Good things come to those who pursue the goals and dreams they believe in.. Monday is the first day in week, which is also why its the most laziest days in the week. Beautiful Monday Morning Quotes Monday is like a math problem. Add the irritation, subtract the sleep, multiply the problems, divide the happiness. If, after two cold and rainy days become warmer, and the sun shines brightly – is likely to come Monday. Accordingly a genius is often merely a talented person who has done all of his or her homework. Waking up to a new Monday is a gift, appreciate it and do remember you are loved. If Mondays are hard, perhaps, you need to do a second thinking. Wake up on monday and start your day with a lot of awesomeness and you will get happiness back. Neither fire nor wind, birth nor death can erase our good deeds. It is the day where the slate from the previous week is wiped clean. It is a day of new beginnings. David Dweck Every Monday you wake up is a day to make a change. You get self-satisfaction from pushing your self to the limit, knowing that all the effort is going to pay off. Have a great day and God Bless. Allen Smith Today I begin new life. I will greet this Monday with love in my heart. We will never be friends – but maybe we can move past our mutual enmity toward a more-positive partnership. Always remember, you have within you the strength, the patience, and the passion to reach for the stars to change the world. I will greet this day with love in my heart. Take the reason of the thing into your mind, and then look forward. Mistakes are lessons of wisdom. The past cannot be changed. The future is yet in your power. Expect to have to do a lot of hard hammering and chiseling and scraping and polishing. Forbes Nothing will work unless you do. The greatest mistake you can make in life is to be continually fearing that you will make one. Live noble lives, as you all may, in whatever condition you may find yourselves. That is the recipe. It will not always get you to the top, but should get you pretty near. Good morning and have a splendid day. Every obstacle yields to stern resolve. He who is fixed to a star does not change his mind. The key is to keep working the engines. Know that something good will always happen. God is going to do amazing things this week. Full effort is full victory. Excellence, then, is not an act but a habit. Get a new perspective. Monday is the day that opens up the week for many opportunities. Narayan If you start your Monday thinking it will be a good day, it will become a good day. What separates the talented individual from the successful one is a lot of hard work. Have a Great day!

4: + Beautiful Monday Morning Quotes to Start Happy

Happy Monday Wishes Sms. Monday is a starting day of any Office work. Be ready for Monday and as well Work for whole week. Monday is here to say all of us hey.

One March morning, children entering a fourth grade classroom take turns gathering at a chart on which their teacher has written a message just for them: March 7, Dear Invertebrate Investigators, Yesterday we continued our studies about invertebrates, and we put two types of food in our worm farm. Recall what you know about worms as we make new observations today. How do you think the contents of the worm farm will have changed since yesterday? Some children softly read the words aloud; others read silently. They chat about their predictions and take turns writing them in the space at the bottom of the chart. When they finish, they move on to another morning activity and a new group of students moves in. A daily message, written by the teacher for the class and highlighting one aspect of the learning day ahead, is a simple but highly effective technique for welcoming students into the classroom, setting the tone for the day, and reinforcing academic skills. Teachers in a wide range of K-6 classroom settings use daily messages in various ways. When kindergarten teacher Deborah Porter uses a relatively new vocabulary word geometry, she emphasizes it visually and includes a reminder about its definition in the text. In responding to this message, the children drew squares, ovals, circles, triangles, stars, and a heart. The task generated enthusiasm for a new unit of study about shapes. In classes that use the Responsive Classroom approach, morning messages play an important role in the last segment of Morning Meeting, when the class reads and works with the message together before moving into the rest of their day. The message is also often integrated into activities and lessons later on in the day. Students look forward to seeing and discussing them each morning. Teachers rely on them to launch their day of teaching. In the book Morning Meeting Messages, K-6: Here we give just a few sample tips on how to create purposeful morning messages for your students. Write a message every day before students arrive. Use an easel stand and chart paper, if possible. Sturdy and easily moveable, an easel stand holding the message chart can be placed to welcome the children as they enter the room, re-positioned in the morning meeting circle, and then moved to a spot where students can continue reading or writing on the chart during the day. Another advantage of using chart paper is that messages can easily be saved for later use or review. Include these essential elements: Come and read it! This may be written at the top of the page or as part of a sentence: This message helps students connect literature study with personal experience in a simple, effective way. Focus on a single topic. This is a key to crafting messages that engage students. Message topics can be derived from curriculum units, classroom issues and interests, or events in the news. Use examples for inspiration, but make your messages unique. Try these tips for making writing messages easier: Use a weekly schedule. Make notes or a draft the day before. Planning ahead cuts down on the stress of trying to think and write under pressure. Speaking directly to the class on topics they care about is usually the best way to get their interest. Seeing an attractive and interesting message waiting for them at the beginning of the day lets children know that their teacher has thought about the day ahead and welcomes them to it. The message helps children make the daily shift from home to the classroom community. Set a positive tone for the day. The message excites the children about their academic day. It conveys that the classroom is a fun, safe place for learning and working hard, lets students start the day feeling competent, and shows them that their teacher believes in them and their abilities. Reinforce literacy and other academic skills. Morning messages give children daily practice in functional reading. For new readers, messages with predictable patterns and easy sight words build confidence. For more fluent readers, messages offer daily practice in reading harder words and sentences. Messages can focus on topics from math, writing, science, social studies, or literature studies. Encourage a sense of community. A carefully crafted message builds community. It provides a context for acknowledging group accomplishments and challenges and can be used to prompt group thinking, planning, and reflection. Send students into the day ready to learn. Reading and discussing a message that stems from classroom life and studies helps students make the transition into the school day with learning in mind. ### 6: Good Morning Messages, Good Morning, SMS, MSG & Wishes | Dgreetings

