There goes an unfortunate lad to his home. The song plays a prominent role in the book and film Bang the Drum Slowly , in which a version of the song is sung. The words from the title replace the words "beat the drum slowly" from the lyrics below. The song is featured in the films Brokeback Mountain and Night on Earth. The lyrics are also indirectly the source of the title of Peter S. Vince Gill recorded a version of three verses of the Irish ballad The Bard of Armagh which takes the same tune followed by three verses of this song on the album Long Journey Home, a compilation of songs about Irish emigration and the links between Irish and American folk and country music also featuring Van Morrison, the Chieftans, Mary Black, Elvis Costello and others, in The rhythms of the poem resemble the lyrics of the song, and the book Holes in the Sky states that his wife Hedli Anderson sang the poem. The Kingston Trio performed this comedy version as "Laredo? As I walked down in the streets of Laredo. As I walked down in Laredo one day, I spied a young cowboy dressed in white linen, Dressed in white linen and cold as the clay. A portion of "Streets of Laredo" was sung by a group of cowboys in Season 2, Episode 5: The song deliberately echoes "Streets of Laredo", beginning: And so when I asked him, "Why are you dejected? Fife in Songs of the Cowboys say, There are hundreds of texts, with variants so numerous that scholars will never assemble and analyze them all. This bowdlerization renders nonsensical the next phrase, " My curse let it rest, rest on the fair one Who drove me from friends that I loved and from home Who told me she loved me, just to deceive me My curse rest upon her, wherever she roam. Oh she was fair, Oh she was lovely The belle of the Village the fairest of all But her heart was as cold as the snow on the mountains She gave me up for the glitter of gold. Send for my Father. The song "Streets of Whitechapel" sung by J. Carroll is an updated version of this ballad. The composer Samuel Barber adapted a variation on the "Streets of Laredo" tune as the principal theme in the "Allegretto" movement of Excursions, op. Walker, with additional words by Jess Edwins and Terry Kennedy. It was a minor hit in some countries by Houston Wells and The Marksmen and has been recorded by many other artists. The video game Fallout: The song is a Fallout universe adaptation of "The Streets of Laredo". Cash also recorded two other versions with different lyrics on his first Christmas album , and then again as "The Walls of a Prison" on his From Sea to Shining Sea album in The movie was directed by John D.

It was a joyful graduation for him, but I miss him terribly. He was a godly man with a soft and tender heart, yet a strong man, whose life touched so many people and is continuing to do so. Since he also had a love for music and was a song leader in church for many years, he would be pleased to know this volume is in honor of him. Enjoy playing and singing these songs. HE paid for us to be free from sin by His death on the cross. And remember 2 Chronicles 7: It has been even more than I expected. Shaman Maggie Wahls All Shamans have several power songs because the vibration of the notes in the voice and in the fourth chakra of the throat stimulate sympathetic vibrations in the universe to respond. What you put out comes back to you. When a butterfly flutters his wings in Cost Rica the winds of Africa are stirred. And when a sound is offered, the universe responds. Power songs are used in preparation for journeying, healing, offering Reiki, praying, grounding, for protection, for celebration, for solace, anytime you want to connect with the universe in this very special way. To demonstrate the power of voice and music al notes I would like to you try this exercise. Find a piano and discover the sound of this note if possible. Or find your own closest approximation to it. It is important to find the sound of FA. The fourth note or sound of FA is also the note of manifestation or creation upon this planet. So if we want to manifest healing, for example, we can send our intention out upon the note FA into the universe and healing will resonate with our voice of FA and become manifest where we are intending. It really is that simple. This little simple secret is one that some people have paid thousands of dollars for. Some people have made millions creating music al tapes based on the sound of Fa, subliminal, holosync tapes that offer healing are based on the sound FA. But now you know how to do it yourself. The visual symbol for the universe made manifest is the square. This symbolizes the power of thought and vibration becoming solid and material in this apparent world. So let s combine the sound of Fa with the visualization of a square. Get yourself someplace comfortable where you will not be disturbed for a while. Close your eyes and visualize a square. Intone the sound FA and watch the square and see what image appears there. You can also do this backwards Shamans use this technique all the time. The last ingredient the Shaman uses here is desire or strong will. He or she really wants this healing to happen, they can really feel the wish, they put all their emotional energy into the intent. I often get to dancing and rattling while I intone my power song and bring my whole body into the act of intending a healing for someone. The more feeling you put into it, the stronger the vibration. Have you ever listened to a Native American song? Now you know why! As a final thought, each note in the scale represents a unique vibratory pattern in the universe. You could do a study to find those out if you would like to know more about sound. So you see the need for your own power song. Create one this week. You can use words or vowels or an imaginary language. As long as you create it with FA as your base and emotion and intent, it will be perfect. Power songs are usually kept private and seldom sung in public. The only time they are sung in public is when a group of Shamans have gathered to do a combined healing. It is your prayer to the universe. Independent, The London , May 28, by Cahal Milmo Klaudius Kryspin always expected that the ability of his quietly spoken friend, Tomas Strnad, to play Chopin and Liszt from memory for hours at a time would one day bring him fame. The case of the silent patient, who has not uttered a word since he was found in dripping clothes on a Kent beach seven weeks ago, has garnered global publicity and dozens of suggested identities. My parents and brother all saw the photographs separately and reached the same conclusion. The behaviour of the unidentified stranger, who is in a secure unit in north Kent, has left health professionals flummoxed. All attempts to coax him into communication, including the use of interpreters from Poland, Lithuania and Latvia " but not the Czech Republic " have failed. He cowers when approached by strangers and is constantly anxious. It is only when placed in front of the instrument that gave him his nickname, that the demeanour of Piano Man is transformed. Within hours of his discovery he drew a sketch of a grand piano. He was then shown a piano in hospital and played without stopping for four hours. He continues to play in his room, delivering long renditions of classical pieces. He played Chopin and Liszt from memory and the audience were wowed. But somehow it never happened for him.
