Customs and Border Protection Agent Duane Tedesco, who is a pilot assigned to the Air and Marine Operations Division, was conducting a surveillance mission during the night hours. The Copilot was in the back of the aircraft conducting surveillance when the aircraft experienced total engine failure. Agent Tedesco immediately declared an emergency and told his Copilot to strap in the back seat. Agent Tedesco contacted the Air Traffic Controller and requested the coordinates for the nearest airport. Agent Tedesco attempted to glide the plane with no engine to Pittsfield Municipal Airport, however, after gliding approximately seven miles he informed the Copilot to brace for impact. Unfortunately, with no engine and additional modifications for surveillance the plane could not reach the airport. Agent Tedesco knew he was going to crash. Agent Tedesco only had his flight instruments to tell his speed, direction and distance as the plane plunged into the dark of the night. At approximately feet Agent Tedesco observed a row of massive trees. Agent Tedesco has dedicated his life to the service of our country. Agent Tedesco was selected for a special position as a Community Police Officer and advanced to the position of Sergeant. After 10 years of Police service, Agent Tedesco continued to service with U. Agent Tedesco suffered severe eye and facial injuries. Agent Tedesco was airlifted to Boston for emergency eye surgery. The surgeon informed Agent Tedesco that he will need at least five surgeries over the next year and will never have normal vision. Agent Tedesco has a wife and two young children. Agent Tedesco is the sole provider for his family and this tragic accident will directly impact his family emotionally and financially. Agent Tedesco is stationed in Peru New York and his wife will have to transport him frequently to Boston over the next year for medical treatment. Agent Tedesco and his family are in need of our moral, spiritual and financial support. Any donation, large or small, would be greatly appreciated. Donation Options Send check by mail to:
