They are greater than man in knowledge, but not omniscient 2 Samuel Good angels are more noble and holy than man Daniel 9: Good angels can take on the appearance of men when the occasion demands. On the other hand, their appearance is sometimes in dazzling white and blazing glory Matthew Like us, angels have a free will and can be tempted. Angels do not marry or reproduce Matthew Angels are a company or association, not a race descended from a common ancestor Luke The Creator gave Adam and Eve , and their descendants, the wondrous ability to reproduce—ultimately creating billions of new eternal souls. In his wisdom, the ability to reproduce was withheld from angels. They are apparently not part of our physical universe, but of a spiritual Heavenly realm. This will not destroy eternal spiritual beings, like humans or angels. God will then create a new universe—a new Earth with new heavens, at least equal to, if not greater than, His original Creation—full of beauty and wonder, and without sin or death. Are all angels good? Other angels oppose God under the leadership of Satan Matthew It is not, however, a fight between two equal and eternal forces. God who created all beings is still in charge, and once He has used wicked angels to accomplish His purposes, He will bring them to a final defeat. What is the job description of an angel? The Bible does speak about classes of angelic beings like cherubim Ezekiel 1 and seraphim Isaiah 6. ### 2: Angel Signs ~ 13 Signs Your Angels Are With You!

How to Recognize Angels In my last article I talked about the need to Commune with angels, today we'll talk about how to recognize angels in order to commune with them. Sometimes an angel will make a sudden appearance when you're going through a period of sadness, like when a close friend or relative dies and you feel distraught.

If the angel Gabriel visits you, you can be sure that God has a significant message for you. In her book Archangels Author Richard Webster writes in his book Gabriel: Communicating with the Archangel for Inspiration and Reconciliation that, Gabriel aids visions, and can also help you get glimpses of the future. If you feel trapped, locked in, or are simply in a rut, call on Gabriel to help you change and start moving ahead again. The gift of prophecy can be yours, if you ask Gabriel to help. The most usual form of communication is for thoughts and insights to come into your conscious mind. Ask Gabriel to clarify anything you do not understand. By the end of the conversation you should know exactly what to do. In their book Dreaming With the Archangels: You should awaken with a dream-world memory that contains the solution or a seed to the solution to your problem. Sometimes you will not remember having a dream at all. Yet the answer to the problem will come to your conscious awareness later in the day. For example, Christian tradition says that Gabriel is the angel in the Bible story about an angel telling Joseph in a dream that he would serve as the father of Jesus Christ on Earth. In Gabriel, Webster writes that Gabriel will give you advice in the form of dreams and visions. She will help you grow in knowledge and wisdom. Your spiritual growth and development will progress faster than ever before. Archangel Gabriel wishes to meet with you in your dream worlds tonight. Gabriel has appeared to people as both a male angel and a female angel. When meeting him, one can sense the purpose that emanates from him. The Miller-Russos quote a message that they say Archangel Gabriel gave them about that purpose: Purification of the self builds strength and opens the channels of communication between you and the beings on the higher planes. The wisdom of your guardian angel, the archangels, and your spirit guides is more easily understood and integrated by those who devote themselves to the purification of their heart and mind. Feeling Challenged When Receiving a Message People may feel challenged to take on a great responsibility when Gabriel communicates with them. Historically, the messages that Gabriel delivers often have to do with asking people to do something for God, and religious texts record that the people whom Gabriel visits have felt troubled when they ponder his message to them. There was physical and psychological stress upon Muhammad as he encountered the angel Gabriel, who gave him the words to recite. Lessons from the Life of Muhammad: The angel Gabriel appeared to him several times. The prophet was later to report that the angel sometimes appeared to him in his angelic persona and sometimes as a human being. At other times, the prophet would hear a bell-like sound and revelation would come suddenly, requiring of him such extreme concentration that he came close to asphyxiation. Mary was greatly troubled at his words and wondered what kind of greeting this might be. The angel Gabriel appears unexpectedly. Mary is troubled at hearing the greeting of the angel. Her confusion is based on both the appearance of the angel and on what the angel has said.

The angels are very happy to leave us signs of their presence, as they know that we often need to have tangible evidence to help reinforce our belief in them.

Amesha Spenta An increasing number of experts in anthropology, theology and philosophy, believe that Zoroastrianism contains the earliest distillation of prehistoric belief in angels. They individually inhabit immortal bodies that operate in the physical world to protect, guide, and inspire humanity and the spirit world. The Avesta explains the origin and nature of archangels or Amesha Spentas. Ahura Mazda also distinguished from himself six more Amesha Spentas, who, along with Spenta Mainyu, aided in the creation of the physical universe. Then he oversaw the development of sixteen lands, each imbued with a unique cultural catalyst calculated to encourage the formation of distinct human populations. The Amesha Spentas were charged with protecting these holy lands and through their emanation, also believed to align each respective population in service to God. References to angels are uncommon in Jewish literature except in later works such as the Book of Daniel, though they are mentioned briefly in the stories of Jacob who according to one interpretation wrestled with an angel and Lot who was warned by angels of the impending destruction of the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah. Daniel is the first biblical figure to refer to individual angels by name. There are no explicit references to archangels in the canonical texts of the Hebrew Bible Old Testament. In post-Biblical Judaism, certain angels came to take on a particular significance and developed unique personalities and roles. Though these archangels were believed to have ranked amongst the heavenly host, no systematic hierarchy ever developed. Metatron is considered one of the highest of the angels in Merkavah and Kabbalist mysticism and often serves as a scribe. He is briefly mentioned in the Talmud, [9] and figures prominently in Merkavah mystical texts. Michael, who serves as a warrior and advocate for Israel, [10] is looked upon particularly fondly. Gabriel is mentioned in the Book of Daniel [11] and briefly in the Talmud, [12] as well as many Merkavah mystical texts. The earliest references to archangels are in the literature of the intertestamental periods. The New Testament makes several references to angels, but uses the word "archangel" only twice, at Thessalonians 4: Gabriel Michael Raphael These three are commemorated together liturgically on Sept. Formerly they each had their own feast see individual articles. The last-named of these identifies himself in Tobit Beneath the mandorla of Christ- Immanuel God is with us are representations of Cherubim blue and Seraphim red. Eastern Orthodox Tradition mentions "thousands of archangels"; [16] however, only seven archangels are venerated by name. In addition, every Monday throughout the year is dedicated to the Angels, with special mention being made in the church hymns of Michael and Gabriel. In Orthodox iconography, each angel has a symbolic representation: At the top of the spear, there is a linen ribbon with a red cross. The Archangel Michael is especially considered to be the Guardian of the Orthodox Faith and a fighter against heresies. Gabriel means "God is my strength" or "Might of God". He is the herald of the mysteries of God, especially the Incarnation of God and all other mysteries related to it. He is depicted as follows: In his right hand, he holds a lantern with a lighted taper inside, and in his left hand, a mirror of green jasper. The mirror signifies the wisdom of God as a hidden mystery. Raphael means "It is God who heals" or "God Heals". He is depicted holding a sword against the Persians in his right hand, and a flame in his left. Sealtiel means "Intercessor of God". He is depicted with his face and eyes lowered, holding his hands on his bosom in prayer. Jegudiel means "Glorifier of God". He is depicted bearing a golden wreath in his right hand and a triple-thonged whip in his left hand. Barachiel means "Blessed by God". He is depicted holding a white rose in his hand against his breast. He is venerated as an inspirer and awakener of exalted thoughts that raise a person toward God II Esdras 4: As an eighth, he is sometimes included as an archangel. In the canon of the Ethiopian Orthodox Tewahedo Church, 1 Enoch describes Saraqael as one of the angels that watch over "the spirits that sin in the spirit" Within Protestantism, the Anglican and Methodist tradition recognizes four angels as archangels: However, they only signify his role as the chief of angels and have no reference to the nature of Jesus, who is fully divine. Adventists credit nonconformist minister Matthew Henry as supporting this view. They believe Jesus is archangel in the true sense of the word "the highest spiritual creature. Gabriel Jibrail or Jibril in Arabic. Various hadiths traditions mention his role in delivering messages from "God the Almighty" to the prophets. Michael Mikail in Arabic. Michael is an exceptionally strong angel who protects and defends people who love God. He is powerfully concerned about truth and justice. Believers say that Michael communicates boldly with people when he helps and guides them. Here's how to recognize signs of Michael's possible presence with you.

Angel signs are the signals, clues and omens that signify the presence of angels in your life. Angels are very real, but they are spiritual beings with a much different frequency compared to humans. Increasing your present moment awareness of the angels is one of the best ways to start noticing their guidance, especially when you know some of the common signs to look for. Angelic guidance can and does come in the form of channeled messages, dreams, and directly receiving insight. You may receive flashes of inspiration, learn from your angels during meditation, or experience the angels profoundly through your psychic senses. Guidance from the angels also comes more subtly. Angels are constantly drawing our attention towards signs, and they leave clues and hints which serve to nudge us in the right direction. While many of these angel signs may seem small at first, when focused on, acknowledged and appreciated, they often increase in frequency and size. Your angels know you, and so they know which signs will capture your attention, contain personal meaning, or best guide your next steps. Common Angel Signs and Symbols Angels are always near, and any sign from these powerful spiritual beings, however small it may be, is a beautiful and symbolic reminder of their love and support. Here is a quick look at some common signs from the angels. When you notice a sign which may be from your angels. Breathe, be aware, and thank your angels for reaching out with their love and guidance. As you tune into the signs from angels, and practice present moment awareness you can become more in sync with your angels, and the guidance and assistance they have for you. Feathers Finding feathers on your path is one of the more commonly known signs of the angels. Feathers of any color are a beautiful reminder that your angels are near, loving and supporting you from behind the scenes. When you find feathers in a place which is somewhat abnormal is an especially powerful angelic sign. Clouds One of the most obvious of angel signs through the clouds, is a cloud which looks like an angel. Your angels may also draw your awareness towards clouds that look like hearts, as well as many other shapes and symbols to offer. Scents Have you ever noticed a lovely sweet scent and been unable to identify the source? This very well may be a sign from your angels! Angels often love to make their presence known through the power of scent. You may notice your Guardian Angels presence through a lovely rich and chocolatey smell, or the nearness of Archangels through the sweet subtle scent of flowers. Scent is a commonly used sign from your ancestors or loved ones who have crossed over as well. Do you smell your grandmothers perfume and sense her near? Odds are very high that her spirit is right there with you. Do you smell something awful? This is NOT a sign from your angels! In my experience the scents angels broadcast are always completely divine. Have you ever noticed a baby looking up smiling at the ceiling, or excitedly gazing into the air, or at a blank spot on the wall? In the presence of angels babies, small children, and animals will be at ease, comforted and excited. Music I have met several people whose first experience of the angels was when they started to hear angelic singing originating from outside the physical world. Angels may also communicate with you through recurring songs you hear on the radio. Or by causing you to hear a series of songs, all with a very similar theme. Angels are often sending messages through music, whether it is through a song which just starts playing in your mind, hearing peaceful tranquil music when meditating, or continuing to hear a certain song on the radio. Pay attention to this guidance through music which can often be a clear sign from your angels. Coins Finding coins, or currency in general, is a common sign of guidance and support from the realms of spirit. If you find a coin on your path, or perhaps someone gives you a coin, pay attention! Does the date on the coin hold any meaning for you? Have you asked for financial help from your angels? What were you thinking about right before you noticed the coin? Sparkles of Light Angels are beings of love and light. Seeing orbs, unexplained shimmers of light, or flashes of color, are all common ways of experiencing your angels. A bright star which catches your attention, shafts of light streaming down from above, a flash of light appearing without an actual light source, light shimmering off an object in an unusual way, or an orb of light hovering near, are all signs of angels.

Rainbows Rainbows are a common symbol of Divine love. When you ask for angelic assistance and shortly after see a rainbow, know your prayers have been heard and are being answered. You may suddenly feel a warm glowing light around you. Or you may get the chills, and feel cold, with a tingling or pressure in your head or on the back of your neck. Feelings If you feel like you are in the presence of an angel – You probably are! You may feel like someone just walked past you, when no one is there, or you may get the impression someone is present in a room with you when it is empty. Your angels may reach out to you, very subtly and wrap you in their wings of love, brush your arm or neck, or gently place their hand on your back or shoulder. Sometimes angels will make their presence very obvious giving you an overwhelming sense of unconditional love. Pay attention, your angel is with you! Signs or Advertisements Angel signs will often come in the form of noticing a message on a physical sign or billboard. When you ask for guidance from your angels stay open and alert, and you may start noticing a certain word or phrase on a number of billboards, street names, or shop signs. This was an advertisement for a local business – But I took the hint and ended up having an incredibly magical, and rewarding trip to Sedona AZ. Voices Sponsored Links When you receive a message in your mind, or you a whispered voice which seems to appear out of thin air, you may be experiencing the guidance of your angels. Hearing the guidance of your angels is a beautiful sign of their presence, and is common when you are in need of comfort, reassurance, or angelic guidance. Numbers Indeed one of the most common ways angels will attempt to capture your attention and guide you is through Angel Numbers. Whether you are sitting in traffic behind a car with on the license plate, or you seem to look over at the clock every day at These numbers have specific meanings for you. Contained within the signs the angels leave us is infinite possibility for growth and positive transformation. The key is to be present, and aware, and to look for the signs from the angels. ### 7: St. Michael the Archangel - Saints & Angels - Catholic Online

I'm dancing around the house on a warm summer afternoon, sporadically tidying up, sharing the dance floor (lounge room) with our pretty two-year-old girl.