Positive Messages for Monday Mornings great words of wisdom so true about Mondays, each day should be treated with positive thoughts. Thank God we are up to start each day with a smile well done on a beautifully thought of hub.

As with any teacher, motivational speaker, or author the message is along the same lines that we hear all the time, but it is the one that we connect with who impacts us and causes us to take action towards living the life we dream of. We all need a mentor, teacher or cheerleader to help us get to that next level. Your presence is a present to the world. Your life can be what you want it to be. Take the days just one at a time. Count your blessings, not your troubles. Within you are so many answers. Understand, have courage, be strong. So many dreams are waiting to be realized. Decisions are too important to leave to chance. Reach for your peak, your goal, your prize. Nothing wastes more energy than worrying. The longer one carries a problem, the heavier it gets. Live a life of serenity, not a life of regrets. Remember that a little love goes a long way! Remember that a lot goes forever. Remember that friendship is a wise investment. Do ordinary things in an extraordinary way. Have health and hope and happiness. Take time to wish upon a star. Be open to criticism and keep learning. Surround yourself with happy, warm and genuine people. See the positive possibilities. Redirect the substantial energy of your frustration and turn it into positive, effective, unstoppable determination.

Religion is something that comes with imposing or enforcing. Its a man made, set of rules and rituals that can be devoid of true meaning, effectiveness and doesn't cover every situation, every circumstance, every individual.

Monday is the most popular sick day. Professor Cary Cooper, an occupational health psychologist at the University of Lancaster, states his opinion: But I suspect what is happening is people are lying about their reason for sickness. Most specifically mention Monday; all have the potential to push start Monday attitudes and performances in the right direction. Use them as prescriptions to boost the Monday morning adrenaline and maintain it for the week. The secret to your success is found in your daily agenda Do the right things every day Maxwell You want to know what living life to the fullest actually is? Weekdays get better and the weekend is the best. But I look at it a little differently. I get to work. I am blessed to have a job. It measures what you have to work with for the rest of the week. Work only on the days you feel like it, and accomplish only what you feel you can; work whenever there is work to be done, and accomplish all that you possibly can. Keep a Cool Head Monday is the key day of the week. Fire yourself on a Friday night and come in on Monday morning as if a search firm put you there as a turnaround leader. Monday is a preset thermostat lowering the desire for weekend pleasure and heightening the aspiration for weekday business. To move the world, we must first move ourselves. Mondays test your ability to refocus after the weekend distraction. Truly successful people have learned to do what does not come naturally. Anything worth having is worth striving for with all your might. Monday is an equal opportunity starting line; sprinters who pace themselves throughout the week can still be first to brace the tape on Friday. Monday religion is better than Sunday profession. Persevere Despite Changing Weather Please secure your seat belt, keep your arms and legs in at all times, and enjoy the ride. Tired of singing Monday blues? Try dancing to Monday blessings! Autumn is a second spring when every leaf is a flower. You will eat the fruit of your labor; blessings and prosperity will be yours. On Saturday, I was a surgeon in South Africa, very little known. On Monday, I was world-renowned. We can control our thoughts about Mondays and how it affects our productivity. We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence then is not an act, but a habit. One-half of knowing what you want is knowing what you must give up before you get it. Always remember that striving and struggle precede success, even in the dictionary. Without it, there could be no Monday night football. I must break the routines and become a person who becomes productive every Monday. I must break the mindset of unhappiness and turn myself into a happy magnet for Mondays. Cold Days, Warm Dispositions Monday is a great day for becoming too busy to die. We need Mondays hours to make up the count for the paycheck and the benefits. Persistence and determination alone are omnipotent. Federal holidays are celebrated on Mondays than on any other day; just another reason to love Mondays. Laughter is the sun that drives winter from the human face. The sanctity of prayer is needed to impregnate business. We need the spirit of Sunday carried over to Monday This cannot be done by prayerless men, but by men of prayer. You will find as you look back upon your life that the moments when you have really lived are the moments when you have done things in the spirit of love. The habit of waking up with a spirit of gratitude every morning will take care of our attitude on Monday mornings. Experience is not what happens to you. Experience is what you do with what happens to you. Life is not simply holding a good hand. Life is playing a poor hand well. Let perseverance finish its work so that you may be mature and complete, not lacking anything. There should be a holiday dedicated to all the brave people who show up to work on Mondays. Monday is just a reminder that the weekend has past and there are only a few more days before another weekend gets here.

