To get to the capital you can tap the third tab on the very bottom of the main menu. Upon entering the factory you are granted to three more tabs. A nice extra addition are watermarks behind each tab. They are designs of the feature in each tab. Weapon crafting has a design of weapons behind its text. Gotta get those crafting recipes first. Just like item crafting, there are pictures of the materials needed to craft spheres. You also need sphere recipes to craft new spheres. Same rules as sphere and item crafting apply here, except this time for weapons. There are three more tabs to be seen in the shopping center. Lucky for us, there are photos to see what we are purchasing. These items are items you can craft, but instead at a fair price. Thankfully google translate makes this as easy as it can get. This photo gives it perfectly: Expanding inventory is to increase the maximum capacity you have for something. The major ones have always been units and items, but there are many more now. If you ever need space, then this is the place. The one thing to keep in mind is that it costs gems to do this. You view a list of your items. There are three tabs available to view more of your inventory. The first tab is for your consumables. The top buttons allow you to filter your items right button and sell items. Click what you want and it becomes available for your next quest. In the top right corner there are two additional buttons. Like usual, the right button is a filter. The left button is a quick clear, so if you want a clear item pallet quick then tap this button. The two buttons at the top right have a filter right button and a sell button. In the top right corner there is a blue button that will favorite your sphere. Not much else to explain. There is not much to do here. You can view recipes for crafting things, and view any "important" items you obtain. Here we have a few options. As per usual, top to bottom. They can be obtained in various ways. For more on how to use them, go to the next section "Merit Exchange". Here we have some more options. All of the tabs open a different way to exchange things for merit points. The first tab is to exchange zel regular currency for merit point. The second tab is for unit exchange. The third tab is a sphere exchange. Select your spheres and see the absolutely tiny numbers rack up in large quantities. This is a decent method, but comes in very small amounts. Find out how in sphere list above. Back to the main page. There are multiple tabs to buy from. The first is for evolution materials and leveling materials. The second tab is for spheres. The third tab is for rare consumables. I have no idea what the fourth tab is, nothing shows for me as of now. Back to the main page again. Pay To Play Thing You can pay for a monthly subscription to double your energy and arena orbs. Everything you do is recorded here. All examples may be false.

Where Brave Frontier 2 in Japan acts as the direct sequel to Brave Frontier's original story, Brave Frontier: The Last Summoner explores a completely new branch of the story set a thousand years later and leaving Grand Gaia behind.

Gameplay[edit] This section may contain an excessive amount of intricate detail that may interest only a particular audience. Players are allowed to bring up to 5 units in each stage with a "friend" unit in quest mode. Players make friends through friend request. After an enemy is defeated, the player proceeds the next stage until the boss, which is required to go complete a level. After completing, players are rewarded with Zel, Karma and items, as well as acquiring units from each mission. However, if players fail a quest, they use one gem to continue. Units have the ability to execute special attacks, known as Brave Bursts. When activated the unit uses a powerful attack. Brave Bursts can also provide a boost in health points or increase the overall stats to gain an advantage against enemies. Omni Evolution Units can also do Resonances which requires two of the same element of Omni Evolution units to spark with each other. Aside from quests, the player can also fuse units with the ones obtained in each mission in order to level them up. Once a unit is now in its max level, is it now capable of evolving. The requirements to evolve eligible units are different. Each unit has their own ranking as well, with the Omni Evolution being the highest. Players can obtain more units through Honor Summons and Rare Summons, they require players to use gems and Honor Points in order to summon units. Players can sell units for zel or equip them Spheres and by Gems through micro transactions. Items can also be synthesized into useful items, such as potions, tonics, and revives. The town provides a lot of items used for these, some items must be obtained through dungeons cleared by the player. Another thing is the town can provide more important items if the player upgrade each establishments using karma. Brave Frontier has event quests available inside the Vortex Gate, allowing players to obtain evolutionary units, Zel or promotional rare units not found in Rare Summons. In-Game Events are in the Vortex Gate, and players will be rewarded with a free unit if completed. Players can challenge each other in the arena and win prizes for attaining a certain rank.

Story[edit] The land of Grand Gaia is a world ravaged by a war between humans and the Gods that took place many years ago. It is a land surrounded by a veil of mystery but engulfed in havoc as certain places have been conquered by four fallen gods, who have betrayed their fellow gods. Amidst the chaos, The Imperial Army of Randall, capital of Elgaia and the Akras Summoners Hall are doing their best to handle the chaos the fallen gods and the demonic legions its causing, but have not been able to push them back.

Development[edit] The game was first announced after the Gaming Company A-Lim was officially registered in March But I am convinced that if we can somehow represent the fact that players are walking around cities and dungeons, talking to people and fighting monsters, all on a mobile device, they will really get into the RPG world.

Fusing duplicates is the key to unlock Roles, which grant that unit access to a set of special skills that power them up in key ways. Do note that for special units, like the main character Brook, roles are unlock by playing through special memory missions. Be sure to do these as they become available so that your units get stronger faster. Get new weapons in the Weapon Parade! Because the game just launched, you will find a set of special weapons in your inbox. These weapons are great upgrades to your starting weapons, but they too will become outdated soon enough. When you need to find more weapons, take a trip to the Weapon Parade, which is only open during certain times of the day. Here you will fight through battles that have a high chance to drop new weapons for your units. Use only the orb and free summon! You can also use your hard-earned orbs on the orb summon for a chance at a really good 3 or 4-star unit. However, we recommend not doing the Karma summon. Karma is required for unit evolution, and the Karma banner takes a lot to roll on it, so we suggest that you hang onto your karma. Evolving your favorite units is better than potentially having a shot at decent units. If you have any other tips or tricks to share, let us know in the comments below!
