

1: Special Report: Warrior Care

Chairman, Dr. Snyder, members of the committee, thank you for this opportunity to be with you about the care of our injured and wounded. This is the core of our mission, and appreciate your interest and support in providing for America's heroes.

The number continues to grow as more wounded warriors are identified. AFW2 is a Congressionally-mandated, federally-funded program that provides personalized care, services and advocacy to seriously or very seriously wounded, ill or injured Total Force recovering service members and their Caregivers and families. AFW2 focuses on specific personal and family needs and includes programs that cover a gamut of situations throughout the recovery process and beyond. The program will advocate for the RSM to ensure accessibility and minimize delays and gaps in medical and non-medical service. We will use a 7 Phase Continuum of Care that runs from the initial identification through recovery and rehabilitation to reintegration back into active duty or transition to retirement or separation. The Continuum of Care allows us to anticipate needs of the RSM and to connect them with resources to assist them as needed. The goal is to provide a refined, simplified transition back to duty or into civilian life, ensuring RSMs are well-equipped to manage challenges because of their wounds, injuries or illnesses. Serves as the end-to-end process owner for all personnel programs executed by AFPC. The directorate provides care and support to wounded, ill and injured Airmen and their families that will enable them to go forward as productive and proud members of society whether continuing in or out of uniform. It also conducts professional boards to ensure fair compensation to members whose military careers are cut short due to service incurred or aggravated physical disability. The organization is the focal point and final approval authority for USAF veteran claims for combat related special compensation. They formulate casualty policy, procedures and system requirements and oversee the missing persons program. The directorate manages casualty reporting and notification for active duty, Guard, Reserve, overseas civilians, and contractor personnel and monitors casualty assistance provided to next of kin. The directorate provides a centralized and functionally integrated case management office to ensure timely evaluation, treatment and disposition of our wounded, ill and injured ARC members serving on active duty. It manages medical continuation orders and a case management system to expedite medical evaluation and treatment of Airmen to regain their ability to perform military duties or to enter into the Integrated Disability Evaluation System. They attend multidisciplinary conferences with WWs providers to assist with disposition. MCCMs conduct periodic reviews of the wounded warrior medical status. FLOs are responsible for logistical support to the member and family, such as meeting family members at the airport and arranging lodging and transportation. RCCs also facilitate and monitor the execution of services. In , RCCs were established. Currently, there are 33 RCCs worldwide providing face-to-face care and assistance for all wounded, ill and injured Airmen. They work in conjunction with medical case managers and non-medical care managers. In a June policy memo, the Air Force Chief of Staff stated the Air Force will make every effort to retain Airmen who want to remain on active duty after suffering combat related injuries. In , the Air Force announced the revision of several personnel policies to return seriously wounded warriors to productive military service including promotion opportunities while in patient status, retraining if they had an AFSC disqualifying condition and Limited Assignment Status for wounded warriors regardless of time in service. This new complex provides a one-stop workplace for up to 81 professionals to deliver a full spectrum of integrated services supporting all Airmen and their families, throughout the military lifecycle and beyond, including a special focus on Airmen who are severely combat wounded, ill or injured. The center enhances the integration of business practices between four functional areas that provide like support services -- fiscal management, employment assistance, personal and family life counseling, transition assistance benefits and entitlements; this facility also provides accommodation for increased manning of Wounded Warrior non-medical care management. The wounded warrior continuum of care seven phases is: Identification, recovery and treatment, rehabilitation, fitness evaluation, reintegration or transition, stabilization and resolution, and sustainment. The Air Reserve Component Cell was created specifically to address the unique issues presented by recovering service members assigned to either the Air Force Reserve or Air National Guard bureau components. Referral Anyone can refer an active-duty Airman into the AFW2 program; download the worksheet by clicking the button below and submit the finalized form via email.

THE CARE OF INJURED AND WOUNDED SERVICE MEMBERS pdf

2: The DoD Plans On Forcing Out Injured And Wounded Troops Who Are Unable To Deploy care of injured and wounded service members 3 march not for publication until released by the house armed services committee. introduction.

