Signs from spirit bring the comfort of knowing we are not alone, and that the soul lives on Your loved ones in Heaven know you, and so the signs that they are with you will often be specific to your life experience.

Usually, when you embrace a powerful physical connection with someone, it makes it simpler to bond with them in the form of spirit. There is no feeling of sadness greater than when a loved one passes away; this is the sad truth of life that everyone has to die. Signs from the deceased loved one When you lose a loved one, your heart misses them, and you cry for them feeling lonely and empty, you have no idea what to do anymore and how to move on with your life without them. Moreover, try to let you know that the deceased loved one is nearby by attempting to communicate with you and convey a message in order to let you know that they are fine. Typically, within days of dying your loved one will be capable of sending you signs from heaven and connecting with you most powerfully than ever, however, that does not at all mean that they will not always be around you. Spiritual leader Every so often when a loved one dies and turns into a spirit they most likely become a kind of spiritual leader who will at all times remain by your side. It is not at all certain to say that all loved ones who die become guides, but generally, if you are aware and open, you may receive some signs that a deceased loved one is nearby. You must remember that death only implies the expiration of the physical body; however, the soul exists eternally. The truth is that our soul is everlasting. Normally when loved one deceases they wish to send signs to let us know that they are still around us and are looking over us. Loved ones in heaven If for some reason we are not able to feel our deceased loved ones around us, they will usually provide us with signs that we cannot overlook. The being who has received mostly knows that it means that a deceased loved one is nearby. Even if we terminate it and give it no notice that tiny voice within will surely make us ponder that it might be a sign. Top most signs are: Strange activities of Electricity You will be surprised to know that our expired loved ones have are capable of interfering with electricity and light since they are pure energy now. To send us signs they can influence machinery like microwaves, fans, radios, etc. Usually, they only want us to feel the signs a deceased loved one is nearby. Using electricity to grab attention appears to be one of the most common signs from heaven. It is the easiest way to make people respond. The spirits from the other side are a fan of flickering lights, turning on and off fans, turn radio or television on and off, or make machines beep for no obvious reason. If your TV switches off or lights start to flicker unexpectedly try find out the reason behind it like. It most probably will be one of the signs from heaven. Sensing their Smell One of the signs is when we can usually realize that our departed loved ones are nearby when we smell their scent: Our loved ones can temporarily move the particles with the air of your space to imitate the scent associated with them. These signs can at times appear to be confusing. As humans, we remember how our loved ones smell. We recall a unique fragrance or perfume they enjoyed or even the odor of activity they loved doing. If you sense their smell, fragrance or odor, do not be scared instead be happy. Showing up as energy of an Animal As our loved ones are now pure energy, they are capable of channeling their energy inside an animal to send you signs from heaven, such as a butterfly, cats, birds, dogs, etc. The animal will act in a way it typically would not act, such as come in front of us, land on us, stare at us, peck at our window or shriek at us. Unluckily, such signs many people fail to notice. Our loved ones may try to communicate with us in every way possible. By using these codes, they are conveying us a sign without attempting to scare us. They are trying to let us know that they are with us! Placing and moving objects in your way as signs from heaven One sign from heaven from loved ones is that they usually like to put objects in our trail that were important just to them time and again, to make us feel their presence. Flowers, feathers, coins, keys, and rocks are some of the utmost common items they are most likely to place for us. These are small gifts from them. If you discover a coin in your way, notice its year and recall if that specific year holds some importance between you and your departed loved one. You see them in your dreams Dreams are one of the most common signs and easiest way for our dead loved ones to connect with us. A dream that is a true manifestation will be very vibrant, detailed, and peaceful. Such dreams are not forgotten easily, in fact, are remembered for years. There are a few features you can scrutinize after seeing a unworldly visitation dream. It will be very rich and colorful. It will always be coherent and logical and have some message in the form of physical objects, words or even intuition. You may feel muddled when you wake up and will also feel peaceful, content or even scared about what you just experienced. If you want to meet your loved one in your dream all that is required to do is to request them to do so, and they will visit you. Some people believe that if we tell them to wake us after they meet us and to make us remember the specific dream. They make us see specific numbers around us As signs from heaven, our loved ones might make us see numbers that are significant to them. It could be an anniversary, a birthday, the date of their death or the time they passed at, or even restating numbers such as , , , etc. Such unique numbers may be seen on calculators, billboards, TV or any other acquainted place. They may also come from strangers, family, and friends. When you are driving, pay close attention to license plates ahead of you and ads or posters you pass by. Some of the best signs of numbers can be seen on bumper stickers that are right under your nose. If you notice a pattern and have faith in your loved one that they are communicating with you, take ease in finding out that they are right with you.

