Over-vaccinating combined with stress, poor nutrition, and other factors is putting our companion animals at risk for serious diseases including auto-immune disorders, cancer or even death. Bringing together research from around the world, Shock to the System explains the physiology of stress, the role of genetics and nutrition and the health risks to our companion animals from over-vaccination. It also suggests sound solutions to keeping your pet healthy. For the growing number of animal lovers seeking an alternative to Western medicine, this comprehensive approach to home animal care includes descriptions of acupuncture and Chinese herbal medicine treatments, with special emphasis placed on clear, uncomplicated approaches to acupressure and diet that readers can do themselves at home. Includes two page color inserts. Dr Nick Hibbert Language: For many of us, our pets are a part of the family - we love them and protect them and want the best for them, in much the same way as we would for our own children. We want them to be with us for as long as possible and so we look out for them, trying to do the best for them. I know that this is the reason that I started to research natural alternatives when it came to pet care. For me it was scary how many times pet care products, especially those for getting rid of ticks and fleas were recalled. I decided that it simply was not worth the risk to use commercial products, especially those that contained high levels of toxic substances. At least with more natural solutions I can be sure that my pets are happy and safe. When I started to look into alternative solutions, I was amazed to find out how essential oils had similar benefits for animals as they do for humans. They are simple to use, natural and a lot gentler on pets and the environment alike. Because they are so concentrated, a little goes a long way making them a much more economical solution as well. What is also amazing is how effective the oils are - just a couple of applications put an end to flea infestations. Essential oils are gaining popularity for treating ailments to humans as well as pets. Essential oil components are all organic, natural and environmentally friendly. In this book you will find the following key information: Fundamental Homemade Remedies that you can make today! So what are you waiting for!!! Read and be an outstanding pet owner!!!