Regular Registration ends on July 10th. Athletes must be homeschooling or attending a Rule 13 school and be in grade 8. Participation is limited to eight years. Practices are in the morning, generally between 9:00 and 11:00. This summer we are putting our reserve to good use by purchasing new uniforms for our High School Volleyball Teams and by adding a new Basketball Camp. We know that the form can be confusing, but rest assured, we are only asking you to indicate your top three preferences. Each family is only required to do one small job per season as well serving at nationals. Think of it as just another option for your family. As a Christian organization, we understand that your word is your bond. As a homeschool organization, we also understand that life happens. Survey Season We want to know what you think. Be on the lookout for an email with a link to a short survey. Let your voice be heard. Tell the board what you think. I find it so comforting to know that He died for me. You and I sin daily, but as long as each person believes in Jesus Christ and the gospel we can have eternal life! Today is the day because we are not guaranteed tomorrow. Warm ups start at 6 PM We have 2 seniors this year! Come out and honor them as we invite our Warrior alumni to play against our current varsity! The seniors will be honored at 6:00 We would love to have as many Warriors as possible attend this event! PAL Tournament According to the website both teams got really good seedings for the tournament which is super exciting! Can you believe it? Volleyball season is coming to an end! We are in our last 2 weeks of the season for all teams! A fun Warrior tradition is to come wearing crazy clothes and crazy hair! Warrior Week Replay Varsity played a very hard fought match against Lincoln Tuesday night but lost in 4 in a best out of 5 match. They then got 2nd place at the Lightning tournament.. It was good volleyball all day long! JV played in Lincoln as well and won after an unexpected injury in the first set! They also played in the Lightning tournament where they got 3rd. It was a trying day injuries and sickness for the girls but they pushed through with great joy! Way to stand strong in the midst of hardship, ladies! They played Tuesday night and Saturday. Saturday they were able to get a win which hopefully will give them a good seed in their tournament! They continue to work hard and will be preparing for their tournament this week! She said that all of you did a great job doing both of these things! What a great season! We are trying something new to Warriors this year! We are hoping this will allow for a shorter sports banquet! If you would rather put your pictures on a flash drive or a CD, you can do that too.

9: Happy Monday Quotes, Images, Wishes, Messages

Nate's Monday Morning Message. Welcome to this edition of Nate's Monday Morning Message. I have had the pleasure of hearing this speaker on several occasions, including this last week at the annual RE/MAX Convention.

Rachel Carter 0 Comments Good Day Folks, As ever I hope that this message finds you in fine form, fetlock and fettle and that you had an excellent weekend wherever you were and whatever you were doing. RoC took itself to the forts and ran an Egarian weekend in the Lost City of Bulceephar, absolutely loved it all and, again, in my opinion we just keep getting better. It is wonderful to have you here and despite being brand new, in some cases to larping, you fit in like you had been here forever. Great to have you. Last year I said that the 10 day event marked a change to the way that we ran a lot of our events and post that, with some personnel changes for the better, the Tharinos and now the city of Bulceephar have changed the look and feel of the Forts and the general attitude of the system to the weekend events in the woods has been excellent. To come to the forts after three family deaths, just in my experience, let alone what happened to other people around me and run the event that we did seemed to be more than challenging. Was there a need for hands on refs this weekend? If this keeps up we will actually completely cover the parade ground, which would be pretty wicked and we already have a lot of plans for the next one. This weekend I named several people as my refs for this weekend and it is with them that I will start of the thanks: On top of that they also set up the fort, organised the event and made sure it all happened on site. They were in no particular order. Outside of the crew special thanks really need to go to all the people that helped out in the background to make this happen as well. Also I may have been there. It is hard to say. Especially the players who could have spent more time upstairs drinking and chilling in character. So my favourite bits: Frankly there were too many to name. The fact that it was all so big that Thursday felt like an event years ago come Saturday was aces. The levels of kit and the dressing that went on. The levels of prep and professionalism of the people that I was working with, these things were all excellent and the game stuff just happened seamlessly around them. If you are along next weekend it looks like we are just doing the Saturday seeing as everyone is probably going to be knackered! Take Care of Each Other S.
