Temptation is a part of life, but God is faithful and will always help us to overcome it. Write down temptations preteens might encounter on a blank sheet of paper. One temptation per piece of paper. Place the sheets of paper throughout the maze. Give students a few minutes to go through the maze stay between the lines. The goal is to exit the maze within the time allowed. After the game say: Life can be like a maze. It can be confusing and we can sometimes feel lost. You might have noticed many temptations throughout the maze. The Maze Runner movie is rated PG, so be careful about mentioning the movie to preteens. It all depends on your comfort level of talking about the movie. You can use this lesson without referring to the movie. In this action-packed adventure film, a teenage boy wakes up in an elevator called the Box with no memory of his name, where he comes from, or where he is. As he exits to an outside field, he finds himself in a confined community with other teenage boys, living in a compound, prisoners inside the center of a gigantic maze that completely surrounds them. The boy starts to slowly remember things, and during a campfire fight one evening with another teen boy, he somehow recalls his own name, Thomas. Through reoccurring nightmares and various strange events, Thomas soon finds out that there are things about this weird place of confinement that are beyond his imagination. The other boys, who are also held, have been trying for three years to escape but every time someone tries, they meet their deadly fate with the Griever, which are venomous monsters that literally eat them alive. There is only one way out of this compound, and it is through the maze, which has twists and turns that shift and change directions every night. This has made it impossible to escape. Any boy who has ever tried to escape the maze has run into the Griever. Most of these boys did not survive. The movie is based upon the best-selling novel by James Dashner. The events that take place in the movie The Maze Runner are similar to what takes place as we enter the mazes of our lives. There is only way out, and it is through the twists, turns and winding roads of choices we are destined to make. The good news for us is that we have a map or blueprint that helps us along the way. It is the word of God, and our way out is through Jesus Christ, who gives us the power to overcome every temptation. In the movie, Thomas and several other boys did eventually find a secret compartment called the Map Room in the center of the maze that had cryptic messages written on stacks and stacks of papers. After sorting through the piles of secret messages and learning how to get past the Griever, a few of the teenagers were able to flee the horrifying snare of the maze. They successfully made it through, conquering the Griever the temptations, once and for all. Everyday Mazes Have you ever been tempted to do something that you knew was wrong? Have you ever experienced the anxiety that comes along with a tempting thought? No one else seems to notice, so you quickly pick up the money. And in that instant, you have to make a decision. Do you catch up with the girl who dropped it, or slide it into your own pocket and pretend that nothing happened? No one is in your bedroom except you, so do you stop and watch the commercial or keep going? And God is faithful; He will not let you be tempted beyond what you can bear. But when you are tempted, He will also provide a way out so that you can endure it. Temptations are a part of life, but God is faithful and will always help us to overcome them. Now what does the scripture in 1 Corinthians mean by no temptation has overtaken you except what is common to mankind? And by everyone I mean everyone. You, me, our parents, people at your school, the pastors at our churches, the president of the United States, everyone! Let me tell you again, as I have before, that anyone living that sort of life will not inherit the Kingdom of God. What are the temptations that are common or familiar to mankind? They are the lusts of our flesh, which can be found in the scripture above. The interesting thing about these common temptations is that they can be appealing, and sometimes even fun in the beginning. But if you choose to sit there and make fun of people with your friends, you just gave in to the temptation. The Bible says in Psalm Every time you are faced with making a choice to do right or wrong, God will remind you of His word that has been deposited in your heart, and if you will listen to His voice you can make the choice not to fall into sin or withdraw. We are totally unable to endure temptation on our own. We cannot stand against the pressure of sin without the help of God. He is the only one who gives us strength, and if we follow His blueprint, we will be able to stand. He is the Master of the Maze. I need a volunteer. Before you is the maze you went through earlier. This maze represents your life. Have the volunteer walk through the maze and hit all the temptations along the way. As the volunteer approaches each temptation, hold it up for everyone to see. For each temptation, ask: What is appealing about this temptation? What is dangerous about this temptation? You will have to make a choice whether or not to fall into the tempting moment or to say no and move forward. It may be easy at first, but it will get more difficult as time progresses. Has someone ever lied about you before? Do you remember how painful it was and how vulnerable it made you feel? When someone lies about you it makes you feel horrible because people will look at you differently. And it may take a while for the truth to come out, which adds to your misery because you know in your heart that what the other person said about you was not true. So you try to explain and justify yourself, but if you can learn to give these situations to God and ask Him to reveal the truth, He will. Have you ever wanted someone or something so bad that it drove you crazy? After roll call, Ms. China your teacher passes out test papers and instructs everyone to take out their pencils, be quiet, and to do their best. Instead of taking the time to study and prepare for the exam, you went to the movies, stayed up late playing X-box, or whatever you do. You chose not to go over the material Ms. China gave you last week. So you decide to cheat because you NEED a passing grade, when in reality, all you had to do was buckle down and discipline yourself to study. Then you could have received a passing grade without taking the risk of cheating, maybe even getting caught and ultimately failing the class. We are all tempted, but God is so faithful. He promised to help us along the way. We are not in this alone. We do not have to fight temptations by ourselves. If we will take the time to read His word and develop a relationship with Him, we will find that when we feel weak, He is always strong. How did you handle it? Have you seen the movie The Maze Runner, and if so, can you relate to Thomas and his friends trying desperately to escape the maze and the Grievors? Have you ever felt like you were trapped in a maze of decisions? Which of the temptations that are common to mankind have you experienced? What does it mean that God will not allow you to be tempted beyond what you can bear? Do you believe that having a relationship with God will help you during your moments of temptation? It is important for adults too, as we have tempting moments also, and we all must learn how to depend on God for the strength to stand strong. A temptation is a strong urge to do something contrary to the word and will of God. A tempting thought or feeling is almost always followed by a totally different thought or feeling that is in direct contrast. Some people call this their gut feeling or their conscience. That puts this temptation concept in a whole new category. It means that we are genuinely able to overcome any temptation as long as we are totally surrendered to God, look for the escape door, and actually take it.
