Set the camera AF to manual, and the focus ring to " m" by rotating it. Start up the inspection and adjustment software for D60 (J), and select "Inspection and Adjustment for AE CCD POSITION" then "Set Camera for AE CCD POSITION".

Back Of The Camera The dial on the top of the camera is used to select the exposure mode. In the middle is the accessory shoe where an external flash unit can be attached. The D60 comes with a protective cover over the shoe. To remove it, slide the cover toward the back of the camera. Menu button for viewing the menus. Thumbnail button for viewing images as thumbnails and making images smaller during playback. Also accesses the Help information about various camera settings and functions. Zoom button for making images larger during playback. Not so on the D60! When you turn the camera to the vertical orientation the shooting information display automatically rotates as well. Then this is the section for you! It covers everything from charging the battery and inserting the memory card to composing and reviewing images. Attaching A Lens Make sure the camera is off before inserting the memory card. The card slot is located on the right side of the camera when looking at the camera from the back. Open the cover to the memory card slot by pressing and sliding the cover toward the back of the camera. Page 18 OK button when done. Whenever you want to erase all the photos on the memory card you must format it again. Press the button, then use the multi selector to move through the menus. Page 20 How to Get Good Photos Out of the Camera in 5 Minutes This section goes through the steps to get your D60 set up as quickly as possible to start taking good pictures. The other settings and options available will be described in detail later in the book. Use up and down on the multi selector to move to the different options on the monitor. This is setting Large as the size of the image file. Place your thumb near the dial at the top right on the back of the camera. The index finger on your right hand is used to push the shutter release button, turn the camera on and off, and use nearby buttons. If you pressed the delete button by mistake, press to cancel.
