Whether you are a public school, private school, or homeschool family, a great way to start the school year is to pray for teachers, students, and schools. Our classrooms need our prayers! If you need a little inspiration for how to pray for teachers, students, and schools, here are three of my favorite ways to do it: Jericho-style prayer walk around the school No marching needed, but head out to the school grounds and pray while walking around the school! Go with a list of seven different areas to pray for and pray for one each time you walk around, or go without a plan and let God lead your prayers. And if you homeschool, you can do this around the perimeter of your home. For inspiration, watch this video of pastor Mark Batterson talk about his prayer walk around Washington D. Pray through the school My last year of teaching, I had the privilege of walking through the elementary school where I worked along with some parents from the community during the week before school started and pray over each classroom. We received permission from the administration to do this after work hours and it was amazing. We prayed for each teacher by name and prayed over common areas such as the lunch room, gym, and playground as well. This can be done throughout the home for homeschoolers. And ask someone to pray for YOU as the teacher in that case, too! Pray for teachers and students with Scriptures 5 Bibles verses There are so many areas where this could be applied, but here are five examples of scriptures for teachers: In your teaching show integrity, seriousness and soundness of speech that cannot be condemned, so that those who oppose you may be ashamed because they have nothing bad to say about us. Keep them on notecards in the car with you to pray while you wait in line to pick up your kids after school. Pray for Teachers and Students Sample Prayer 1 Lord, I pray the students in this school would show proper respect for the authorities you have placed over them and recognize all authority comes from you. Help them to speak and act in a way that is respectful of all teachers, administrators, and other school staff. Inspired by Romans We will not stop praying until their righteousness shines like the dawn, and their salvation blazes like a burning torch. How can we engage in spiritual warfare on their behalf and pray for all the social and academic challenges they will face? Leave a comment on our blog. Helpful Prayer Resources for Parents P.

How do you pray? How do you address God? What is your posture? What is your attitude? How do you approach God? What do you say when you pray? Many Christians are not comfortable praying. What do our prayers tell us about God? In my recent study of the Old Testament, I learned five new things about prayer. Prayer was sometimes initiated by God. For example, God asked a pagan king to ask Abraham to pray for him Genesis Prayer was not always practiced by the righteous or favored ones. God had a longer conversation with Cain before and after he killed his brother than with Abel who was favored by God Genesis 4: God initiated prayer with pagan leaders, not godly leaders Genesis Women prayed directly to God in an era when women were not chosen to be priests and considered unclean I Samuel 2: Eventually three kinds of prayer emerged in the early pages of Scripture distinguished by three different Hebrew words: Some prayers contain a combination. Abraham told him God would send his angel to help. He prayed a-mar or spoke a prayer which was also a request: See, I am standing beside this spring, and the daughters of the townspeople are coming out to draw water. Isaac asked God to give Rebekah children; a prayer of request. Rebekah asked God a question which God answered: During her pregnancy, she felt the babies jostle with each other within her. Isaac and Rebekah had twins they named Esau and Jacob. After Jacob tricked Esau and his father, he fled in fear. After many years, Jacob decided to reconcile with his brother and he prayed a-mar or speaks this prayer: I had only my staff when I crossed this Jordan, but now I have become two camps. Save me, I pray entreat, beg , from the hand of my brother Esau, for I am afraid he will come and attack me, and also the mothers with their children. Though most of Genesis was about the life of Jacob and his twelve sons, God spoke to people inside and outside their family in dreams and visions Genesis After years of captivity, God spoke directly to Moses in the burning bush and revealed his name and his character. After gaining his trust, God asked Moses to lead his people out of Egypt. Each time the Pharaoh refused to let the people go, God sent a plague. Moses allows the Pharaoh to set the time. Pharaoh asked Moses