If you practice in a mirror, you learn to connect with that person looking back at you. You get a feeling for what your audience experiences. And that's a good thing.

Life Long Learning I purposely opened a Maybank account for the sake of using it for online shopping. You know, most online sellers they are doing transactions using Maybank. So, without wanting to further bother my friends and my father for using their accounts to do money transferring, I decided to have my very own Maybank account. But usually, the price of things you are buying will not be in a fixed number like 10, 50, or any amounts which you can use RM10, RM50, or RM notes. Some sellers said they will return the balance, I once believed it but in my case, she did not return the balance. Lucky it was only RM1 balance. She said she forgot it. Another forgetful seller did not include a necklace which I should be getting as a free gift upon buying a blouse. The price you have to pay when doing online shopping, receive no balance or incomplete set of items you bought. However, since I opened my own account, I only did one money transfer transaction I guess. I just did not feel like buying things online anymore. Until last week, I decided to buy a blouse from an online boutique so I went to the nearest ATM in order to do money transfer. I tried for more than 5 times I think, but the machine kept saying that my PIN is incorrect. I returned home, relaxing the mind. Then I remembered that I saved the pin somewhere, I checked it. Well, now that explains how long I have not been using the card. I actually had the feeling that the branch does not cater to all transactions of Maybank and I was confirmed about it once I passed the door and took a queue number and sat down on a bench with other queuers. It was a very bright afternoon and I had to take another bus to go to another Maybank branch which is at Section 18, Shah Alam. Macam kesian giler plak nak bawak brg byk2 dr PKNS ke 18 then ke 17 pulak an. Now I feel like having my own car. I had the money to pay for the down payment but, I would feel terrible to ask parents to pay for the monthly debt. Alright, so I went to Section 18, had lunch first, Mcd, of course. New service from Maybank? As soon as I entered the bank, I had to deal with the front counter officer first since she will be giving the number and stuff. The front counter officer was quite unfriendly in facial expression, intonation and choice of words I might say. As I told her my card has been blocked, she asked me to fill in a form which applying for a new card. Alright, I followed her instruction since she was the boss then LOL. My curiosity answered when the akak who entertained me at the counter said she will unblock my card in a minute and asked me to try it immediately and yeah, it worked! Lebey2 plak an aku puji. Da alang2 tu, aku pon tanya pasal Maybank2u, cana nak register and stuff. I did what she told. Now I have Maybank2u oredi. No need to go to ATM anymore. With Maybank2u, any transactions could be made from your home. Dah cam promoter dah haa.. Now all the numbers have expired since we have to enter the number while we are still logged in to Maybank2u..

That's because when you leave the quiet room with the mirror, you go back to reality with its problems, people who are mean and critical to you, disappointments and worries. And you easily forget the way you felt while practicing confidence, and continue the day as usual.

A male human being; a man, husband. A primary word; a man. To take note of, perceive, consider carefully, discern, detect, make account of. From kata and noieo; to observe fully. He, she, it, they, them, same. From the particle au; the reflexive pronoun self, used of the third person, and of the other persons. From pros and ops; the front, i. The countenance, aspect, appearance, surface; by implication, presence, person. A primary preposition denoting position, and instrumentality, i. A mirror, looking-glass made of highly polished metal. From eis and a presumed derivative of optanomai; a mirror. He literally, this is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a mirror. Not a "glass," but a mirror of polished steel, such as are still used in the East. Pulpit Commentary Verses 23, The expression is an unusual one, but there is no doubt of its meaning. The mirror of burnished brass. Matthew Henry Commentary 1: Mere hearers are self-deceivers; and self-deceit will be found the worst deceit at last. If we flatter ourselves, it is our own fault; the truth, as it is in Jesus, flatters no man. Let the word of truth be carefully attended to, and it will set before us the corruption of our nature, the disorders of our hearts and lives; and it will tell us plainly what we are. Our sins are the spots the law discovers: This is the case with those who do not hear the word as they ought. In hearing the word, we look into it for counsel and direction, and when we study it, it turns to our spiritual life. Those who keep in the law and word of God, are, and shall be, blessed in all their ways. His gracious recompence hereafter, would be connected with his present peace and comfort. Every part of Divine revelation has its use, in bringing the sinner to Christ for salvation, and in directing and encouraging him to walk at liberty, by the Spirit of adoption, according to the holy commands of God. And mark the distinctness, it is not for his deeds, that any man is blessed, but in his deed. It is not talking, but walking, that will bring us to heaven.