Seeing that the subject of the Archangels should be treated fairly with their own essay, I now expand this series with a fourth essay devoted to them. Based upon what we know from Scripture from Tobit The Archangels have played an important role in the Bible and in other Jewish and Christian literature for many centuries. Some of their names are very well known, while others have been forgotten to history. As of Council of Rome in under the reign of Pope Saint Zachary, the Catholic Church officially only acknowledges the names of three of the seven Archangels: Although the Church acknowledges that there are seven Archangels according to Sacred Scripture and Sacred Tradition, because these three Archangels are the only angels named in Scripture, they are currently the only three who are officially recognized by name in Catholic doctrine. The names of the other four Archangels appear in Jewish and Christian sources outside of the canon of Sacred Scripture an example is the Book of Enoch chapter 20 and their names are: Uriel, Raguel, Zerachiel, and Remiel. Michael also appears in many apocryphal Jewish and Christian sources. Various traditions say that he was the first of the angels who were created, which may explain why he is often revered as the eldest brother of his brethren. Now war arose in heaven, Michael and his angels fighting against the dragon; and the dragon and his angels fought, but they were defeated and there was no longer any place for them in heaven. And the great dragon was thrown down, that ancient serpent, who is called the Devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole world--he was thrown down to the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him. Saint Basil the Great made this argument during the 4th Century in his homily De Angelis and others, such as Saint Bonaventure 13th Century , argue that Michael was of the order of the Seraphim. However, Michael is the only angel in Sacred Scripture explicitly addressed as Archangel Jude 9 and thus if the Nine Choir Tradition is accurate he could not be among the order of the Seraphim at the top of the hierarchy, because the order of the Archangels is at the second to the lowest of the hierarchy. There seems to be a major problem here but there are two possible ways to rectify this. The first possibility is that our current understanding of the Nine Choirs might be a little bit wrong. Thus, it is possible that the Nine Choir Tradition might be accurate overall minus the possibility that the Archangels could outrank the Seraphim and might lead the entire Angelic Host. Since we also established in the last section that it is right to refer to all Nine Choirs as angels and not just the office of the last choir, it could be fitting that the Arch-angels could be a rank that designates superiority over not just the last choir, but the other seven choirs as well. This would also logically explain why there are only seven Archangels while there are an innumerable amount of angelic beings within the other eight choirs. It is important to remember that this is only speculation though. The second possibility is that the Nine Choir Tradition is accurate and that the Archangels are the eight choir in rank. It is important to remember that this too is only speculation though. Whatever the explanation might be, it is quite clear that Michael has always been revered as being the greatest of all of the angels according to Christian and pre-Christian Jewish sources. Thus, no matter what the exact scenario might have been, Michael is indeed the Prince of the Heavenly Hosts, which is not just an honorific title but one with real authority in the angelic hierarchy. Michael also plays a role in human history in interactions with the Saints. Gregory the Great led a procession of prayer through the city streets pleading with God to end the plague. When they reached the tomb of Emperor Hadrian, Pope Gregory saw a vision in which Michael stood atop of the tomb sheathing his sword, which was taken as a sign that what the Pope and those who joined him in prayer had done was pleasing to God. The plague came to an end shortly afterwards. Joan of Arc ca. She was seen to be a gift from God used by Him to encourage the French that He favored them in the war. She received numerous visions from many Saints, among whom was Saint Michael. Michael as a result. While consulting with a number of Cardinals in the private Vatican chapel on October 13, , he happened to pass before the altar, where he stopped suddenly and seemed to lose all awareness of his surroundings. His slender face grew pale, his eyes stared in horror, and he stood motionless for several minutes until those around him thought he was going to die. What terrifying words I have heard.

Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. According to the report of his vision, the devil, in a guttural voice, had boasted to God that he could destroy the Church if he were given more time and more power. He then asked God for 75 years, then years. His request was granted by God, with an understanding that there would be a penalty when he failed. The Pope was so worried about this experience that the prayer he composed was ordered by him to be said after all low Masses around the world. The prayer was recited as ordered, and was preceded by three Hail Marys. The recitation of these prayers after Mass was discontinued in most parishes after Vatican II when the traditional Latin Mass was replaced in Michael prayer is still recited after Mass whenever the traditional Latin Mass is offered. Tan Books and Publishers, Inc. Gabriel appeared to the Prophet Daniel to explain a vision from God Daniel 8 ; he appeared to the priest Zacharias to announce that he would have a son, John the Baptist, who would be the forerunner of the Messiah, Jesus Luke 1 ; and he appeared to the Virgin Mary in the Annunciation Luke 1. Tradition indicates that Gabriel was also the angel who appeared to St. In addition, some sources say that right before the Blessed Virgin Mary was assumed body and soul into Heaven, Jesus sent Gabriel to His Mother to inform her what was to happen just as He sent Gabriel to her at the Annunciation St. Gabriel also appears in many apocryphal Jewish and Christian sources. Raphael also appears in many apocryphal Jewish and Christian sources, such as the Book of Enoch. Traditionally, due to the meaning of his name, he is revered as the Archangel of Healing. Due to this, he might be alluded to in John 5: Now there is at Jerusalem a pond, called Probatia, which in Hebrew is named Bethsaida, having five porches. In these lay a great multitude of sick, of blind, of lame, of withered; waiting for the moving of the water. And an angel of the Lord descended at certain times into the pond; and the water was moved. And he that went down first into the pond after the motion of the water, was made whole, of whatsoever infirmity he lay under. Although Uriel cannot be found in Scripture, his name has frequently been a part of tradition and he has an important role in many apocryphal texts, such as the Book of Enoch, the Apocalypse of Peter, and 2 Baruch Although these texts are now considered apocryphal, various Jewish scholars and Christian theologians during the early centuries of the Church did believe that these texts had some credibility and Uriel was indeed venerated as an Archangel by the Church until the Council of Rome in At that Council, Uriel and the names of many other angels and Archangels were removed from the official list i. The list of angels that are worth venerating became confined down to only the three aforementioned Archangels. However, I have found that due to historical and cultural traditions, many Catholics still do pray to Uriel and you find his statues and prayer cards in various Catholic bookstores. These three Archangels appear as the Seven Archangels along with Michael, Gabriel, Raphael, and Uriel in chapter 20 of the Book of Enoch, which was a Jewish apocryphal work before the time of Christ that was considered inspired Scripture by some of the Early Church for a time. Traditionally he has been revered as the Archangel of Justice and Fairness. This Archangel can only be found in apocryphal sources. Traditionally he has been revered as the Archangel of Hope and Faith. This is not necessarily doctrine, but it is a tradition worth mentioning. According to one tradition: Sometimes Gabriel is associated with the Sacrament of Matrimony due to the tradition that he was the Guardian Angel of the Holy Family; however, sometimes Gabriel is also associated with the Sacrament of Confirmation since he was present at the Annunciation when the Holy Spirit descended upon the Blessed Virgin Mary, which caused the Incarnation of Christ to occur. Sometimes Raphael is associated with the Sacrament of Matrimony due to his influence of the marriage in the story of Tobit; however, sometimes Raphael is also associated with the Sacrament of Reconciliation or with the Anointing of the Sick due to his name meaning healing power of God. This concept is not doctrine, but it is worth reflecting upon. The Sacraments do not come from the Archangels, for the Sacraments only come from Christ, but the Archangels can inspire us to reflect upon the Sacraments with greater reverence. According to Paragraph of the Catechism of the Catholic Church: From its beginning until death, human life is surrounded by their watchful care and intercession. There is a Scriptural basis for this as well: Because you have made the Lord your refuge, the Most High your habitation, no evil shall befall you, no scourge come near your tent. For he will give his angels charge of you to guard you in all your ways. On their hands they will bear you up, lest you dash your foot against a stone. Our Guardian Angels, along with the Archangels and the other Angels, also intercede for us in prayer Tobit Through intercession, even the Seven Archangels can come to our aid and we are encouraged to ask for their intercession and guidance. Prayer to the Angels and the Saints must never be confused with worshipping of them. This is a mistake that Protestant Christians often make because prayer for them is only a form of worship in their minds. For Catholics and Orthodox Christians, prayer to the Angels and the Saints is only in asking for their intercession to God as we ask any other believer here to also pray for us , for their protection by means of the Grace of God working through them, and for guidance as we strive to emulate their examples. Those who accuse us of worshipping the Angels and the Saints do not understand this and accuse us of idolatry and being polytheistic the belief in many deities rather than monotheistic the belief in only one God. We need to be very careful of this because there are superstitious Catholics who do fall into this trap that Protestants accuse us of. Nevertheless, we should develop personal devotions to the Angels and Saints, especially the Archangels. We should ask for their intercession and for their aid in times of trial and of jubilee. We should also strive to emulate their example and service to God. Due to the length of explaining why the Angels are loyal to God and how we ought to emulate their example, this subject will be explored in another essay. Please take the time to check out the website where you can find links to my other essays and our work for the Catholic Church.