to pray against the flies Exodus 8: Each time, Pharaoh admits his sin and begs Moses to pray for him and each time he reneged on his promise to let them go. After the Israelites left Egypt, they wandered in the wilderness for 40 years. During that time, they complained about their hardships and the fire of the LORD burned among them. When they cried out to Moses, Moses prayed pa-lal , interceding for his people, and the fire died down Numbers When the Israelites spoke against God and against Moses claiming they had no bread or water, God sent venomous snakes to bite the people and many of them died. Moses described how and why he prayed: You had turned aside quickly from the way that the LORD had commanded you. So I took the two tablets and threw them out of my hands, breaking them to pieces before your eyes. I feared the anger and wrath of the LORD, for he was angry enough with you to destroy you. But again the LORD listened to me. Also I took that sinful thing of yours, the calf you had made, and burned it in the fire. The angel said his name was beyond understanding Judges His wife reassured him they would live. Their baby was raised a Nazarite, but Samson was not so pure. Yet, Samson prayed qu-ra: She was the wife of Elkanah who had two wives. Though Hannah was loved by her husband, her inability to have children caused her great distress. However her attitude is not bitter nor prideful. She does not expect God to do her bidding. In her deep anguish, she makes a vow: After making a vow, she kept praying silently in her heart. If she was silent, who wrote her prayer on the pages of Scripture? If her prayer was not heard by anyone but God, did she pen the words herself or did she recite the prayer later to her son, Samuel? She wrote this psalm before David was even born. This is her psalm, her tribute to the LORD she knows quite well: My mouth boasts over my enemies, for I delight in your deliverance. Do not keep talking so proudly or let your mouth speak such arrogance, for the LORD is a God who knows, and by him deeds are weighed. The bows of the warriors are broken, but those who stumbled are armed with strength. Those who were full hire themselves out for food, but those who were hungry are hungry no more. She who was barren has borne seven children, but she who has had many sons pines away. The LORD brings death and makes alive; he brings down to the grave and raises up. The LORD sends poverty and wealth; he humbles and he exalts. He raises the poor from the dust and lifts the needy from the ash heap; he seats them with princes and has them inherit a throne of honor. He will guard the feet of his faithful servants, but the wicked will be silenced in the place of darkness. It is not by strength that one prevails; those who oppose the LORD will be broken. He will give strength to his king and exalt the horn of his anointed. Hannah is familiar with the song of Moses: Who is like youâ€”majestic in holiness, awesome in glory, working wonders? David described the indescribable God with the same metaphor: And who is the Rock except our God? King David uses her very words: God reveals himself to Hannah in a very personal way, a way only a woman would know: Hannah also believes the LORD has resurrection power! He settles the childless woman in her home as a happy mother of children. David expands on her theology stating God is the Most High judge who dispenses true justice to an unjust world: David believed along with Hannah that the perfect One overrides imperfect justice missed by flawed human beings: Most importantly, Hannah prophesies about the future King of Israel before there were any kings: Hannah did not intercede for anyone. She did not request anything from God. She did not have a conversation with God. Instead, her prayer was a theological masterpiece. Hannah may have prayed silently at Shiloh, but her prayer continues to teach people about God. The prayer she uttered over years ago was written down. Because her prayer was written down, it has been read in worship services throughout the world. Her public pronouncement is unparalleled in Scripture. The words that were inspired by the God she knew, taught future kings and inspired them to repeat her very words. Today most people petition God when they are in need. Only a few practice intercessory prayer. Fewer still hear from God in conversation. Rare is the prayer that teaches others about God. So when we pray, let us be faithful to the tradition that has been practice for millennium. Prayer reminds us that God wants a relationship with us. How do you pray and why? Are your prayers only prayers of request or complaint or do you seek to have a relationship with God? Do you desire to love the God who loves you?

