In "Medical Word Sudoku", Ayan Panja has woven a classic anagram puzzle into a Sudoku, the tag being that each anagram is a medical word. Of course, for a Sudoku to work, each word must have exactly nine letters, and each of the nine letters must occur only once.

No hints available When a hint is requested, the solver uses a set of solving techniques to find the next step to solve the puzzle. For most puzzles a hint can be provided, however for some extremely difficult puzzles the solver will not be able to provide a hint and will return the message "No Hints Available". This does not mean that the puzzle cannot be solved logically, it means that the limitations of the solver have been reached. No solution The solver returns this message when there is no solution for a puzzle. This can be due to an incorrectly specified cell value or an invalid candidate. Please recheck your input, clear your candidates and retry. If the solver still cannot solve the puzzle, then the puzzle is invalid. Multiple solutions Some puzzles have multiple solutions. Since puzzles with multiples solutions cannot be solved logically, they are technically invalid. It is a good idea to check if a puzzle has a unique solution using the "Check" function before starting to solve it. Please consult the FAQs above or write your question or suggestion here. If you would like a reply please specify an email address. How to use This solver offers a number of features to help you improve your solving skills and practice solving strategies.
