

1: Answers to quotes of man being God

Here are eight inspiring Bible quotes about God's grace from the Bible. Ephesians "For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, not a result of works, so that no one may boast." This is the most often quoted verse about grace in the.

I started on my desolate way, and I found that God had strapped on his knapsack, and taken up his staff. It is up to him, after all, to have us, our part consists of almost solely in letting him grasp us. It is mindful of how we paste decals to a sliding glass door to keep from bumping our nose against it. A channel choked with a lifetime of debris, of wrecked and broken years, tangled hours and intentions. Not room for God, not room for me! Express through me as through the hues of your flowers, the songs of your starlings. Vest me with brilliant hues, or with carols. Let me be some color of your soul, some sound of your uttering XXVIII," At the Roots of Grasses, We look into the reverse end of the kaleidoscope of human events and see, mostly, confusion and discord; while God beholds harmony from the divine end. God is a sort of burglar. As a young man you knock him down; as an old man, you try to conciliate him because he may knock you down. If you understand you have failed. In our fellow man, we see where He is still at work. Whose Body Nature is, and God the Soul. When people choose to withdraw far from a fire, the fire continues to give warmth, but they grow cold. When people choose to withdraw far from light, the light continues to be bright in itself but they are in darkness. This is also the case when people withdraw from God. He may be as miserable as we are. Come to God for a faith lift. God is our eternal fallout shelter. Let him write it. Fischer "Those who believe that they believe in God, but without passion in their hearts, without anguish in mind, without uncertainty, without doubt, without an element of despair even in their consolation, believe in the God idea, not God himself. I saw Him in the sunny sky And in the flowers at my feet; I heard His voice in songs of birds Upon the wing, so pure and sweet! He is more than even the entirety of the dictionary. I hear and behold God in every object, yet understand God not in the least How long before the mist condensed and ran in rivers to the sea? XI," At the Roots of Grasses, Whenever I see sunbeams coming through clouds, it always looks to me like God shining himself down onto us Imagine how God feels. Henley, "Beauty," If Creation were a crime, would not God be the prime suspect? The sun, the earth, love, friends, our very breath are parts of the banquet Shall we think of the day as a chance to come nearer to our Host, and to find out something of Him who has fed us so long? We keep each other happy and warm. To break all its glass balls, and then to find that life did not lie in the glass balls. To have all my idols shattered, and then to find God in the earth at their base. It was on a Sunday, I remember. My sister was a tiny child then, and she was drinking her milk, and all of a sudden I saw that she was God and the milk was God. I mean, all she was doing was pouring God into God, if you know what I mean. Inner fire we need to liberate. Hapgood God is with you always. Simply turn your face to Him. Buckminster Fuller There can be no doubt that in some respects we were surpassed in wisdom by devout men who lived when a small district, sparsely inhabited, seemed to be a world. They knew less of the machinery of the universe than we know, but they saw more clearly its motive power; and the love, the trust, the adoration which they displayed far surpassed in dignity the self-glorification of the modern scientist, who after a short life-time of learning and investigation, stands on his little ant-hill of knowledge, and looking round him exclaims, "I know the world, and I can see no God in it. Porter said of him in , "Much of the wheat of England was sifted to make New England, but not all of it. Very much remained in the homeland. Alfred Rowland, of London. We are the warp; angels, the weft; God, the weaver. Only the Weaver sees the whole design. Man is born broken. He lives by mending. The grace of God is glue! What is it that has always been and always will be, from whose bosom we all came and to which we will all return? Most call it Time. A few realize that it is God. I have had the experience of being gripped by something that is stronger than myself, something that people call God. But, if I were God, I would not honor such a request. I believe in love even when I am alone. I believe in God even when He is silent. It can only make God brighter. Know God, know peace. I can only answer with another question:

2: What is the New Age movement?

As soon may you expect the leopard to regret the blood with which its fangs are moistened,â€”as soon might you expect the lion of the wood to abjure his cruel tyranny over the feeble beasts of the plain, as expect the sinner to make any confession, or offer any repentance that shall be accepted of God, unless grace shall first renew the heart."

