Review contains spoilers and strong personal opinion. The author did her research. Was it really possible to escape from German and Russian secret services?! I highly doubt it. Let be crystal honest â€” there were and unfortunately still are many countries with even darker past. The things, which happened in USSR during and after the war, were more than cruel. And how many big European countries had colonies and what happened there?! If we go centuries back, we would blame every single country for horrible damage they did. No one is perfect, no one is clean. I speak not about high level leaders, I speak about normal people, as me and you. They were born and raised into the structured society with defined behavioral patterns and inevitable future. My low rating is not only because the H was Stasi or because the story took place in East Germany. Similar scenario could fit into another setting. Sorry, but big doubt from my side. He shoot her between the eyes. Yes, she pointed a gun on him, but he could have shoot her in her shoulder, arm, leg. But he shoot her between the eyes. The heroine saw it, she literally saw it with her own eyes. She saw how a man killed her young friend. What a HEA, what a romance is even possible after this scene??? Later on, she confronted him again about her friend. And the H told her he were sorry. And this weak and pathetic woman even pitied him a bit and spent hours having sex with him after he said he were sorry to shoot her friend between the eyes! For a woman, who claimed to hate Stasi, this h wetted her panties like a pro. And the h accepted his excuse and fell in love with him. To each his own. Their getaway was implausible. He dealt with paintings confiscated from Jewish families by the Reich.

I thought I understood the consequences of trying to flee to the West. He wants to possess me, body, soul and heart. I am so in love!! This is such an amazing Historical Romance! I loved the history aspect of this story it was so good and so interesting!! This story is truly wonderful. I was hooked from the first line!! I read it until I fell asleep then as soon as I woke up I was reading this book!!! It was so so so wonderful!!! This took a turn I was not expecting and I Freaking love it!!! I have so much highlighted in this book! Evony is such a strong character! She never backs down from what she believes in! Volker is so dreamy!! They way he is with her is so wonderful!! I love the slow burn factor!! No she fights him and ends up fighting her feelings for him but she slowly falls for him in the end. This book is really HOT! Oh my gosh that first kiss was everything!! I have never been more excited for a first kiss. This story is so wonderful!! He calls her Darling in German and I freaking love it so much!! I Love it so much!! You walk in at his side. Brianna lives in London.
