Want to become a craft tool reviewer for DIYProjects. Enter your email address for a chance! Yes, affordable and pocket-friendly weighted blankets. Try your hands at these DIY weighted blankets and find good use of your time and money. The small poly pellets as you know poses choking hazards, especially for small kids. The pressure from the extra weight in the blanket is akin to a warm and comforting embrace. Grab some flannel or fleece fabric and your sewing machine then start making this DIY sensory blanket to help get you some sleep. You only need Ziploc bags and some duct tape – do you get the idea? We included this project since it follows the same idea as a blanket cushion, only small scale. It should be a good project then, to jumpstart your plans for a DIY weighted blanket. We are also using rice for this project, specifically small rice bags which you are going to insert bag and all into a cushion case. It has a pattern for the stitches you will make, making it easier to sew. We are going to use rocks – river rocks, in particular. You can make a DIY weighted blanket simply by knotting your quilt, then stuffing the blanket up with river rocks! Or, trick them into it. The sewing is the easiest part of this weighted blanket project and putting the fillers can be tedious. Luckily, kids can find this task fun and could take over for you. This should be a perfect project to make with everyone at home this weekend. This is the perfect weighted blanket for children since we are going to use fabric too as blanket fillings. Understanding the Puzzle Want a blanket you can easily adjust and wash? This homemade, adjustable, and washable weighted blanket is just the thing. It has all the elements of a sleep-aid and a laundry-friendly blanket. You can fill the corner pockets for the weight so you or your darling kid is always tucked while sleeping. You can easily untie the blanket and add bean bags as needed. So I asked one of my friends, and they suggested using a weighted blanket. They say that adding some weight can make you feel calm resulting in better sleep. So if you also want to get a good night sleep without breaking the bank, try these weighted blankets DIY ideas! Let us know what your thoughts are on these sewing ideas in the comments section below! This post was originally published on September 3, , and has been updated for quality and relevancy.

2: Science Fair Project Ideas

The Home Depot is your best resource for getting educated on projects that you can complete yourself, and buying guides that provide information to help you navigate the shopping and buying process.

There are so many neat ways that you can repurpose things that you find at your local Dollar Store. From organizing the kitchen and bathroom to taking care of laundry clutter, there are many things that can help you to be more organized. Need to know what to do with all of those scarves? Whatever you are looking to organize, we have collected a host of helpful tips and ideas and most of the items can be bought for very little money. You just need a little imagination and creativity and you would be surprised at what you can use to organize your life. Instead of piling everything up in drawers, you can add small plastic or canvas containers that will keep their clothes perfectly organized. These come in all sizes and will fit into any dresser drawer.

Iheartorganizing – May Challenge: This is a great idea for those who like to add their own spices when eating out. Parents, not so much, especially when those toys drip water all over the floor. An easy way to keep those toys from wetting the floor and getting lost is to pick up a hook with a suction cup that will affix to the bathtub wall. Then you just need a mesh bag and you can hang the toys in the bathtub where they will drip right into the drain.

Makeit-loveit – A mesh bath toy bag. Organizing Craft Supplies with Recycled Cans Recycled cans are great for organizing paints and other craft supplies. Coffee cans and others are perfect. Once you finish with them, just remove the labels and you can paint and customize them if you want.

Thecountrychiccottage – Organizing Craft Supplies with Recycled Cans Craft Organizer Boxes Keep Hair Supplies Tidy Craft organizer boxes or those larger pill organizing boxes are great for keeping hair supplies and accessories perfectly organized. These are really cheap and the slots are perfect for ponytail holders, bows and other accessories. Plus, they take up very little room so you can keep them neat and tidy under the bathroom sink or just anywhere you have room and you will never have to worry with losing hair accessories

Via: Clear plastic cups work great. You just have to label the cups with what you are putting inside and store them all in a small plastic tote or basket. You can get several cups for just a few dollars and you just need a holder for all of them. This helps to keep cords from tangling and ensures that you always know where all of your accessories

Via: Imperfecthomemaking – Clear Plastic Cups for Organizing Cords Great Belt Organizer from Clothespins If you have a lot of belts and little room in the closet or drawers, you can make a great organizer using just a few clothes pins and a strip of wood. You just have to hot glue the clothes pins to the wood strip and then use them to hold your belts. This is also a great idea for jewelry, scarves or other things that you need to hang.