What is the New Age movement? One only has to realize it. New Age thinking has its roots, then, in Eastern mysticism, which attempts to bypass the mind. There is a new organ of perceptionâ€”the third eyeâ€”which gives spiritual light. Neil Anderson in his book, Walking Through the Darkness, writes this: Anderson goes on to summarize New Age thinking pages 22â€”24 as follows: The belief that all is one and one is all. If all is one, including God, then one must conclude that all is God. It is pantheismâ€”trees, snails, books, and people are all of one divine essence. If we are God, we need to know we are God. We must become cosmically conscious, enlightened, or attuned to the cosmic consciousness. The essential is not whether we believe or meditate, but whom we believe in and what we meditate upon. Christ is the true, personal, objective reality, as He said that He is the way, the truth and the life, and no one comes to the Father except through Him John 14:6. There is a New Age coming. There will be a new world order, a new world government. New Age thinkers believe that there will eventually be a progressive unification of world consciousness. This, according to the Bible, is a counterfeit kingdom led by Satan himself. Christ has the true kingdom, and He will one day rule on earth with peace for all who accept Him as Savior and King Revelation 5:6-14. They believe they can create reality by what they believe, and, by changing what they believe, they can change reality. All moral boundaries have been erased. There are no absolutes because there is no distinction between good and evil. Nothing has reality until one says that it is reality or says that it is truth. If finite man can create truth, we are in desperate trouble in our society. Unless there are eternal absolutes from the eternal God, man will eventually be his own destruction. This is the kingdom of darkness of which Satan is the head. Those involved in this kind of activity are in contact with a world that is totally opposed to the biblical God revealed to us in Jesus Christ, who defeated Satan Matthew 4:1-11. The New Age movement is a counterfeit philosophy that appeals to the feelings of individuals, leading them to think that that they are God and can enhance their lives through their own person. The reality is that we are born, grow up, live a while on planet Earth, and die. We can never be God. We need someone greater than we who can provide us forgiveness and life eternal. Praise the Lord for the God-man, Jesus Christ. Through His death and bodily resurrection, He has won for us what we desperately need: Read John chapter 3. Ask Christ to be your Savior. Your life will be transformed, and you will know who you are, why you are here, and where you are going.

the amazing grace of god Your worst days are never so bad that you are beyond the reach of God's grace. And your best days are never so good that you are beyond the need of God's grace.