The AFW2 Program provides personalized care and services for wounded, ill, or injured Airmen through adaptive sports programs, caregiver training and strategies, post-military transition assistance as well as benefits and entitlement assistance. This year, JBA will house AFW2 tournaments in sitting volleyball, wheelchair rugby, wheelchair basketball and practice sessions for archery, shooting, track and powerlifting. Healing, recovery and resiliency workshops involving art, yoga, and writing will be offered at an off-base location. Provides coping tools and strategies to help family members and friends. Rebuilds confidence in warriors by improving physical and spiritual fitness. Workshops that develop mentors and connect them with other warriors to promote and encourage healing. Offers post military life transition guidance. AF reserves the right to modify this policy at any time. This is a moderated forum. That means all comments will be reviewed before posting. In addition, we expect that participants will treat each other, as well as our agency and our employees, with respect. We will not post comments that contain abusive or vulgar language, spam, hate speech, personal attacks, violate EEO policy, are offensive to other or similar content. Comments that make unsupported accusations will also not be posted. The AF and the AF alone will make a determination as to which comments will be posted. Any references to commercial entities, products, services, or other non-governmental organizations or individuals that remain on the site are provided solely for the information of individuals using this page. These references are not intended to reflect the opinion of the AF, DoD, the United States, or its officers or employees concerning the significance, priority, or importance to be given the referenced entity, product, service, or organization. Such references are not an official or personal endorsement of any product, person, or service, and may not be quoted or reproduced for the purpose of stating or implying AF endorsement or approval of any product, person, or service. Any comments that report criminal activity including: This forum is not: This forum is not to be used to report criminal activity. If you have information for law enforcement, please contact OSI or your local police agency. Do not submit unsolicited proposals, or other business ideas or inquiries to this forum. This site is not to be used for contracting or commercial business. AF does not guarantee or warrant that any information posted by individuals on this forum is correct, and disclaims any liability for any loss or damage resulting from reliance on any such information. AF may not be able to verify, does not warrant or guarantee, and assumes no liability for anything posted on this website by any other person. AF does not endorse, support or otherwise promote any private or commercial entity or the information, products or services contained on those websites that may be reached through links on our website. Members of the media are asked to send questions to the public affairs through their normal channels and to refrain from submitting questions here as comments. Reporter questions will not be posted. However, given the need to manage federal resources, moderating and posting of comments will occur during regular business hours Monday through Friday. Comments submitted after hours or on weekends will be read and posted as early as possible; in most cases, this means the next business day. For the benefit of robust discussion, we ask that comments remain "on-topic. The views expressed on the site by non-federal commentators do not necessarily reflect the official views of the AF or the Federal Government. To protect your own privacy and the privacy of others, please do not include personally identifiable information, such as name, Social Security number, DoD ID number, OSI Case number, phone numbers or email addresses in the body of your comment. If you do voluntarily include personally identifiable information in your comment, such as your name, that comment may or may not be posted on the page. If your comment is posted, your name will not be redacted or removed. The default for the posting of comments is "anonymous", but if you opt not to, any information, including your login name, may be displayed on our site. Thank you for taking the time to read this comment policy. We encourage your participation in our discussion and look forward to an active exchange of ideas.

3: The Care of Injured and Wounded Service Members

For many individuals across the Department of Defense, caring for wounded, ill, and injured service members, families, and those who support them is a year-round mission.

