

1: Stolen Magic “ Marina Finlayson

Marina Finlayson is a reformed wedding organist who now writes fantasy. She is married and shares her Sydney home with three kids, a large collection of dragon statues and one very stupid dog with a death wish.

Her answer is to drop off the face of the earth. Safely hidden in a quiet seaside town, she just needs to keep her head down and pretend to be a regular human. Since her only magical ability is the power to control animals, that should be easy, right? Then a new fireshaper shows up in town. With his suspicious eyes watching her every move, her safe haven starts feeling more like a trap. When her best friend disappears, Lexi knows the time for hiding is over. It sounded interesting, in a favorite urban fantasy genre and it was the first in the series. Magic is also appealing to me. Stolen Magic was rather awesome! The world-building was fascinating and there were some great characters. The paranormal types were unique which is always refreshing. There were shapers, shifters, vampires, and gods. She has the trait of making friends of many types, needed by every heroine to succeed. There was plenty of action and adventure and mystery. Hollie Jackson did a fine job with the narration. I was completely lost in the story, which means she did well. Nothing stuck out as a problem in pacing or tone. At under 6 hours, it could have been longer with much more development of the world and characters. I really want to know what happened right after the end of the book. The next two books are available but not in audio format yet. I will have to get to them soon, anyway! Listen to the clip here.
