Cast your vote here: John Carney For over 50 years, people have found comfort in the fact that there has been a Carney on the radiowaves. Broadcasting was not anything John Carney wanted to do as a kid, or even through high school. As a professional defiant, young John knew what he had to do. That first gig lasted only three months, but John says it was still a positive experience. He had his first crack at major market radio in St. From there Carney had radio stints throughout the Midwest co-hosting a classic rock morning zoo. Even though he continued to hone his craft outside of the Gateway city, he never gave up hope of returning to St. Opportunity knocked again in in the form of a big band jock spot at WEW. After four years of spinning Kay Starr and Woody Hermann records, John became restless and found his way back into talk radio. His 9 to noon slot quickly gained notoriety with frequent stops to the studio by the famous and infamous. Louis media 5 different times. In July of Carney signed on at long time powerhouse replacing the legendary Jim White. With two teenage girls and 2 boys in single digits, Carney is well on his way to staffing his own basketball team. While not generally a very excitable guy, his first loves lie in music, film, and anything to do with pop culture. Email him directly at josh. She and her brother Joe also owned J. Louisan, Julie Buck has achieved much in her life, from owning and directing marketing for the popular J. Julie has devoted much of her life to volunteer work, including an alumni member of the St. Not restricting herself to entertainment, Julie is also a successful real estate agent with Laura McCarthy.
