News & Updates. Our NEW services are here! This year we've developed a special line of sequences - the "Create Your Own Harmony" series, which allows you to choose from different configurations to "build your show" instead of using a typical canned sequence model.

Scroll down to content Home I am a natural therapeutics practitioner helping people to achieve physical and mental balance and health. Through working with the body and energy, both physical and more subtle blockages can be removed, which allows for a more comfortable body and mind and restores balance and harmony to the being. It is a gentle yet deep, sophisticated yet simple model for addressing issues in both the gross anatomy of the physical body and the subtle anatomy of the energetic bodies. Core Synchronism Core synchronism, with roots in cranio-osteopathy and polarity therapy, views pain as the result of a body part mental, emotional, etheric, physical being out of synch with the core current and cerebral spinal fluid. By clearing physical and more subtle blockages, the results are a more comfortable body and mind. The recipient of a Core Synchronism treatment lies fully clothed. Through light touch, the skilled practitioner feels the subtle mechanical movements of bones, muscles, organs, and structures and makes adjustments that synch them to the core current and cerebrospinal fluid, thus establishing balanced, harmonious movement. Many people find a Core Synchronism session to be deeply relaxing, while fostering a sense of ease and well being. Core can help a person to feel better in body and mind, which is deepened over the course of a series of treatments. About David is an expert Core Synchronism practitioner and has assistant-taught class with its founder in New Mexico. A long time meditator and student of Buddhism, David has spent nearly 10 years in Nepal, India and Tibet. He currently lives in Park Slope and straddles the worlds of technology and healing. He is conversationally fluent in Tibetan, Mandarin, and Nepali. I have been taken to deep recesses of my subconscious that have inspired me to explore my creative outlets. David creates a kind and caring space in which to work through the deep effects of his treatments. After our session, words were hard to find, but I easily felt myself renewed, refreshed and more at ease. Mary Remington I had been struggling for over a year with feeling like my skeletal structure was completely out of wack. Not only was there a lot of pain, but I felt crippled and moved with great difficulty. After only one session with David I experienced a breakthrough both emotionally and physically. Four days later I was hiking and moved with greater flexibility and ease. I feel like my old energetic self again!
