Read the Bible in a Year Bible reading plans in over 50 translations Reading the Bible daily not only helps you grow in your faith and walk with Jesus Christ, but will be an amazing source of encouragement throughout your day.

Your settings and mountings were made of gold; on the day you were created they were prepared. You were on the holy mount of God; you walked among the fiery stones. So I drove you in disgrace from the mount of God, and I expelled you, O guardian cherub, from among the fiery stones. So I threw you to the earth; I made a spectacle of you before kings. So I made a fire come out from you, and it consumed you, and I reduced you to ashes on the ground in the sight of all who were watching. The slain will fall within her, with the sword against her on every side. When I gather the people of Israel from the nations where they have been scattered, I will show myself holy among them in the sight of the nations. Then they will live in their own land, which I gave to my servant Jacob. You say, "The Nile is mine; I made it for myself. I will pull you out from among your streams, with all the fish sticking to your scales. You will fall on the open field and not be gathered or picked up. I will give you as food to the beasts of the earth and the birds of the air. I will bring a sword against you and kill your men and their animals. And I will disperse the Egyptians among the nations and scatter them through the countries. At the end of forty years I will gather the Egyptians from the nations where they were scattered. There they will be a lowly kingdom. I will make it so weak that it will never again rule over the nations. Yet he and his army got no reward from the campaign he led against Tyre. I am going to give Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he will carry off its wealth. He will loot and plunder the land as pay for his army. He could bring about no change of mind, though he sought the blessing with tears. You have come to thousands upon thousands of angels in joyful assembly, 23 to the church of the firstborn, whose names are written in heaven. You have come to God, the judge of all men, to the spirits of righteous men made perfect, 24 to Jesus the mediator of a new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood that speaks a better word than the blood of Abel. If they did not escape when they refused him who warned them on earth, how much less will we, if we turn away from him who warns us from heaven?

I consider that a nice cherry on top. Every Book in 61 Days This reading plan walks you through key passages from every book of the Bible, from Genesis to Revelation, in just 61 days. The Bible in a Year Here is a diverse collection of different reading plans that take you through the Bible in a year. Read From 4 Separate Places This plan gives you a good mix of reading an Old Testament book, a wisdom book and two New Testament books for each reading. It is also structured well enough that you could shorten your reading for each day by focusing only on Old Testament, New Testament or some other variation. Read from the Old and New Testament This is a pretty straightforward plan starting from the beginning of the Old and New Testaments and working its way to the end. The family readings are meant for going over with your family, in groups or at a Bible study whereas the secret readings are for your own personal devotional time. You could just as easily read the secret readings in a group and vice versa. The whole Bible will be read through in an orderly manner in the course of a year. Read in chronological order This plan is based upon the historical research of scholars as it compiles readings according to the order that the events actually occurred. Read in the order each book was written This plan is founded upon the research completed in regard to the dates each canonical book was authored. The books in the Hebrew and Greek Bibles are not in the same order as in our modern Bibles, and this plan restores that original ordering of the scriptures. Read from cover to cover The classic plan. Start at Genesis and end in Revelations. Short-Term Commitments These plans take no more than a month to complete and focus on a specific topic. There are 10, two week courses.