Opening Quote[ edit ] If our Gods and our hopes are nothing but scientific phenomena, then let us admit it must be said that our love is scientific as well. His downfall came when his reach exceeded his grasp. Just as luck appears in three, so does misfortune. Then boom, the end comes! If the essence of life is information carried in DNA, then society and civilization are just colossal memory systems, and a metropolis like this one, simply a sprawling external memory. Major Motoko Kusanagi[ edit ] We weep for the blood of a bird, but not for the blood of a fish. Blessed are those with a voice. The mirror does not reflect evil, but creates it. And if thou gaze long into an abyss, the abyss will also gaze into thee. Based on a Buddhist Poem Understanding is in principle solely based on wishful thinking. Togusa[ edit ] [With his head between his hands, looking to the floor after a grenade explodes near him] All I could see Once their strings are cut, they easily crumble. Dialogue[ edit ] Togusa: How great is the sum of thy thoughts? If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand. Psalms , Old Testament. His legions, angel forms, who lay entranced. Thick as autumnal leaves that strow the brooks. You sure have gotten informal, Lin. Since when do you skip the "Sir"? The less one forgets, the less one can remember? We got loyalty even in my line. You cannot serve both masters, so which loyalty is yours? Other[ edit ] Section 9 Department Chief Aramaki: I ordered you to conduct an investigation. I never said skip the paperwork and act like vigilantes. In a future time when most human thought has been accelerated by artificial intelligence and external memory can be shared on a universal matrix, Batou, an agent of the elite Section 9 Security Force and a being so artificially modified as to be essentially cyborg, is assigned, along with his mostly human partner, Togusa, to investigate a series of gruesome murders.

Try to find someone with whom you can talk, speak, share. When you feel like talking in front of mirror/away with yourself, try to compose your thoughts on a paper, blogs, etc. Try compartmentalizing things.

You can find the link to his book at the bottom of the page. Moody got the idea for this from the psychomanteums that the ancient Greeks used. He built his own psychomanteum and allows people to use it to visit with their loved ones who have passed over. He gives instructions in his book for how to built your own psychomanteum so you can mirror-gaze in the privacy of your own home. The book gives more detail on the technique. This should be done in a dark and quiet room. Use a fan or a white noise device to block outside noises ear plugs may also work. Set up a large mirror with a place for you to sit, either in the floor or on a chair. You should be seated so that you can see into the mirror, but not see your own reflection. So sit at an angle to the mirror. Place a lit candle behind you. It will provide indirect light. Gather personal items from the spirit that you wish to connect with and lay them around you close enough to touch them from your seated position in front of the mirror. Sit quietly in front of the mirror and hold one of the items that remind you of your loved one. Think about your loved one and mentally ask them to come and communicate with you. You may close your eyes or look away from the mirror as you take some time to relax. An easy way to relax is to breathe in to the slow count of five, hold the breath for five seconds, then breathe out very slowly to the count of five. After you do this several times you will notice that you are very relaxed. With unfocused eyes, gaze into the mirror. You will eventually begin to see the mirror clouding over. Try not to focus on the cloudy shapes that pass by. Just let them pass and keep staring off into the space, into the mirror. If you have a piece of fabric or a cologne bottle that smells like your loved one, pick it up and smell it as you continue gazing. If you are in a deep enough trance state, you will eventually begin to see the clouds taking the form of a human shape or shapes. Many people using this technique have seen in the mirror their loved one walk up and stand next to them and they had a conversation or a mental exchange of thoughts and feelings. Sometimes the loved one will appear to you and simply smile or wave. You may first see a group of people and then your loved one will walk out from the group to greet you. A black mirror may be used in place of a regular mirror, but they are harder to find. Trophy shops or online occult stores may have them. You will almost certainly want to talk to someone about what happened so make sure that you have a friend or relative you can call afterward or who is there waiting in another room. The visit with your loved one could be emotional, although most people feel elated after such a visit. Occasionally you will want to see a particular person, but another person will show up instead. Try to accept the spirit who visits you and see if they have a message to give you. They may have been sent on behalf of the person you wanted to see. To learn more about this technique and read inspiring success stories from people who have used it, get a copy of Dr. This book may be found at used bookstores and libraries. Moody also offers information about contacting the deceased, as well as more on how the Greeks used psychomanteums to contact the dead on his DVDs, which can be found here: Life After Life by Raymond Moody.
