Early life[edit] Service was born in Preston, Lancashire , England, [4] the third of ten children. His father, also Robert Service, was a banker from Kilwinning , Scotland, who had been transferred to England. Browning , Keats , Tennyson , and Thackeray. He drifted around western North America, "wandering from California to British Columbia," [4] taking and quitting a series of jobs: He mentioned to a customer Charles H. Gibbons, editor of the Victoria Daily Colonist that he wrote verses, with the result that six poems by "R. He had been captured on November 15, , alongside Winston Churchill. He was working as a "farm labourer and store clerk when he first met Constance MacLean at a dance in Duncan B. Though he was smitten, "MacLean was looking for a man of education and means to support her" so was not that interested. In Victoria he lived over the bank with a hired piano, and dressed for dinner. In Kamloops, horse country, he played polo. In the fall of , the bank sent him to their Whitehorse branch in Yukon. With the expense money he bought himself a raccoon coat. Give us something about our own bit of earth. We sure would appreciate it. Inspired, he ran to the bank to write it down almost being shot as a burglar , and by the next morning "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" was complete. After having collected enough poems for a book, Service "sent the poems to his father, who had emigrated to Toronto , and asked him to find a printing house so they could make it into a booklet. He enclosed a cheque to cover the costs and intended to give these booklets away to his friends in Whitehorse" for Christmas. His father took the manuscript to William Briggs in Toronto, whose employees loved the book. A salesman read the proofs out loud as they came off the typesetting machines. That same year there was an edition in New York, Philadelphia, and London. The London publisher, T. Fisher Unwin , struck a twenty-third printing in , and thirteen more by Service hung his head in shame But, that summer, tourists from the south arrived in Whitehorse looking for the famous poet; and he autographed many of his books. Now that he was a successful author, she agreed to become engaged to him. Edna Clarke and began his career as a full-time author. He returned to Dawson City in to write his third book of poetry, Rhymes of a Rolling Stone In she "married Leroy Grant, a surveyor and railroad engineer based in Prince Rupert. He settled in the Latin Quarter , posing as a painter. During the day he would promenade in the best suits, with a monocle. At night he went out in old clothes with the company of his doorman, a retired policeman, to visit the lowest dives of the city". Those experiences would be used in his next book of poetry, Ballads of a Bohemian The verses are separated by diary entries over a period of four years. A Tale of Tahiti New York, were both later made into silent movies. In , Service returned to Kilwinning, to erect a memorial to his family in the town cemetery. He wintered in Nice with his family, then fled France for Canada. They rebuilt, and he lived there until his death in , though he wintered in Monte Carlo on the French Riviera. Service could not bring himself to go back. He preferred to remember the town as it had been. A book he had written in was published posthumously. He died in Lancieux and is buried in the local cemetery. Yet I never wrote to please anyone but myself; it just happened. I belonged to the simple folks whom I liked to please. Then I would pace back and forth before them, repeating them, trying to make them perfect. I wanted to make them appeal to the eye as well as to the ear. I tried to avoid any literal quality. It was as if someone was whispering in my ear. It was a marvelous experience. Before I crawled into my bed at five in the morning, my ballad was in the bag. As I started in: There are strange things done in the midnight sun, verse after verse developed with scarce a check Next day, with scarcely any effort of memory I put it on paper. The sordid, the gross, the bestial, may sometimes be redeemed by the touch of genius; but that Promethean touch is not in Mr. It is a convenient term for this wilfully violent kind of verse without the power to redeem the squalid themes it treats. He has come into touch with the grimmest of realities; and while his radical faults have not been cured, his rude lines drive home the truth that he has seen. I have noticed so much verse in exactly the same idiom , and I wonder how far Mr. There was a time, fifty years ago," he added," when Robert W. Service represented, with some accuracy, the general level of poetic experience in Canada, as far as the popular reader was concerned The Robert Service Way , a main road in Whitehorse, is named after him. The album was released by RCA Victor. Snow and other musicians including Chet Atkins and Chubby Wise provided background music. One of the streets of Lancieux has been called Robert Service Street. On July 13, , a commemorative tablet was unveiled at the Lancieux Office du Tourisme by the daughter of the poet: An evening of celebration was organized afterwards with a dinner attended by many guests from Scotland and the Yukon. Dawson City cabin[edit] Robert Service lived from to in a small two-room cabin on 8th Avenue which he rented from Edna Clarke in Dawson City. He wrote in his autobiography: It would have saddened me to see dust and rust where once hummed a rousing town; hundreds where were thousands; tumbledown cabins, mouldering warehouses. In it was taken over by Parks Canada , which maintains it, including its sod roof, as a tourist attraction. This was very popular for summer visitors and set the standard for Robert Service recitations. Since the show has been held at the Westmark Hotel in Dawson City during the summer months.
