These practice exams display well on mobile devices so you can practice anywhere. The actual PMP examination is a question, multiple-choice test. You will have four hours to complete it and the questions range in difficulty from seemingly easy to the rather complex. After that, the next best step is taking practice exams. How It Works When you launch an exam below, a new window will open. For each test, choose the one best answer for every question. Your score and the correct answers will be presented at the end of each practice exam. If you take all four exams in one sitting, consider keeping each window open until you are done. This will allow you to review all of your answers at one time. They are designed to help you prepare for the exam and have a good test experience. Best wishes for great success! Allow four hours to complete this exam. The topics include an overview of project management and project scope management. The topics cover project scope management and project time management. The questions primarily concern project time management. If you are timing yourself, allow 30 minutes. Launch Now Mini Exam 4 This question PMP practice test covers project time, cost, quality, human resources, communications, risk, procurement, and stakeholder management. Some people prefer to take a course and others prefer to go it alone. Depending on your level of self-discipline and your learning style, either method can work. If you are taking a course, follow the schedule. If you are studying alone, when you plan your study schedule, allow a of couple months or longer. The amount of time you need depends on the amount of time you will study each day. If you are studying alone, a common way to lose focus is to work with too many study materials. This can send you back and forth through the materials instead of all the way through the full body of knowledge. Register for the exam and read the test center rules and regulations. They can vary from center to center. Know what to bring to the test center and place it all in once place the night before the exam. The night before the exam, eat well and get plenty of rest. Consider setting out your clothes for the morning. Since temperatures at the test center may vary, consider dressing in layers. On test day, plan to arrive early. Allow plenty of time for unexpected traffic delays and parking problems. When the test begins, you will have four hours to complete it. This is considerably more time than most people need. Take a breath, relax, and begin your brain dump. Take your time and get the brain dump right. When you finish early, review your answers. If you are uncertain on some, see if other questions help answer it. If you are still uncertain, stick with your first response and move on. If you find them useful, please share them with others.
