Click image to play demo movie I was extremely pleased with the quality and content of the final product, and John was great to work with. The vinyl sleeves will make updating the charts very easy. Everyone from the CEO down is well pleased. Thanks for a quality product. Brett Hittner, Director of Facilities and EHS Channel Technologies Group We were able to review several different flip charts and developed one that was just what we needed for the school. The process was easy and quick and resulted in a very professional flip chart. We have posted in all of our classrooms " important information all in one place " in an emergency things may be a bit chaotic " this information will reduce anxiety and confusion and help all manage in a safe and effective manner. The emergency flip charts are a wonderful resource for our teachers and staff. The logistical information and emergency procedures can be found easily and we feel that we are better prepared in the case of an emergency. The flip chart looks great. They look great and we have distributed them to our staff. The vinyl sleeve was a wonderful addition and provides us with a lot of flexibility. Dan " Thank you for going the extra distance to create a template for us. Even the CEO commented on them! Thanks for hanging in there with me. Introduction A legibly printed, concisely written flip chart posted at strategic locations throughout your site or facility will provide a reliable resource for quickly finding the topic of an emergency, making accessible the appropriate procedures necessary for your own safety as well as that of people under your supervision. Emergency procedures flip charts may even save you money in insurance premiums. Consult with your insurer for potential discounts if you place flip charts at your facility. EHSConsult produces two types of flip charts: To begin, you may download one of our Microsoft Word templates. Follow the instructions on page 1 of of the template. Once your content is input, then fully reviewed and vetted, send the file back to us, and we will transfer it to Adobe InDesign CC for further processing layout and design. We will send you timely PDF drafts for your review, with up to three complimentary rounds of revisions. The revisions should be minimal in each round, so that is why it is important to fully review and vet your content as completely as possible before submitting it to us. If you need help with your emergency topic contents, we can send you boilerplate text related to various topics, relative to your type of organization. Please note that EHSConsult is not a printer broker, nor do we supply materials for building your own flip charts. The pages are bound directly to a wire-o binding , and cannot be replaced. Minimum order is 25 flip charts. Available in 12 or page configurations only. Then trim the pages to 8. If you know how many flip charts you need, and how many pages will be in the flip charts, we can provide you with estimates for both types of flip charts. Samples Below are some samples of our vinyl-sleeved flip charts: Below are some samples of our standard flip charts: Below are sample pages from some of our standard style flip charts. EHSConsult will design and format your content, and you will have many opportunities to review and advise the layout of your flip chart document. You may, however, reduce the text size; however, to improve readability, avoid text sizes smaller than 10 pt. Download a Microsoft Word template for the page flipchart. Email the completed document to dfi. Please direct your initial inquiries regarding quotes to John Fowler, at ehsconsult comcast. Number of flip charts in your order Style of flip chart vinyl-sleeved or standard Number of pages Amount of content this can only be determined once we have received your content. We typically quote for a nominal amount of content, when only the front of the flip chart pages are printed. Additional content can be printed on both sides of the pages, but will incur additional printing costs, and may result in additional time for layout and design. Once we have this information, we can provide you with an estimate. Content may have extensive grammatical errors or inconsistencies that could be corrected. For more extensive editing, EHSConsult can submit to you a single edited page as a PDF file, for your evaluation, before you decide to commit to this service on the entire document. You will be able to approve or refuse any additional fees to your content at this point. If you do refuse additional services then we will process your document with the content as you have provided it to us. The client is entitled only to the printed copies of their project. The original artwork or layout files may be purchased from EHSConsult on an exclusive use basis. The content of the flip charts belongs to the client, and it can be copied and pasted from any low resolution draft copy sent to the client. Be as consistent as possible in the use of these styles throughout your content. Following these guidelines will result in the lowest fees for the layout of your content in InDesign. Your flip chart will contain 11 topics in the page flip chart, and 15 topics in the page flip chart; the first page is reserved for your logo and the title of the flip chart. Topics containing the least content are placed near the front of the flip chart, on the shortest pages, and topics containing the most content are placed near the back, on the longest pages. The colors in our PDF drafts when presented on your computer screen may not exactly match the printed colors in the flip chart. If color matching is important to you, then you may request a printer proof in advance of the final print run. Matching colors for expected results will incur additional fees. Graphics If dealing with the tables in MSWord to place your graphics seems a bit overwhelming, then you may also email images along with clear instructions for their placement into the flip chart. Just be sure to leave enough room in the original table cell for the graphics and your content text. Illustration Services Need some quality illustrations or graphics for your flip chart? DFI provides the following services: Flip chart illustration varies, depending on the complexity of the project. Please inquire at ehsconsult comcast. So if you need help composing your own content, there is a wealth of emergency procedures contained within each file that will aid you in preparing your own procedures. The flip chart is a quick reference guide, and is not designed to contain all of the information within the following documents.

Word has various functions and is considered to be a professional word processor that is used by professionals of all industries. It has advanced editing functions and you can insert various items into any document. One of these items includes flip charts; they can easily be added to Word and you can modify them however needed. Make sure you have installed Microsoft Office on your computer. This usually includes features such as Word and PowerPoint. The latest version is Microsoft Office ; however, you can use any version to create and export flip charts. Traditional flip charts are helpful in presentations and you now can easily create your own flip chart on your computer. Importing charts from Microsoft PowerPoint is one of the quickest ways to add a flip chart to Microsoft Word. You can begin by opening PowerPoint and start with a new presentation. You can work from a template or you can design your presentation from scratch. You can add photos and text and also customize the animation and display options. When your presentation is complete, you are ready to export. Choose the File option, then select Send and then Microsoft Word. This will bring up another popup with further options that you can customize. This will export your presentation to Word; it can function as your electronic flip chart. You can still edit this file in Word; you can add extra content or modify the existing content to suit your needs. You can also add additional Word features to your presentation. Insert a PowerPoint file into Word as an object is another way of doing it. Simply click on the location in the document that you want to add the object into. Click on Insert from the top toolbar and choose Object. This will allow you to choose the specific PowerPoint file that you want to insert. Your file is now embedded within your Word document and you can adjust the size to fit your page. Save your original PowerPoint presentation in case you need to create another Word document from it in the future. You can also keep a few templates nearby to give you some variation for your next flip chart.