This attribute of God is one that makes me smile. What comfort we can find in a God that loves us despite of ourselves. God loves you and He wants you to know this! I know you came to this article looking for some great quotes and verses so I am going to let them do the rest of the talking. The followers of Jesus are children of God, and they should manifest the family likeness by doing good to all, even to those who deserve the opposite. Bruce 16 Consider what you owe to His immutability. Though you have changed a thousand times, He has not changed once. Charles Spurgeon 15 God waits for you to communicate with Him. You have instant, direct access to God. God loves mankind so much, and in a very special sense His children, that He has made Himself available to you at all times. Duewel God loves us too much to indulge our every whim. Philip Yancey 12 No matter what storm you face, you need to know that God loves you. He has not abandoned you. Franklin Graham God loves each of us as if there were only one of us. Augustine 10 If you know that God loves you, you should never question a directive from Him. It will always be right and best. When He gives you a directive, you are not just to observe it, discuss it, or debate it. You are to obey it. Lewis 8 but God shows his love for us in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. God is infinite in wisdom. God is perfect in love. God in His love always wills what is best for us. In His wisdom He always knows what is best, and in His sovereignty He has the power to bring it about. Jerry Bridges 5 God proved His love on the Cross. Lewis 3 But God, being rich in mercy, because of the great love with which he loved us, even when we were dead in our trespasses, made us alive together with Christâ€™” by grace you have been saved. For I am sure that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present nor things to come, nor powers, nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Steve Shirley This is a list of quotes that I have found from many different sources over the years that have inspired me, encouraged me, given me hope, and strengthened my faith. I pray these will bless you. A man of God in the will of God is immortal until His work is done. When love has gone out of a marriage, it is better to get divorced. It is better for the children for the unhappy couple to divorce than to raise their children in the atmosphere of an unhappy marriage. Divorce is the lesser of two evils. You owe it to yourself. God led me to this divorce. Sproul Islam is a religion in which God requires you to send your son to die for him. Christianity is a faith in which God sends his son to die for you. Will you pass the test or have the monies? The strong Christian fears God, not man. The weak Christian fears man too much, and God too little. Tell Him you have a plan. I will live for God. If no one else does, I still will. Sproul If you are not as close to God as you used to be, who moved? Moody Everyone says forgiveness is a lovely idea, until they have something to forgive. Lewis Jesus Christ did not come into this world to make bad people good; He came into this world to make dead people live. Smith Any place you can take Jesus Christ with you is ok to go. Vernon Mcgee A revival is the church falling in love with Jesus Christ all over again. Vernon Mcgee No one is going to be powerful in their ministry if they are hiding something that they are afraid people will find out at any moment. That is cool, then I will go to Christ. Ok Paul, we are going to let you live. That is great, then I can witness Christ. Ok, then we will torture you. That is fine, then I will receive a reward in Heaven one day. Neither does he have anything to die by. Vernon Mcgee If lips and life do not agree, the testimony will not amount to much. You sit still and trust the engineer. His house is now a distribution center for Bibles in many languages. I thought I was the only one. Lewis A dog barks when his master is attacked. If you have only the Spirit, you blow up. But if you have both, you grow up. The difference is that now we flaunt it. It used to be done in secret, but now it is done in the open. Vernon Mcgee paraphrase Every inch of ground we refuse to take with God, we surrender to the enemy. Just as the scars of Jesus convinced Thomas, perhaps your scars will convince someone today. The truth is, worshippers of God are made during dark, stormy nights. And how we respond to our storms determines just what kind of worshippers we are. Yet a glimpse is enough. Chesterton If you take care of yourself and walk with integrity, you may be confident that God will deal with those who sin against you. God will one day turn your persecution into praise. Lewis If we ever forget that we are one Nation Under God, then we will be a nation gone under. Vernon Mcgee If a sinner comes into your assembly or you otherwise come into contact with him, remember that he is a human being for whom Christ died. He stands at the foot of the cross, just as you stand at the foot of the cross. Bruce As we pour out our bitterness, God pours in His peace. Meyer If the church marries herself to the spirit of the times, she will find herself a widow in the next generation. Lewis I know, perhaps as well as anyone, what depression means, and what it is to feel myself sinking lower and lower. Yet at the worst, when I reach the lowest depths, I have an inward peace which no pain or depression can in the least disturb. Trusting in Jesus Christ my Savior, there is a blessed quietness in the deep caverns of my soul, through upon the surface, a rough tempest may be raging, and there may be little apparent calm. Ryle The family that prays together stays together. If you are not content with what you have, you would not be satisfied if it were doubled. Crowley The really great man is the who makes every man feel great. Chesterton A hypocrite is a person who acts differently on Sunday morning. It is by costly, self-denying Christian practice that we show the reality of our faith. A trusting expectation that God is going to keep His word. God loved us even when we were still His enemies cf. Lewis Are you weak? How is your relationship with God? I believe the greater the pressure, the greater the need for time alone with Him. Nor have we any right to boast over them; for, by nature, and of ourselves, we are no better than they. He would not be like His Lord if he had not. If we were without enemies we might fear that we were not the friends of God, for friendship of the world is enmity to God. Put one little tallow in the middle of a large hall, and it will give a good deal of light. Moody The Bible is a compass, pointing you in the right direction. Vernon Mcgee Christ is more concerned about what we do with Him than for Him. And any part of the Bible can only be properly explained in reference to the whole Bible. Bruce Train up a child in the way he should go- but be sure you go that way yourself. Sproul No Jesus, no peace. Know Jesus, know peace. And yet, the age of persecution was the greatest period of church growth in history. Lewis The Christian ideal has not been tried and found wanting. It has been found difficult and left untried. Chesterton The safest place to be is within the will of God. At times He lets you proceed, but He will never let you go too far without discipline to bring you back. In your relationship with God, He may let you make a wrong decision. He guides you back to the right path. Meyer Anxiety does not empty tomorrow of its sorrows, but only empties today of its strength. It is since Christians have largely ceased to think of the other world that they have become so ineffective in this. Lewis When we change the message of God, we change the God of the message. Friend, have you ever tried being alone? That is where God will meet with you. Take the Word of God and go off alone with Him. It will do you a lot of good. Vernon Mcgee When it seems as if God is far away, remind yourself that He is near. Nearness is not a matter of geography. The more we become like the Lord, the nearer He is to us. We want a church that will move the world. Chesterton Not until we take God seriously will we ever take sin seriously. Sproul Prayer is when you talk to God; meditation is when you listen to God. Moody Someone has said that the marks of a strong church are wet eyes, bent knees, and a broken heart. Do overgenerous deeds, acts beyond reimbursement. Do a deed for which you cannot be repaid. Everett Koop former Surgeon General We are nowhere forbidden to laugh. It is good for me to have been afflicted, that I might know how to speak a word in season to one that is weary. Ryrie We are challenged these days, but not changed; convicted, but not converted. We hear, but do not; and thereby we deceive ourselves.