4: Prayers and Thanksgivings

Each chapter takes a passage of Scripture and suggests 5 things to pray for an area of city life. Because when we pray in line with God's priorities as found in his word, our prayers are powerful and effective (James 5 v 16) – and that's a truly thrilling prospect.

And the first job each morning consists in shoving it all back; in listening to that other voice, taking that other point of view, letting that other, larger, stronger, quieter life come flowing in. Lewis He who runs from God in the morning will scarcely find Him the rest of the day. John Bunyan The fewer the words, the better the prayer. To have prayed well is to have studied well. Martin Luther In Ivan endures all the horrors of a Soviet prison camp. When lunch time arrived, the two of them went to a familiar diner for a sandwich. The father sat down on one of the stools at the counter and lifted the boy up to the seat beside him. When he finally looked up, his father asked him, "What in the world were you praying about all that time? It was a silent prayer. This brings to mind a story about another little fellow -- one who had been sent to his room because he had been bad. When we pray, remember: The love of God that wants the best for us. The wisdom of God that knows what is best for us. The power of God that can accomplish it. Men may spurn our appeals, reject our message, oppose our arguments, despise our persons -- but they are helpless against our prayers. Helen Roseveare, missionary to Zaire, told the following story. We tried to improvise an incubator to keep the infant alive, but the only hot water bottle we had was beyond repair. So we asked the children to pray for the baby and for her sister. One of the girls responded. Tomorrow will be too late because by then the baby will be dead. The children watched eagerly as we opened it. Much to their surprise, under some clothing was a hot water bottle! Early African converts to Christianity were earnest and regular in private devotions. Each one reportedly had a separate spot in the thicket where he would pour out his heart to God. Over time the paths to these places became well worn. As a result, if one of these believers began to neglect prayer, it was soon apparent to the others. They would kindly remind the negligent one, "Brother, the grass grows on your path. God can pick sense out of a confused prayer. Richard Sibbes "There is nothing that makes us love a man so much as prayer for him. William Law If I should neglect prayer but a single day, I should lose a great deal of the fire of faith. All his thoughts are concentrated on the piece of meat. Otherwise he has no thought, wish or hope. Bounds He that cannot pray, let him go to sea, and there he will learn. God never denied that soul anything that went as far as heaven to ask for it. He began to pray, interceding earnestly for his fellowmen. He prayed for the ungodly who had thus far rejected the gospel. He pleaded in behalf of people who had been recently converted. As Knox prayed, his spirit went Home to be with the Lord. The man of whom Queen Mary had said, "I fear his prayers more than I do the armies of my enemies," ministered through prayer until the moment of his death. April 11 I had rather stand against the cannons of the wicked than against the prayers of the righteous. Thomas Lye The angel fetched Peter out of prison, but it was prayer fetched the angel. Thomas Watson Christ went more readily ad crucem to the cross , than we do to the throne of grace. Thomas Watson When thou prayest, rather let thy heart be without words than thy words without heart. John Bunyon You can do more than pray, after you have prayed, but you cannot do more than pray until you have prayed. John Bunyon Prayer will make a man cease from sin, or sin will entice a man to cease from prayer. Alfred Lord Tennyson A tale is told about a small town that had historically been "dry," but then a local businessman decided to build a tavern. A group of Christians from a local church were concerned and planned an all-night prayer meeting to ask God to intervene. It just so happened that shortly thereafter lightning struck the bar and it burned to the ground. The owner of the bar sued the church, claiming that the prayers of the congregation were responsible, but the church hired a lawyer to argue in court that they were not responsible. The presiding judge, after his initial review of the case, stated that "no matter how this case comes out, one thing is clear. The tavern owner believes in prayer and the Christians do not. Moody often had guests in their Chicago home. One evening, after a very demanding day, Moody asked a visiting Christian to lead in family devotions. The man waxed eloquent as he expounded the symbolism in a difficult chapter of the Bible. Then he prayed at great length. When the worship was over, Mrs. Moody and the guest got up from their knees, but Moody remained bowed in prayer.

The guest thought that he was praying, but Mrs. Moody soon detected that her husband was--asleep! When I cannot pray I always sing. Knowing that intercessory prayer is our mightiest weapon and the supreme call for all Christians today, I pleadingly urge our people everywhere to pray. Believing that prayer is the greatest contribution that our people can make in this critical hour, I humbly urge that we take time to pray--to really pray. Let there be prayer at sunup, at noonday, at sundown, at midnight--all through the day. Let us all pray for our children, our youth, our aged, our pastors, our homes. Let us pray for our churches. Let us pray for our nation. Let us pray for those who have never known Jesus Christ and redeeming love, for moral forces everywhere, for our national leaders. Let prayer be our passion. Let prayer be our practice. What a man is on his knees before God, that he is, and nothing more. Among those in the court of Alexander the Great was a philosopher of outstanding ability but little money. He asked Alexander for financial help and was told to draw whatever he needed from the imperial treasury. When he asked Alexander, the ruler replied, "Pay the money at once. The philosopher has done me a singular honor. By the largeness of his request he shows that he has understood both my wealth and generosity. If the request is wrong, God says, "No. During a prayer meeting, renowned Bible teacher Harry Ironside, a lecturer at the school, prayed, "Lord, you own the cattle on a thousand hills. Please sell some of those cattle to help us meet this need. The man simply said the money came from the sale of some of his cattle! Prayer is surrender--surrender to the will of God and cooperation with that will. If I throw out a boathook from the boat and catch hold of the shore and pull, do I pull the shore to me, or do I pull myself to the shore? Prayer is not pulling God to my will, but the aligning of my will to the will of God. It was stormy and they were making their climb on the sheltered side of the peak. When they reached the summit, they were filled with the exhilaration. Sir George forgot about the fierce winds, leaped up and was nearly blown over the edge to the glacier below! The guide grabbed hold of him and exclaimed: You are safe here only on your knees! Briscoe, Getting into God, p. How important is faithfulness in prayer? Wilbur Chapman often told of his experience when, as a young man, he went to become pastor of a church in Philadelphia. Two others have covenanted to join with me in prayer for you. The 3 became 10, the 10 became 20, and 20 became 50, the 50 became who met before every service to pray that the Holy Spirit might come upon me. I always went into my pulpit feeling that I would have the anointing in answer to the prayers of those who had faithfully prayed for me. It was a joy to preach! The result was that we received 1, into our church by conversion in three years, of whom were men. It was the fruit of the Holy spirit in answer to prayer! Finally, falling to his knees, he accepted Christ as his Savior. Later, his mother, who had been away, returned home. When Hudson told her the good news, she said, "I already know.
