View your shopping cart. Books are arranged roughly by "listening level," the age at which a child would be interested in hearing the book read aloud, rather than by "reading level". Note that the grade groups overlap; if you are unfamiliar with the United States school system, Grade One means age , Grade Two, age , etc. Despite the age grading, the books on this list can be read and loved by a child, or adult, of any age. Some older nonfiction is collectible for adults, but of little interest to children. Almost all of these books can be borrowed ordered through a public library system or purchased as reprints, but many of them are extremely rare in early edition and nice condition, too rare and expensive for daily use. Papers, printing methods, and inks have changed over the years and modern reproductions usually pale beside the originals. Consider searching for earlier printings in poor condition and mending them for use by your children. We try to indicate the colour quality of our reprints in the comments: Some picture books are really meant for adults to read aloud and are much too difficult for Primary readers. A copy of the entire list appears below, so that you can print it out all 12 pages. Look on the menu to the left to open the different sections. A Is For Annabelle: Gleeson, individual stories illustrated by Rojankovsky. Rey The Sneetches, Thidwick and others by Dr. Some of the older books, like Mr. Adventures Among the Kitchen People by Fryer. Brothers Grimm, one with the best Arthur Rackham illustrations possible. For illustrators of particular Grimm stories: Incan Heritage Hitty by Rachel Field. Fifth through Eighth Grade Some of these would be classified as "Young Adult", some not, but they are all content, rather than adolescent-relationship, oriented.

Kittens, puppies, chicks and foals, Chicks and foals, chicks and foals. Kittens, puppies, chicks and foals, I can name some more. Goslings, ducklings, lambs and calves, Lambs and calves, lambs and calves. Goslings, ducklings, lambs and calves, I like baby animals. Just like soft ki-ttens. Just like sweet pu-uppies. Just like green tu-urtles. Or any kind of animal! I know that kids just like to look at the pictures!!! Lay the cup on its side with the hole downward. Use construction paper scraps and markers to add dog features to the cup; make the bottom of the cup the nose of the puppet. Put the puppet on a finger and use it to tell a story or sing a song. Theme Ideas Animal Babies Collect pictures of animals and their young. Place the adult animal pictures in one basket and pictures of the baby animals in another basket. The children can match adult animals to their offspring. Select one child to be the mother or father farm animal. The best animals to choose would be sheep, chickens, or cows. Take the mother farm animal to a remote corner of the room and have the animal hide its eyes. Choose one or two of the remaining children to be the babies. All of the children must cover their mouths, as the mother returns to find her babies. The children chosen to be the babies make tiny baas or peeps or moos. The mother or father must listen very carefully to find the babies.