Placing thoughts in our heads Our beloved dead ones influence our thoughts. Consequently, they send us signs intuitively. Pay close attention to opinions that just arrive into your head that you think of out of nowhere. Especially you think of something your deceased loved one would say for no logical reason, it is most possibly them trying to communicate with you directly. This method of connection is a real blessing. Pay attention to your thoughts; you will instantly know when they are not yours and are signs from heaven. They look over us and let us know Many people have felt such signs. When we are in the initial stages of sorrow, we have a stronger ability to sense the presence our loved one around us. Death is not final, and love lives forever. In the deepest sorrow, they will attempt to discover a tactic to let us know that we are not alone and they are with us. Do not be afraid when you feel like you are being watched because our passed loved ones are simply protecting us and watching over us. They will love us forever, even from afar. The Play songs at a perfect occasion If your departed loved one enjoyed music, this also could be an easy way of communication, being one of the signs. We instantly feel the presence of our loved one when their most favorite songs play at just the perfect time with the particular lyrics we need to hear. Usually, the identical song comes on in various places. You might be able to listen to the song in the background in a while doing grocery in departmental stores. Or when you are having dinner at a restaurant, when you are driving and play the radio. Moreover, when you are watching a show or a movie on TV or even when you randomly play music, you may feel that your loved one is nearby. They whisper or buzz in your ears Since our departed loved ones are pure energy they might send us signs from heaven and express to us using a different, greater frequency, we may hear buzzing or some ringing in our ears when they are trying to get us to respond. These might be signs from heaven so look for a message they are trying to convey. Observe your surroundings and see if there is anything important to notice, a sign on the roadside? A bird flying by? When you read a newspaper or a book or surfing the internet for something? Did you feel the buzzing in your ear or ears when you read a specific sentence? Go through that sentence again and search for a message your loved one might be trying to convey. Perhaps the buzzing in your ear is afterward a certain thought; this can be a sign of confirmation or support from your loved one. See flashes of bright light? Spirit does not always have the power or are not capable of fully appearing as a ghost. In the form of signs from heaven your loved ones can be evident as balls of light, flashes or orbs of light. If you see them often out of the corner of your eye, there are chances that it can be your loved one who is sending you signs from heaven. Cardinal sign A cardinal is illustrative of a departed loved one and one of the signs of heaven. When you come across one, it might mean they are stopping by. They mostly appear when you miss them or need them the most. They may also visit for the duration of celebration as well as misery to watch over you and to ensure that you know they are with you always. Cardinals are frequently believed to be spirit signs from heaven mainly because of their bright red color. When a cardinal shows up at the instant a departed loved one is being talked of or thought of; it could most likely be your loved one trying to make you feel that they are right there with you. Long for them, they will show up! Discover some more interesting articles from Padre:

3: Signs in the Heavens - Life, Hope & Truth

Signs from Heaven: This guide is an exploration of the idea that loved ones may try and contact you from heaven. It explores how to go about asking for signs. It then explores several key signs that you're likely to experience.