The POCs will support you and your family during this difficult time. Families can seek help from the post or base chaplains, social workers, and the family center: Patient Squadron Program The Patient Squadron Program is for any airman receiving medical care or hospitalization for moderate to severe injuries or illness lasting around 90 days or more. The injured airman is assigned to the nearest military treatment facility MTF that can treat his or her injuries. See Chapter 12 to learn about the MEB. The assigned MTF provides case management. They are placed on limited duty status while they receive outpatient care. They may also be placed on convalescent leave status and recuperate at home. They provide assistance, support, and non-medical services. FLOs stay involved as long as the family wishes. For immediate, hour response, call or you can e-mail usafhelp pentagon. AW2 members have received or expect to receive a 30 percent rating for one or more injuries from the Disability Evaluation System see Page 99 of The Family Caregiver Curriculum, Module 4: Navigating Services and Benefits. This program offers support and advice to its members and their families. AW2 helps you and your family member learn about federal, state, and private benefit systems. It links you and your family member to financial, educational, employment, legal, and medical resources. The AW2 toll free number is: To read more, go to the Army Web site: WTU offers command and administrative support, primary care, and case management to its members. Soldiers are assigned a Primary Care Manager Physician , Nurse Case Manager, and a Squad Leader to help the soldier and his or her family to heal and return to the Army or transition to civilian life. Warriors in Transition WT have enhanced access to care: As liaisons, they communicate, facilitate, and problem solve. Find and contact your local Ombudsmen here: For immediate, hour response for WII soldiers, call , e-mail: SFACs provide a full spectrum of personnel, finance, and administrative support and non-medical assistance to wounded, ill, and injured soldiers and their family members. This service is also provided on an as-needed basis for any high-risk non-severely wounded, ill, or injured sailor. Safe Harbor provides support and assistance to sailors through recovery, rehabilitation, and reintegration. It also provides a lifetime of care. Safe Harbor tracks and provides oversight for all severely wounded sailors and coordinates with Federal Recovery Coordinators FRC , various service WII programs, and other organizations. This program is open to anyone who was previously enrolled in Safe Harbor. Also, Safe Harbor will assist anyone who calls in see the telephone number below with help identifying support services in their community. Assistance for Navy Families Safe Harbor will provide tailored support to the service member and his or her family through coordination with Fleet and Family Support Centers. Marine Corps Wounded Warrior Regiment WWR provides assistance to wounded, ill, and injured Marines, sailors attached to or in support of Marine units, and their family members, throughout the phases of recovery. The Battalions are located at: For more information, go to: Posted on BrainLine December 1, The Traumatic Brain Injury: A Guide for Caregivers of Service Members and Veterans provides comprehensive information and resources caregivers need to care and advocate for their injured loved one and to care for themselves in the process.

4: Warrior Care | www.enganchecubano.com

Warrior Care. The Defense Department honors the courage of wounded, ill or injured service members, and highlights the programs that support their return to duty or transition to the civilian community.

5: Wounded warriors CARE > Joint Base Andrews > Article Display

Loading The care of injured and wounded service members: hearing before the Military Personnel Subcommittee of the Committee on Armed Services, House of Representatives, One Hundred Ninth Congress, first session, hearing held

March 3,

6: Warrior Care Month

The teamwork between Project CARE and C5 staff provides a greater opportunity to improve the quality of life for injured service members, according to Uebelhoer. For referral information, please.

7: Life Events - Injured on Active Duty | TRICARE

Wounded service members aren't always the only ones who have battle scars. Our Association strongly believes wounded families bear their own battle scars, and it is the responsibility of our Nation to ensure the emotional, financial, and readjustment requirements of these families are met.

8: Service-Specific-Warrior-Care-Programs

When a Service member becomes wounded, ill, and/or injured, a recovery team, embedded within each Military Service, will support your medical and non-medical.

9: Where to Find Support for Wounded Service Members and Their Families | BrainLine

Marine Corps Wounded Warrior Regiment (WWR) provides assistance to wounded, ill, and injured Marines, sailors attached to or in support of Marine units, and their family members, throughout the phases of recovery.

Letter of intent as a or word ument Italian primitives By force of instinct abigail reynolds Theosophy, Imagination, Tradition How stress affects your brain Australia (Modern Industrial World) The seven elements of art Montana statistics by counties Some other Italian composers. Opportunities in telecommunications Constitutional amendment to limit congressional terms les ee study material Learning AutoCAD 2006 Drawing on the right side of the brain Andersons Ohio Probate Practice and Procedure Nellies Promise (American Girls Collection) Intermediate Algebra with Early Functions and Graphing Study Skills Workbook Letters and literary memorials of Samuel J. Tilden. The Media and the Tourist Imagination Adolescents grow in groups Marguerite Duras (Beginners Guide) Overpopulation of Cats and Dogs Werewolf the forsaken character sheet Blueprints ob gyn 7th edition Psalms 73-150 (Abingdon Old Testament Commentaries) Entitlements to Natural Resources Old musical intruments. Monasteries of the world Mass spectrometry in medicinal chemistry Helping Africa Help Itself: A Global Effort (Africa: Progress Problems) Hardware and housewares Complete Medical Guide for Cats (Plume) National Velvet (Flare Original Novel) Cynthia Harts Victoriana Calendar 2008 Integrating Poverty and Gender into Health Programmes Jbl asb3125 subwoofer data sheet Sex positions with images Boston and Albany The Star Spangled Future Merchant accounts and online payment processing