The following lesson plans are divided into three main sections Guided Reading Questions to accompany each of the five parts of the novel Reflective writing questions that can be used in multiple ways, including extended response questions, formal essays or individual closing assessments. What does the word obsession mean? Is there anything that you are obsessed with? Does it have anything to do with Hollywood, CA? How does Sammy describe it? Do you think it is foreshadowing something? Why do you think that the chemistry teacher, Mr. Birdwail, is so focused on Juliana? Find an example of this descriptive language that stands out to you, explain why you like it. Read the examples below to get you started. At the end of chapter two, think about all you have learned about Juliana. How would you describe her character? Think about how Sammy views her, the things she says, and her interactions with other characters. Would you describe her as a role model? Explain your answers with examples from the text. Think about the way that Sammy describes Mrs. He starts out hating her, but does he continue to feel that way? Would you want to be like Mrs. Think about the following statements below as you form your answer. What happens to Juliana at the end of this section? How does Sammy respond? How does the community respond? Pifas and Gigi and the Politics of Hollywood Pages What do you think about how Sammy chooses to deal with the situation on Friday night when he finds himself in the middle of a fight? Do you think he handles the pressure well? What would you have done? Think about how he describes his frustrations at the top of page Have you ever felt that way? What do you think of the following exchange between Gigi and Sammy? What do you think it means? Guys can talk how they want. They just gotta look good. Why do you think Sammy creates this idea of the garden p. What does the garden represent? Why would he say this? Lost without even knowing it. How have they changed? What does Sammy think about Pifas now? On the first day back to school the students find out about the new dress code. What do you think of the dress code? Is it like your own dress code? What do you think he means by this? Why does Gigi want to be class president? What happens when Gig gets up to give her speech? What does she say? How does the audience respond? What sort of political critique do you think the author is offering here? Where does this fear come from? Have you ever been afraid of school? Do you agree with this? Do you think schools in the United States are ever really bilingual? At the end of Chapter 13, he realizes why he became so fearful. What does he learn about himself? Does he still believe that what Father Fallon called him was true? Nobody thought Mexicans were far-out and groovy because we spoke English. How would that make you feel? What does it say about the school administration when they disappear in the middle of the fight? Davis with the rest of the school administration. Think about her actions during the school sit-in and her conversations with Sammy throughout the book. Is she different from other school administrators and staff? Give examples from the book. Think about what he writes on page to help you answer. How do you feel about your own home? Do you feel like Sammy or does home mean something different to you? Re-read the following quote from the section where Sammy gets his acceptance letter to college: But then, life, well, life just sort of exorcised those demons. Do you understand how Sammy feels? Have you ever felt this way? How would you deal with feeling like no matter how hard you worked, or how valid your dreams were, life would limit you from accomplishing your goals. Do you think this still happens to students today? Did you think that Pifas would make it back to Hollywood after the war? Welcome to Hollywood Pages What did graduation mean to Sammy? Knowing everything that has happened in the book so far, what do you think this means? If you were Sammy, would you put much hope in plans? What do you think he means? Everybody wanted to change my truck to make it more acceptable. Right then, right there, I decided not to paint my truck. Apodaca changed over the course of the book? How do you feel about the ending of the book? Is it what you wanted? How would you have ended it? Reflective Writing Prompts Now that you have read the entire book, go back and re-read the following quote from Sammy at the very beginning of the book: But they have their ways of making us listen. Maybe the dead need those of us who made it out alive to go out into the streets and tell everyone what happened. Maybe they want us to do more than tell. Maybe they want us to shout. Maybe they want us to point fingers. Use examples from the story to support your answer. Think about the garden that Sammy creates p. Why do you think Sammy creates this garden? What would be in your garden and why? Re-read the quote below: To look at him. To play this game like everything was fine, like he was just going away to camp or on vacation or like he was just moving away to California. Stay, I told myself. What do you think Sammy means when he writes that the only way that people survive is by pretending? You know the feeling. Your stomach is churning. You want to go back to bed. Your stomach feels like you swallowed a pigeon, and it was slamming your insides, trying to get out.