Shares Are your deceased loved ones trying to send you a message? We all have intuitive abilities or a sixth sense and usually this can be triggered by the passing of a loved one. Often when you hold a strong physical bond with someone it makes it easier to connect with them in spirit form. This is why so often, loved ones who have passed will try to make contact to deliver a message or to let you know that they are ok. Sometimes when a loved one crosses over into spirit form they may become a type of spirit guide who will always be there by your side. It is hard to say whether all loved ones who pass become guides, but usually if you are open and aware, you may receive some type of confirmation. Death only signifies the end of the physical body, the soul however, lives on and is forever eternal. In fact, our soul is indestructible. Here are the 5 most common signs that a loved one is trying to make contact: Visitation Dreams Seeing a loved one in a dream is often a sign that they are trying to connect with you. You may need to analyse the symbols or messages in the dream to see what information your loved one may be trying to deliver to you. A peaceful or happy dream may be a sign that they are safe and happy on the other side, whereas more ominous dream may be a warning or a caution that your loved one is sending to you. Sensing their Presence, Voice or Smell It is not uncommon, especially in the first week of passing to feel the presence of your loved one next to you. Along with feeling their presence you may also hear their voice calling your name, singing or delivering to you some type of message. It is also not uncommon to smell the signature scent of your loved one. This is usually a sign that they are around and are watching out for you or trying to get your attention. Strange Electrical Activity Spirits have the ability to interfere with electrical currents because they are pure energy. Often when this occurs, your loved one may just be trying to get your attention or they may just be experimenting with their abilities. If they had a sense of humor, they may also do this to get a reaction out of you. Usually this type of activity is short lived however, if you notice it going on for an extended period and there is no logical reason as to why, it may be that your loved one is trying to communicate an important message to you. These objects usually include feathers, coins, animals or flowers, however they can also be objects that were sentimental to them or you. Coins are commonly used as they are shiny and instantly attract your attention. If you do notice a mysterious object like a coin or feather on your path, pay attention to what is around you. Seeing their Apparition or Soul Of course, one of the most obvious ways for your loved one to make contact is to appear before you. This may be as an apparition, blurry outline or even as a figure of light. You may also see their figure moving out of the corner of your eye. If you do see your loved one and they appear very clear, try reassuring them that it is ok to move on and that everything will be ok. Usually when you see your loved one you may also have a feeling about why they are appearing. Trust in this feeling and try not to judge it, as it will surely guide you as to what their message is. No matter what signs you are receiving from your loved one, take a moment to honor the contact and be open to interpreting the signs in anyway that feels right to you. A Channelled Message From Loved Ones in Heaven "Your loved ones in heaven all want you to know that they are safe, protected and reunited with their dearest family and friends. They want you to know that there is an afterlife and that there is a new beginning for all of their souls. They want you to know that they will never leave you and that they will always be looking out for you in any way they can. They encourage you to talk with them but to also release them so that they can be free to complete the work that they need to. They want to remind all of those on earth that they have a specific purpose and duty to fulfil and that they are very, very important to the planet. They want everyone to know that they are equal, just as special as each other and are infinitely loved.

Proof of life after death. We all want to feel comforted knowing that the spirits of our loved ones are still with us once they've passed away. These five common signs from heaven give us.

You may find yourself beginning to question everything you once viewed as fact, particularly in relation to spirituality. Hoping for signs from heaven almost as a nod from your loved one is completely natural. In this article we will be exploring just that: You can actually ask for them. Your angels can reassure you that everything is ok and aid your loved one in sending signs from heaven. There is a straightforward reason for this: A loved one could use this boost in your abilities to communicate with you. Digital Mishaps This is another common one that is often used within horror films as a sinister nod to the presence of an evil spirit. The interference of this kind is a lot subtler and can manifest itself in many different ways. With that in mind, there are some things you can look out for. Some are more obvious than others such as the radio changing to a song you associate with the loved one or the TV turning off when a show you both hated comes on. Some are subtler such as lights flickering. Messages through Animals Animals can often be messengers from the beyond. When a loved one is trying to make contact, a nearby animal particularly if an angel in disguise may come nearer to you than it usually would, perhaps even let you touch it. The same goes for the cardinals sign from heaven, which is the exact same situation. Other animals will also play a role. Dogs often run up to you or if they were being loud, they go quiet as you pass. Animals can quite often have a more direct connection to the spiritual realm than we do so they pick up on some of the frequencies that are beyond our perception. Just keep in mind that these animals are rarely your loved one and are more often than not simply signs of your loved one attempting to make contact or let you know that they are there in spirit. Specific Energies One of the more common signs is the feeling of a presence. People regularly describe a warmth or tingling, sometimes similar to static electricity. There are more familiar sensations as well which would relate more personally to you and your loved one. Perhaps they used to stroke your hair a certain way and while looking at a photo of them you feel that familiar sensation, even if a little lighter. Well, there are also smells, sounds, even sights. All of our senses can detect varying aspects of a spirit from the other side. You might smell a familiar perfume see a scarf tied to a post that suddenly vanishes after you look away. There is also the possibility to hear signs. Discover some more interesting articles from Padre:

Objects, Symbols, & Shapes. After someone passes away, you may notice specific objects, symbols, or shapes everywhere. Signs are not limited to typical things like feathers, hearts, birds, or pennies; they can also be something personally significant to you and the deceased person.

Blog Proof of Life After Death: These five common signs from heaven give us that comfort and peace of mind. All we need to do to receive the signs is open our hearts! May you feel the love of spirit. Visions I know there are some skeptics out there who want concrete proof of life after death. While no one can really give concrete proof, visions and images of spirit are pretty remarkable. Following is the incredible after death visit that my grandmother Mary experienced: After a few moments in prayer, she opened her eyes. When she did, she saw my grandfather, her deceased husband, standing there smiling at her. Just like many others, my grandmother has lost many people in her lifetime and believes in the afterlife, but she explained that this particular experience was life changing. Church is a sacred place and it is where my grandmother spends her time in prayer. When she is in prayer, she is essentially in a meditative state which would make spirit communication easier. My grandfather knows that she attends church services faithfully every Sunday. This could be a factor, too. I agree that a vision would be indisputable proof of life after death! I am so glad she got to have this special moment. I guess that shows how much they love us. Types of Spirit Visions Full-on Vision: A vision like my grandmother had is one of the rarer types of spirit communication. If you have had an experience like this, you may have seen your loved one in solid form or they may have seemed translucent. Some paranormal professionals feel that solid orbs are a better indicator of true spirit presence than translucent orbs, which can sometimes be dust particles. If you are not feeling your loved one around, try spending some time in a relaxed state, such as meditating, reading quietly, or listening to music. While your loved ones are always around, when you are in a relaxed, higher-vibrational state, it is easier for you to sense their energy. And remember, you can always speak to a medium. I recommend the mediums here , affiliate because they are the ones who helped me after my aunt passed away. I also like that there rates are very affordable. When you call, ask to speak to a medium. Invisible Touch Have you ever felt a gentle touch on your head, arm, or back, but no one was there? Or how about feeling like someone stroked your hair? Have You Ever Sensed a Presence? You may not feel any physical sensation at all. Instead, you may suddenly sense or feel the presence of your loved one next to you, or in the same room as you. If you are feeling really stuck with this and would like some support, there are many gifted mediums available to chat with at AskNow. The answer to that question is yes! Smells are a common way that our loved ones in heaven let us know that they are around. Usually, it will be something associated with the person in spirit: Maria tells me that there is one way she knows for certain when her beloved husband, Amos, is around: She smells Dial soap! Apparently, Dial soap was the only soap her husband would use when he was living. Sweet Dreams The proof of life after death comes in many forms, including dreams. A dream that was so vivid that it felt real? Well, the reason it felt real was because it was real. Those in spirit often use dreams as a way to visit us. Here are some signs that your dream was actually a visit from the other side: The dream is very vivid Your loved one is happy, smiling, and free of illness and worry Communication may have been telepathic â€” there were no spoken words The experience was emotional â€” you may wake up with tears in your eyes Read: Was it a Visit from Heaven or Just a Dream? Moving Objects The sky really is the limit when it comes to after death communications. Moving objects is another way that our loved ones in heaven get our attention. The object can be anything, but is often something that is significant to you: A special photo, piece of jewelry, etc. In the story below, it was a prayer book that had significance: Unfortunately, the family was not able to contact the printer in time. One day, shortly after the funeral, Rosie was home alone. She had no idea how the prayer book got there because she kept in a different room altogether and never on the floor. Avoid This Common Mistake When your family members or friends on the other side take the time and energy to show you proof of life after death, cherish it! They are around to visit and comfort you, so enjoy the moment. Instead, be comforted knowing that your loved one is around. You may also enjoy: Signs from Spirit in Pictures Talking to a medium now. 6: Signs from Heaven that your loved ones are visiting you.

No matter what signs you are receiving from your loved one, take a moment to honor the contact and be open to interpreting the signs in anyway that feels right to you. A Channelled Message From Loved Ones in Heaven -

These direct methods of communication can occur anywhere and at anytime, though they are most common when you are alone and aware of your surroundings to take notice. You can receive a sign when you are fully awake, in twilight state of dreaming and waking or in dream state. Dream visitations This is the most common way to be visited by those in Spirit, both by deceased loved ones and Spirit Guides. You might notice a shift when they are around " either a change in the energy or actual movement in the air. Perhaps at night, you notice pressure in the bed next to you, as if someone got into bed with you, or you might feel like someone is sitting next to you in the evenings while you read a book. This is a common type of visit. They are the same essence they were with body, and now, without body. Feeling their touch A hug, a brush of your hair, holding your hand, or a gentle touch on your back " these are some of the most comforting forms of connection that can happen. This ability to touch can also manifest in feeling them not touch you, but an object near you, for instance, noticing someone sit or lay down in the bed next to you. Smelling their fragrance The ability to smell the fragrance from a deceased loved one or Spirit is called clairgustance. These visits commonly reported as the fragrance of cigarette or cigar smoke, perfume, flowers, or cooking. Hearing their voice This is called clairaudience. It is possible to hear the voice of your deceased loved one externally, as though they are actually speaking to you in human form, or internally, through thought or word transference. Those in Spirit no longer have a voice box - so creating an external noise is very hard. Do you talk to your husband, grandmother, or best friend on the Other Side, in your mind? Take a moment, and wait to see if you can hear a response. Unexpected electrical activity We all have energy and energy runs through all things, including electrical devices. For those on the Other Side, not only is it fun to learn how to use energy to connect - many of those in Heaven learn that the energy in electrical devices is quite easy to manipulate. For this reason, it is actually quite common for those in Spirit to manipulate TV, lights and toys to get your attention. They can turn things on and off, change channels, and make things move. Songs on the radio , that are meaningful to you or your lost loved one, are a favorite way for those on the Other Side to deliver to you messages that you may need to hear - right at that exact moment, with electricity. A phone call The day after my father passed over, I received several phone calls, from unknown numbers, with nothing but static on the other line. While discussing this event with friends, they recounted similar experiences, in the days following the passing of their loved ones. Since a phone is an electrical object, manipulating the energy to make a phone call is not much different than other electrical activity. This sign could occur in the months or years following the crossing of a loved one, it seems to be most common in immediate days following the transition. Receiving a symbolic message, sign, coincidence or synchronicity Your deceased loved ones are often very eager to let you know they are part of your life and with you when you least expect it. So, those in Spirit will provide us with signs that we cannot ignore. The signs can and will come to you in a variety of ways, and the key is keep your eye open for synchronicities and anything out of the ordinary. Wondering where and what to look for? Feathers, Coins , and Stones. Spirit likes to place things in our path that were significant to them or significant to us , over and over again. My father collected stones, and will often place new stones in the path of myself, my mother, and my sister when he visits. However, others see feathers, coins, and other small objects usually in their path. Spirits use energy to be with us, and often, it is through the energy of animal world - such as a butterfly, bird, ladybug, dragonfly, or other creature - for a very short amount of time. If an animal does something usual - like land in front of or on you, stare at you through a window, or call in your path, this could be a sign. A common sign from those of the Other Side, are usually animals that are colorful the more colorful something is - the more noticeable it is to you. Keep an eye out for bluebirds, jays, and cardinals. Spirits can send us flowers in unexpected ways. If you receive a flower sign, it could be in the form of an unexpected bouquet or gift, or a flower that is blooming out of season. A few months ago, I asked for a sign, specifically in the form of flowers, and three days later, I arrived at work with a bouquet on my desk. Upon asking around, no one had any idea where these flowers came from or how they got there. In another example, did your mother love bulb flowers, such as tulips, daffodils? Suddenly, you might notice one pop up in your yard. Learn more about Flower Signs here. Your loved ones on the Other Side can and will use people to give you messages, and generally, the person delivering the message is not aware of it. Listen to those around you, the words they are speaking may be a direct message from the Spirit world to you! Also, those in Spirit may send meaningful people in your direction such as teachers, life partners, and new best friends. Movement Sometimes, those in Spirits will move objects to get your attention. Does the same photograph keep falling? Also, moving objects will often times create noise, which can startle your awareness, too! Seeing an apparition flat photo, hologram, partial, full Believe it or not, seeing an apparition, while you are awake, with your eyes open, is one of the least common methods on this list. Learn more about apparitions here. Many people find that visits from their loved ones are common and plenty in the days, weeks, and months following a loved ones passing, but they can continue for years. This happens when you have a child, soulmate, or life partner pass away early on and they stay with you until you both finish your soul path on this life.