5: Mercy Quotes ( quotes)

If you know that God loves you, you should never question a directive from Him. It will always be right and best. When He gives you a directive, you are not just to observe it, discuss it, or debate it.

The relationship between God and Mankind is totally unique. A sovereign is a government. This means that God is the ruler of mankind. By definition, a sovereign makes, interprets, and enforces laws. There is no one like you, and there is no God but you, as we have heard with our own ears. God is King over all Creation. He is King of Kings and Lord of Lords. As King and Lord, honor, worship, adoration, respect and obedience are His rightful due. They are not simply good ideas or things we should do. He has the right to expect and insist on them. Many Americans and an increasing number of Western Europeans have been misled into a false understanding of the proper relationship between man and God by the principles of democracy. But consider the beginning of the American Declaration of Independence: God deliberately and intentionally made man inferior to Himself, limited in power and knowledge. Hence, it is only right for the Supreme Being to have authority to lay down the law for inferior beings who are His subjects. Of course, it must be noted that the term "men" in the Declaration of Independence meant "mankind", not "males. However, the Constitution was an entirely separate document, written more than a decade later in God gave Man dominion over all the earth. Are you saying that God sent that dope dealer drug addict, etc. God sent that boyfriend who beats up your mother? God sent that drunk driver who put your best friend in a wheelchair for life? How do they explain Genesis 1: Why did Jesus call Satan "the prince of this world"? God has the ability to exert absolute, irresistible control but He chooses not to use it. If God forced people to do His will, He would simply be like a film director -- the characters not the actors in the film have no control or influence over what they say and do. The Bible says God gave man dominion. Our spirit wants to follow God, but our flesh wants to follow sin. The person still makes the decision to follow God or follow Satan, not God. God gives us the choice of whether to follow, whether to obey. We decide, not Him. When they sinned, Adam and Eve handed over dominion to Satan. People can either follow God or follow Satan. When Adam and Eve sinned, they chose to follow Satan. When God "let them rule. He did not say "let them rule over all the earth unless they do whatever. Satan is the prince and has dominion of this world. He has no hold on me, [31] but the world must learn that I love the Father and that I do exactly what my Father has commanded me. If Satan had no control in this world he would not be the prince of this world. It would not be necessary to drive him out. God gave man control of the earth. If God had taken earth back after Adam and Eve sinned, then He would not really have given them control. Thus, it was necessary for a human to redeem earth, not God directly. This is why Jesus had to come as a human being -- fully human -- just like Adam. Jesus had to be born of a virgin -- otherwise He would have inherited the spiritual disease of sin, as the "seed" of Adam. God protects those who love Him. There is no one on earth like him; he is blameless and upright, a man who fears God and shuns evil. You have blessed the work of his hands, so that his flocks and herds are spread throughout the land. It is important to understand the term "fear of the Lord" in the Bible. It does not mean terror or dread. This is the being that created the universe, created Heaven and Hell, created us, created the angels, etc. And God is faithful; he will not let you be tempted beyond what you can bear. But when you are tempted, he will also provide a way out so that you can stand up under it. God gives every man freedom to choose Him or reject Him. God permits each person to be tempted with sin. These points are related: Because He is perfect and there is no sin in Him, God cannot tempt people to sin. When Satan tempts a person he provides a choice. God permits each of us to be tempted so our true character will be revealed -- either a person will choose God and righteousness or he will choose Satan and evil. Some Protestant denominations teach pre-destination -- that God chose upfront who will be saved and who will perish, and we can do nothing to change that. If that is true, then there is no point in evangelizing, teaching the Gospel, preaching, etc. Smith is a known drug dealer, but the police can never catch him dealing drugs. Let me make him an offer. Smith says "Sure", and they work out the details.