Powertoolsandhighheels – Bathroom Update!! Instead of losing the dice from your board games, why not just keep them all in a handy little container? You can also use these for loose change, bobby pins and other items that often get misplaced easily. They are great for small nails and screws and because they stack easily, you can keep everything neatly organized. A simple magnetic strip will end this problem. Just add the magnetic strip to the inside of your medicine cabinet door and stick bobby pins, tweezers, clippers and other small metal items on it to keep them handy. Unfortunately, keeping those craft supplies organized can be difficult, particularly when you are dealing with very small items. You just need to pick up a few small plastic containers with lids and have a picture frame handy one of those thicker ones. You can label the boxes and then use the frame to keep them all together, neat and organized. A great solution for smaller office supplies is to use an ice cube tray. Keep your push pins, paper clips, rubber bands and other supplies in the individual slots and they fit easily into any desk drawer.

Keep Schoolwork Organized with a File Box Once school starts up again parents everywhere will be frantically searching for storage solutions for schoolwork. A great solution for this is a cheap file box. You can keep all of their important papers as well as pictures and other things in a file that is labeled so you always know where to go to get what you need. Just a few folders will complete the project and you can keep that paper clutter down to a minimum. If you are looking for the perfect toy storage solution, consider pop-up hampers. While they are not originally designed for toy storage, they do make a great choice. Spinning racks are perfect for keeping pages neat and protected and you can use a paper towel holder to keep ribbon neatly organized. Baskets are always a great choice for storage and tiny buckets will keep stickers and other embellishments neat and tidy. Creatingkeepsakesblog â€” Easy Scrapbooking Storage Organize Video Game Accessories with Shoe Hangers Hanging shoe organizers are perfect for keeping video games, controllers and other accessories together and organized. Smaller game systems will also fit into the shoe slots. Time2saveworkshops â€” Organize Video Game Accessories with Shoe Hangers Cheap and Easy Organization for Outgrown Clothing If you have children then there is a good chance that you have tons of clothing that your children have outgrown. If you have more than one child you may be waiting to see if some of that clothing will fit the next in line. Instead of getting rid of those clothes, use comforter storage bags. You would be surprised at how much clothing one storage bag will hold and you can organize them by size, gender or type of clothing. The bags fit nicely under beds and in other small spaces. There really is no better way to keep family events and other things organized. A simple wooden picture frame and a few clothespins will do the trick nicely. Use the clothespins to keep things noted where you will remember what you have going on each week and you can add small cardboard boxes for recipes and other items. You just need to purchase a few inexpensive wicker type baskets and install them on your wall. Imbusyprocrastinating â€” Design solution: Wall baskets for bath linen storage Baskets and Totes for Organization in Every Room It simply cannot be stressed enough that totes and baskets are the perfect storage solution items. You can keep all of your bathroom, kitchen and bedroom belongings perfectly organized when you keep them in matching baskets or totes. You can also pick up these great little holders for a very low price at any dollar type store so you can use this organization system all over the home Via: Well, they are and you can pick up some great plastic ones for organizing the laundry room or cleaning closet. They sell plastic baskets in all sizes and shapes so you can find exactly what works for your laundry room. Organizewithsandy â€” Baskets can Organize your Laundry Room Cheap and Easy Organization with Plastic Bins If you have a Dollar Tree in your area, you can pick up some great plastic bins to keep your home office organized. They come in all different colors so you can match them perfectly to whatever room you are using them in and they are really inexpensive so you can afford to organize every room in your home. Just mount the basket to the bottom of your desk and place the power strip inside. This is a great way to keep cords from becoming tangled and makes your office look a bit neater. A curtain rod , spray bottles and some plastic baskets or silicon totes make the perfect organization supplies. You can keep your homemade cleaners in the bottles and hang them by the handles across the curtain rod. Amy-newnostalgia â€” Under The Kitchen Sink Organization Tips for Small Bathroom Organization A set of graduated wicker baskets and a bit of rope is all you need to have a better organized bathroom. Keep bathroom supplies or anything that you need in the baskets so you get extra storage space and you get it for a really cheap price. Bedifferentactnormal â€” Hanging Baskets Binders for Keeping Papers Organized A few very inexpensive binders will help you to keep everything neatly organized. Just choose how you want to keep things together and then label your binders accordingly. A hanging file folder is also great for keeping your favorite recipe print-offs neat and within easy reach. Dimplicity â€” Organization Binders Makeup Drawer Cleanup If you need better organization for your makeup drawer, a few wire mesh containers and some Velcro will do the trick nicely. Just attach Velcro to the bottom of the containers and then to your drawer. The containers will keep makeup organized and the Velcro will ensure that they stay that way. Craft Ribbon Dispenser Organizing craft ribbon is not difficult, provided you know what you need. A great way to keep those ribbons organized and by the way this works perfectly for Christmas wrapping ribbon as well is to get a small plastic basket â€” the kind with holes in it. Just insert a wooden or plastic dowel rod that fits from one end to the other. Now, put your ribbon spools on the rod and poke the end of the ribbon through the holes in the basket. You can find plastic baskets in all shapes and sizes. The ones with holes in the side are perfect for decorating. These also make wonderful gift holders for baby showers. Just add the ribbon to decorate the basket and then fill it up with needed baby supplies. Makeandtakes â€” Embellish a Plastic Container with Ribbon Command Hooks for Organizing the Kitchen Command hooks are the perfect accessories for organizing the clutter under your kitchen sink. You can use the hooks to hang up plastic bottles or affix metal shelves to the inside of the cabinet for holding sponges and other cleaning supplies. Add a few baskets or even a paper towel holder inside the cabinet door and your cleaning supplies will always be tidy. PrevPage 1 of 5 Next Article Navigation.