The prophet Isaiah also described these same events: The sixth seal in the book of Revelation The prophecies of Joel and Isaiah match the events described by the apostle John in a vision of the end time: And the stars of heaven fell to the earth, as a fig tree drops its late figs when it is shaken by a mighty wind. Jesus mentioned that the heavenly signs would follow right on the heels of another prophesied event: The Great Tribulation will be a time of terrible trial for the modern-day descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob later renamed Israel. These people will suffer famines and pestilence, military invasion and enslavement. Additionally, the Tribulation will be a time of widespread persecution against the saints of the true Church of God at the end of the age. A great earthquake occurs. Every mountain and island will move out of its place. Blood and fire and pillars of smoke will be seen. The sun, moon and stars will have their light blocked, making them appear as dark as night. The moon will appear blood red. The stars of heaven will appear to be falling to the earth. The sky will be seen receding like a scroll when it is rolled up. Immediately after these stunning cosmic disturbances, a series of great plagues will quickly follow, each accompanied with the sound of a trumpet Revelation 8 and 9. These plagues will precede the return of Jesus Christ to earth in glory and majesty to establish a kingdom of peace and righteousness. Who will control these signs and wonders? When these signs in the heavens and the earth occur, scientists and weather forecasters may attempt to explain them away as extreme, cyclical events, rather than signs from God. To be sure, Bible prophecy clearly shows God will be the author of them. It is hard to imagine, but large numbers of unconcerned people are likely to dismiss these signs as being random occurrences. But those who are watching and praying will discern the reason for the signs 1 Thessalonians 5: Throughout the Bible, God says that He controls all the elements of His physical creation and that He uses them either to bless or to curse mankind. And they swirl about, being turned by His guidance, that they may do whatever He commands them on the face of the whole earth. So, we clearly see that God controls all the powers of the heavens and the earthâ€”from climate conditions to earthquakes and volcanoes to the orbits of the planets and the positions of the massive constellations in deep space. God speaks of the sun, moon and stars being darkened; and this has happened at various times on smaller scales. A dense, dark cloud of smoke can certainly block light to the earth over an area of land. For instance, in June the second largest volcanic eruption of the 20th century in terms of the amount of material spewed out took place on the island of Luzon in the Philippines. The volume of ash emitted from the June 15 peak eruption was about 1. The giant, umbrella-shaped eruption cloud was miles kilometers in diameter and 21 miles 34 kilometers high. Mount Pinatubo is just one in a series of more than volcanoes along the ring of fire circling the Pacific Ocean. It is certainly possible that a series of simultaneous volcanic eruptions could shut out sunlight for a period of time across large portions of the earth. For another example, a passage such as Matthew If the heavenly signs to come are caused by natural laws of physics, God will orchestrate these events in an extreme and stunning display. If these wonders are supernatural, God can certainly alter the courses of the heavenly bodies and the natural elements from what has been the norm. Will God get the attention of the vast population of the earth before that time? Will He find lasting, heartfelt changes in human behavior before He unleashes His anger? Jesus posed an important question to His disciples and us today: Those who never took heed of these warning signs will be in terror at the appearance of Jesus Christ. But Jesus promised the faithful: For those who take heed, God provides a way of escape from His wrath.