The informant shows up with money, Smith delivers the crack cocaine, and Jones arrests him. Did Smith choose of his own free will to sell the "crack"? God wants a personal relationship with each person. He has given proof of this to all men by raising him from the dead. You believe that he can do what he says he can do and you believe that he will do what he says he will do. It is perfectly reasonable for God to expect us to trust Him. But when we offered to do it, the reaction of our boss, acquaintance, parent, child, spouse, etc. Now imagine if you were God, and had all power and all knowledge and created and sustained the entire universe Wash your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you double-minded. Through the Holy Spirit, God attracts each person to Him, both before the person accepts Him and after. However, if a person continually resists the Spirit, God will not force Himself on the person and will withdraw the Spirit. Just as we continue to provide a minimum level of support to criminals serving life sentences, God continues to provide a minimum level of support by keeping the person alive, reasonably healthy, etc. However, without prevenient grace it is almost impossible for someone to accept God. Some denominations teach that it is completely impossible. God will lift us up if we humble ourselves. G od so loved the world that He gave His O.

7: What is meant by the grace of God? - explore www.enganchecubano.com

Grace means to get something that you do not deserve; unmerited favor. Mercy means you do not get a punishment that you deserve; compassion, forbearance. God is abundant in grace and mercy and we can read about it in the Bible. His greatest act of grace is the gift of salvation that is available.

To show how we should love and care for the lord. It is saying to be graceful to the lord. We should love every thin the lord gives us. At church we should praise him and love him. We would not be here if it was not for God. He made every thing you see now. People would not be able to make man-made-things if god was not here. God is our fist father. We should respect him. We are Gods people. We might be seen from a bad eye but we should still stay loyal to our god. People may not like us. People may mistreat us. May god bless you all. 8: 55 Quotes about Believing in God

God And Art quotes - 1. Art is a collaboration between God and the artist, and the less the artist does the better. Read more quotes and sayings about God And Art.

There are so many. We could spend a lifetime celebrating them: A more summary approach is to affirm that life itself is the fundamental gift, with all its delights. For us, the gift of life includes the wondrous gift of being human, finding ourselves plopped down in the midst of the larger gift of creation. That is the bedrock of grace—creation, life, human being. As humans, we are given a unique place in the created order. The creation stories in Genesis are ways of celebrating this original grace. In the stories, God pronounces all creation, including humankind, very good, that is, full of grace. We also use the word grace to mean the secondary gifts we perceive in the skill and intelligence of creatures. The gospel says the boy Jesus grew in grace and favor, meaning he began to exhibit his unique personality and potential to contribute to his community. We speak of the beauty of a lion or a dancer, saying they exude an animal grace, discerned in the vitality and fluidity of their movement. There is another way of speaking about grace that is more about redemption than about creation. Whereas God pronounced original grace, the other side of the story is when we head off on our own, ignoring the Giver. This headstrong straying we have called original sin, meaning our freedom to choose the not so good, to turn aside from original grace. Ironically, this freedom is itself the most unique grace given humankind by God, the capacity to choose our own way, which must necessarily entail the possibility of choosing poorly. Because we have not always chosen the most graceful path, we have ended up in some miserable, blind alleys along the way. When we grasp our predicament and call for the help we had previously spurned, amazing grace comes to the rescue. This turning and returning we call conversion. As another simple hymn says, conversion is turning, turning, til we come round right. When we forget grace and our need of it, amazing grace prompts our memory and then upholds our will, our intention to right our lives, to make amends. The process of continual conversion is the grace most associated with the Holy Spirit. It is also called sanctifying grace. The action of this kind of grace is summarized as repentance, confession, and amendment of life. We rely on grace to make us whole, personally and communally, over time. Redemptive grace is focused most clearly in the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth, whom Christians call Christ, meaning the one chosen to deliver this particular grace. We might refer to Jesus as Grace himself, as Grace in the flesh, as Grace walking around. Jesus exhibited this kind of power and challenged us to do the same. The spiritual power demonstrated by Jesus, and the saints who have sought to imitate his cooperation with God, is the energy which continues to heal the world, to bring it into more and more wholeness. This grace is the assistance given us when we choose to become the people that God means us to be, giving ourselves over to whatever goodness we are meant to create, to redeem, to sustain. Lehman I will come at this question in two ways: In the Word Book article written by N. Snaith, it is stated that there is a sharp distinction between the use of the word grace in the Old and New Testaments. In the Old Testament, it can be used to designate kindness and graciousness in general, with no particular tie or personal relationship between the individuals involved, and generally shown by a superior to an inferior when there is no obligation to do so. It is also used in the OT, however, to signify a specific kindness that gives pleasure to both giver and receiver, thereby implying some sort of special relationship between them. Yet how do we understand, how do we experience grace today? I often think of it in terms of a statement I once heard: To be accepted in this way means to be cherished, to be loved, to be guarded from ultimate evil. It means that who we basically are is valued, honored and respected. The author Frederick Buechner, in his book Wishful Thinking, puts it this way: Here is your life. Here is the world. Beautiful and terrible things will happen. I am with you. Nothing can ever separate us. Maybe being able to reach out and take it is a gift too. Margaret Guinness Grace is basically a gift. It does not come as a result of something a person did or in recognition of an accomplishment or milestone. So, unlike a birthday or Christmas gift that one receives in recognition of an event, grace is given to us by God for no reason. All of us are recipients of the grace of God regardless of how "good" or "bad" we are. To me, Psalm describes the way in which God reaches out to us with this forgiving, all-encompassing love. The other powerful illustration of "grace" is the way Jesus treated persons-- accepting those who were considered outcasts by eating with them, healing them, listening and talking with them. This is the accepted definition of "grace," with the ending phrase reassuring us that we have no worries about our present state of sinfulness. Still, my soul tells me there is a caveat. We must accept this grace in a special way known to God and us as partners. Once you start talking to God as You, this becomes easier and easier. This acceptance must include, "How can I thank You? Then listen and wait. You will hear, "Love your neighbor. We can be aware of it or not. One Sunday one of our priests was asked to lead services for about homeless men and women. The priest started to recite the 23rd Psalm, and after a pause of just a second, every man and woman joined in the recitation. These people know well the valley of the shadow of death. I heard the grace of God that day. God has the ability to "forgive and forget. Another difference is that God always forgives, while not all of us are capable of forgiveness.