With the need to have a predominantly unique home on the rise because who wants their house to look like every house ever, the concept of DIY craft projects using rustic craft creative ideas is getting more and more acceptable. This is why we here on homemagez. With handcrafted designs, it is the basic things that transform a regular house into a unique home and even better is the satisfaction you derive from actually doing it yourself. Creating your own planked accent wall as well as infusing your personal idea of a wall finish, gives a new look to your home. This erstwhile bland look is rebranded with a wood plank accent that houses both a mini-library and a makeshift sofa which share similar hues with the wood planked wall, giving this home an unexpectedly warm feel. As classy as this ensemble is, it is quite simple to create. Bring your ideas to life with this DIY craft project. The beauty of DIY projects is that each idea is unique to every individual. Reusing your old jars would certainly add a warm fuzzy feel to your home. Make your home uniquely glamorous by converting all or most of your used glass jars into hand painted flower vases. You save money, add warmth to your home as well as provide your home with a much needed natural ambience. By simply arranging objects into a vignette and placing them on top shelves and tables as seen in the image, you would be creating an attractive still life. The best part is, it would only go down as one of your DIY crafted projects because with one successful vignettes comes an array of vignette creative ideas. When making vignettes, you could use already available resources like plants, mirrors, photos, vases and even personal belongings. The dynamics of a handmade vignette rests solely on your mood and choice of style. This ladder towel rack is one of such creations that serves multipurpose within the home. You could put an old ladder to use when implementing this concept or you could build a ladder yourself. There are tons of tutorials online to help you wrap your head around the concept. The best part of creativity is its dynamicity and for your home, a handful of DIY ideas would not hurt. The images here show creative decorations of the walls by fixing bottles and jars to the walls which when rebranded become flower pots and by extension, a nice rustic addition of an accent. Achieving this bit of rustic accent requires a handful of tools, a little bit of ingenuity as well as the desire to transform your home with standout attributes. Give your home the country feel it deserves and watch as both your DIY crafted candle lanterns and the rest of your DIY crafted projects glow. If you are looking to add a touch of country panache into your home, then perhaps you want to bring your DIY craft creative ideas to life with these handmade racks and shelves. Chances are that the furniture company mass produces the same type of bookshelf for the mainstream market; with your DIY projects and creative ideas brought to life, your shelf would hold a unique space and class of its own. Why go for the same cloth hanger found in every home out there when you could simply craft your own and provide a unique addition to your home. All that is required to craft this accent is a few nails, measurements and of course some wood you probably wanted to discard. Most suitable for holiday periods like Christmas and thanksgiving, this beautiful handmade accent is relatively easy to put together. The materials needed to make these candle holders are: Glass, candles, twigs, paint, Hot Glue Gun and glue. Break off twigs into three piles of 2. From ultra-modern to Scandinavian and even vintage homes have headerboards in their bedroom. Create your own unique wood headerboard and provide a touch of elegance and warmth to your room. As with several other rustic accents, this rebrand is cost effective and easily achievable. With DIY cabinets, all you need is a handful of materials predominantly wood which can be gotten from a dumpster or from a home undergoing refurbishment, a little bit of expertise is also required but video tutorials can also come in handy. This means you simply create everything to suite your style and ideas. Tons of video tutorials online are available to guide your path. As with most handmade accents, it is pretty easy given the right mindset. The goal with DIY projects is to achieve a look that is totally unique to your homes design. This shelf can be used to display your beautiful pottery in classic museum style. With a variety of colors and patterns, this table provides an elegance that only rustic accents can. Components are easily sourced as this craft is made of reclaimed wood. The design starts with a regular pallet which is cut in half lengthwise using a jigsaw, thus leaving just the center board. A handful of basic carpentry processes follow which are no different from regular DIY table carpentry videos found on the internet. The creative experience to be attained in the course of creating this pallet table is quite unmatched by simply walking into a store to make a purchase. Quite easy to create using old unused boxes and pallets; simply paint whatever color you find suiting then add some wheels and you have a unique handmade coffee table.
