Select the location as Desktop, and then click Save. Read the license agreement, and click Accept. Norton Power Eraser checks for and downloads the new version if available. By default, Norton Power Eraser performs a Rootkit scan and requires a system restart. When you see a prompt to restart the computer, click Restart. If you do not want to include the Rootkit scan, go to Settings, and uncheck the option Include Rootkit scan requires a computer restart. Wait for the scan to complete. Fix the risks When Norton Power Eraser completes the scan, it displays the scan results. The items that Norton Power Eraser considers as risks, display the status as Bad and recommended action as Remove. The items that require further review display the status as Unknown. Depending on your situation, do one of the following: If you see any files that are listed as Bad, the Remove check box under Action is checked automatically. It is recommended to remove these files. If you see any files that are listed as Unknown, for each of these files, click the cloud icon next to it. It sends the file to a Symantec server and scans it using the traditional signature-based detection engines. If the Cloud Scan result shows Bad for any file, click the Remove check box. The file may not be a threat, and needs further analysis. Make sure that Create System Restore Point before proceeding with fix check box is selected. If you are asked to restart the computer to complete the removal, click Restart Now. After successful removal of the risk, click Done.

Here are links to some Word specific trouble shooting tips. Try to generalize them to work with PowerPoint. Trouble Shoot Word problems that occur when you start or use Word , , , or http: Disabling BlueTooth is rapidly moving to the top of my Office trouble shooting process. If you have BlueTooth, disable it in control panel, device manager and possibly as an addin in Office apps. The problem is with the people writing the drivers. This has been co-incident a browser problem that causes the same problem. Simply closing all open browsers sometimes fixes the symptom. Other times Skype has to be uninstalled. I only needed to disable the Bluetooth add-in on Options. I have no idea why that would have been the problem, but I found it as a suggested fix here. Now every single thing opens quickly and without error. Thanks for all your help everyone. My Office was a Click-to-Run version Word suddenly giving me messages about "Downloading the Required Feature," freezing up, slowing down Everything seems to be back to normal, if not better than before. It is Skype click to call. If you want to verify quickly: Start Firefox in safe mode disables all add ons 3. Try paste special in Excel problem will NOT be there. In firefox disable Skype click to call 9 restart firefox Try paste special and it should work right. It turned out the culprit for me was Skype. Just install it bare bones and it seems to work. You may even find some settings that you want to try that have nothing to do with the current problem. When I was teaching Word and other Microsoft Office programs at a private business college, I had three rules: Always check Tools Options 2. When in doubt, right-click on something 3. The placement officer of the school came to me several times and asked how I thought she should set something up. What to do When Word Crashes http: One was having trouble getting Internet Explorer to run; the other, Windows Explorer. That should not happen. Usually, for situations like these, I recommend an end-run around the problem. Install Firefox or Chrome and use that instead. Switch to any number of even better Windows Explorer replacements. To start, I recommend switching to or creating another user account, then seeing if Explorer runs properly. If not, well, back to square one. And that will help considerably as you Google-search for an actual fix assuming there is one--sometimes these things can be resolved only by reinstalling Windows.