8: Proof of Life After Death - 5 Signs That Your Loved Ones in Heaven Are Around

CATHOLIC STAND is an e-publication presenting essays and creative non-fiction, offering substantive resources with thoughtful insights into how to live the Truth that the Church teaches, owned by Little Vatican Media.

I know that we are united with the communion of saints, and that death no longer separates us Romans 8: I believe we can pray to the saints, and even pray to and pray for our relatives who have gone before us. But I guess my interpretation of what that union would look like differed from reality. I thought that all I had to do was pray and that my dad would visit me in my dreams, or that God would send me endless consolations to constantly comfort me. I was so sure of how things worked that, when my sweet atheist brother insisted that we stop trying to comfort him with talk of heaven, my sister boldly assured him that he would be surprised and change his mind when my dad visited him in his dreams from the afterlife. I had a friend who told me that her mother appeared by her bedside one night. This friend had cancer, and she was in deep anguish over leaving her children behind. Her mother appeared beside her in bed, and came to comfort her with a smile. I believed every word of it. My friend has since died. People talk about lesser signs. They find pennies on the ground or see monarch butterflies or cardinals as signs from heaven sent by the deceased. I saw all these things but the cynic in me brushed them away, hoping for something bigger. I barely remember the dream, but I did capture his last words, which were in Spanish: I think it was a message about my dreams to finish school, but it took a bigger meaning in general. We were not created to be satisfied until we reach perfect communion with God. Earth is an exile; we cannot expect it to be heaven. We must wait patiently, and exercise faith that we will be reunited again. Jesus came so that those who trust in Him would pass from death to life. In the meantime, those of us who have been left behind still have to live on earth. It occurred to me that this is where I need to trust God and put my faith into practice. Believing in what we cannot see, and having the patient assurance that what God promised will indeed come to pass, is what separates us from non-believers. We must persevere in faith, in the the hope of his promise. The details will be revealed later.

12 Signs Your Loved Ones Are Visiting You 1. Pennies from Heaven. Your deceased Loved Ones can manipulate the energy of the environment. They can get people to 'accidentally' drop small things in your presence and then nudge you to look down at the right moment.

What if I told you that you can or even that you already have? Spirit sends us signs all the time to let us know that they are near. Your deceased loved one can easily connect with you if you just know what to look for! Here are 6 ways your loved ones in spirit can connect to you! Spirit will provide you with little gifts to let you know they heard your calls. These little gifts let you know they are with you. They can even send you little treasures such as sea glass with resonating words on it! Songs, TV, Messages Have you ever been driving while thinking of your loved one and suddenly a song comes on that reminds you of them? This is a sign that they are with you! TV or even random people can bring through messages from your loved ones as well. My favorite example of this was when I was thinking of my friend Jimbo who had passed the year before. I have never heard of this place nor had I seen the advertisement prior to or afterward. It could also be a truck that drives by with a big bluebird posted on the side when you asked to see a bluebird the day before. Spirit loves to connect with me through license plates. One day before I was a professional medium I was having one of those days. Plants and animals Animals are already known to bring messages from spirit but when four bald eagles fly overhead 15 minutes after you ask for a sign then you KNOW that they were sent just for you! Flowers and plants are similar to animals in that each one has its own symbolic meaning. If their favorite flowers and plants cross your path then you know they are with you. Memories or things that remind you of them. This is a sign that not only are they with you but they are trying to connect with you! In these moments, pay attention! They may have more tricks up their sleeve than you realize too! A few weeks ago my sister and I had been talking about my grandparents because we both kept feeling them. My grandma was a gift giver and my little sister is about to start driving—coincidence? If your loved one is near you may smell their old perfume or even their cooking. It can be quite a strange experience but it is a trigger to the senses to think about them thus letting you know they are in the very same room with you! Your loved ones, spirit guides, and spirit team are always around you. They reach out to you and try so hard to connect with you. To learn how to ask for a sign from spirit click here!