9: Titus For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation to all men.

To learn the definition of God's grace, it is wise to understand the Greek and Hebrew words behind this term. A prominent Old Testament word describing God's grace is chesed. This word speaks of deliverance from enemies, affliction, or adversity.

Tweet Grace means to get something that you do not deserve; unmerited favor. Mercy means you do not get a punishment that you deserve; compassion, forbearance. God is abundant in grace and mercy and we can read about it in the Bible. His greatest act of grace is the gift of salvation that is available for all people through faith Eph 2: When the gift is accepted, eternal life is promised to the recipient. This eternal life is a promise of a home one day in heaven with God. The promise to the believer is sealed with the Holy Spirit as a guarantee that one day Jesus the Christ will return to earth to claim His purchased possession Eph 1: Jesus purchased every sinner with His own blood on the cross at Calvary. You can read more about the grace of God and the Savior Jesus here. Following are twenty inspirational Bible verses about grace. Finding Grace Esther 2: I have loved you with an everlasting love; therefore I have continued my faithfulness to you. Barnabas took Mark with him and sailed away to Cyprus, but Paul chose Silas and departed, having been commended by the brothers to the grace of the Lord. Let us then with confidence draw near to the throne of grace Hebrews 4: Powerful Grace John 1: When he came and saw the grace of God, he was glad, and he exhorted them all to remain faithful to the Lord with steadfast purpose, for he was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit and of faith. And a great many people were added to the Lord. But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles and poisoned their minds against the brothers. So they remained for a long time, speaking boldly for the Lord, who bore witness to the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands. Receiving Grace John 1: For the law was given through Moses; grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. A Gift Eternal Romans 3: But now the righteousness of God has been manifested apart from the law, although the Law and the Prophets bear witness to it "the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all who believe. For there is no distinction: Through him we have also obtained access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. Yet death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those whose sinning was not like the transgression of Adam, who was a type of the one who was to come. But the free gift is not like the trespass. For the judgment following one trespass brought condemnation, but the free gift following many trespasses brought justification. Therefore, as one trespass led to condemnation for all men, so one act of righteousness leads to justification and life for all men. Now the law came in to increase the trespass, but where sin increased, grace abounded all the more, so that, as sin reigned in death, grace also might reign through righteousness leading to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. For by grace you have been saved through faith. And this is not your own doing; it is the gift of God, not a result of works, so that no one may boast. So did we, but not now, with the amplitudes of grace there are for us in Jesus Christ, it grows satisfying and successful and exciting beyond measure, becomes another and a richer thing.
