Clean Jokes - A collection of funny jokes you can tell to your co-workers and kids without getting in trouble.

Here you will find a collection of clean jokes that are in no particular order. Some are related to Christian issues while others are not but all are sure to make you laugh. They are listed below in "toggled" format.

Better Write That Down An elderly husband and wife noticed that they were beginning to forget many little things around the house. They were afraid that this could be dangerous, as one of them may accidentally forget to turn off the stove and thus cause a fire. So, they decided to go see their physician to get some help. Their physician told them that many people their age find it useful to write themselves little notes as reminders. When they got home, the wife said, "Dear, will you please go to the kitchen and get me a dish of ice cream? I can remember that! The wife could hear him getting out pots and pans, and making some noise inconsistent with his preparing a dish of ice cream, strawberries, and whipped cream. He emerged from the kitchen about 15 minutes later. Walking over to his wife, he presented her with a plate of bacon and eggs. Please use the back door. If you are going to be hospitalized for an operation, contact the pastor. Special prayer also for those who are seriously sick by request. The fella that lost the bet paid up. I already have seen the movie. He decided it was nonsense to go all the way down south when he could just stay right where he was at. So he stayed behind. Well after awhile, it got kind of cold. Finally, he could take it no more and decided to fly south after all. As he was flying through the air, ice began to form on his wings to the point where he could no longer fly so he glided down and landed in a barnyard. About that time along comes a cow who walks right over the bird and drops a "plop" on him. Now the bird is really disgusted. After a short time though, the ice begins to melt off of the bird. He starts to get warm under that "plop. About that time a cat comes along and hears this noise coming from underneath this "plop. There are three morals to the story: Not everyone who drops a "plop" on you is necessarily your enemy 2. Not everyone who moves it off of you is necessarily your friend 3. And if someone does drop a "plop" on you, keep your mouth shut.

The Pirate and Bird Droppings A pirate had a wooden leg, a hook on one arm, and a patch over one eye. Someone asked him how these things happened. He said that a whale bit off his leg, a crocodile had chewed off his hand, and a bird dropping hit him in the eye. The other guy replied that he understood about the wooden leg having had his original bite off by a whale, and the hook was there to replace the hand the crocodile had chewed off, but a patch over the eye because of a bird dropping The pirate said that when the bird dropping hit him in the eye, that was the first day he had had his hook.

Dumb Questions from Lawyers The following questions by lawyers were taken from actual court documents in America: Johnson, how was your first marriage terminated? Jones, how many times have you committed suicide? Edington at the Rose Chapel? Edington was dead at that time? Your closet is divided into two sections - clothes that are appropriate for falling and those that are not. You try to pray down fire from heaven on the dry cleaning outfit that ruined your suit. When you break a fingernail, you blame it on spiritual warfare. You develop a slight hand tremor, and 40 people ask for your prayers during ministry time. You lie on the floor to nap through boring sermons and are perceived as super-spiritual when you get up.

The Four Wisemen Most Bible scholars believe there were three wisemen that visited the baby Jesus the night He was born, but there were actually four. We know about the three, one who brought gold, the other who brought frankincense, and the other who brought myrrh. These gifts brought by the first three wisemen were of great help to Joseph and Mary financially. God used the three wisemen to provide for the family of Jesus. This enabled them to be able to move to Egypt when Herod issued a decree to kill all male children two years old and under. There was a fourth wiseman that came night also bearing a gift to give to the new born baby, Jesus. What did he bring you might ask?

Genie A despondent woman was walking along the beach when she saw a bottle on the sand. She picked it up and pulled out the cork. A big puff of smoke appeared. But take care, for with each wish, your mate will receive double of whatever you request. The woman shrugged and then asked for a million dollars. There was a flash of light, and a million dollars appeared at her feet. At the same instant, in a far-off place, her wayward husband looked down to see twice that amount at his feet. And, in that distant place, her husband was looking for a gem broker to buy his latest bonanza. I lost my car keys at a ball game and never found them. I lost my sunglasses at the beach and never found them. I lost my socks in the washing machine and never found them. I lost three pounds on a diet -- I found them and five more. The jury found him guilty on 33 counts and the judge sentenced him to years. Realizing that even with time off for good behavior he would be over one hundred when he was released, the prisoner burst into tears. Noting this display of remorse, the judge reconsidered. A woman drove a mini-van filled with a dozen screaming kids through the mall parking lot, looking for a space. Obviously frazzled, she coasted through a stop sign. She rolled down her window and said, "What makes you think these are all mine? Wishing to emphasize the resentful attitude of the elder brother, he laid stress on this part of the parable. After describing the rejoicing of the household over the return of the wayward son, Dexter spoke of one who, in the midst of the festivities, failed to share in the jubilant spirit of the occasion. She waved her hand in the air. The colonial government had decorated the central square of the city with a dramatic equestrian statue of General Charles George Gordon. Gordon had died heroically in when Khartoum fell to the troops of the Mahdi after a ten-month siege. Converted into stone, Gordon now forever would survey the city from the back of his spirited horse. Cavendish had one son. The boy was named Charles--after General Gordon, of course. Cavendish was a dedicated British civil servant. His heart swelled with the spirit of imperial obligation and pride. He made it his business to impress his son with the importance of the statue. The boy loved the statue and virtually every day he would run to the square to take a look at Gordon. As Miles watched, his eyes welled up with tears. He said to himself, "Indeed, here beats the heart of a true Englishman. The lad is well named indeed! Who is that silly looking man who sits on Gordon? Different Viewpoints Three people were visiting and viewing the Grand Canyon -- an artist, a pastor and a cowboy. As they stood on the edge of that massive abyss, each one responded with a cry of exclamation. The artist said, "Ah, what a beautiful scene to paint! The man calls out, "Let me get that for you," and he bounds onto the porch to ring the bell. As the three fellows came in, they spotted him, grabbed his food away from him and laughed in his face. The truck driver said nothing. He got up, paid for his food and walked out. He just ran over three motorcycles. After considerable deliberation, she settled on "bathroom commode," but when she wrote that down, it still sounded too forward, so, after the first page of her letter, she referred to the bathroom commode as "BC. He put the remainder of the letter on the desk of the senior member of his staff without noticing that the staffer would have no way of knowing what "BC" meant. Then the owner went off to town to run some errands. Dear Madam, I regret very much the delay in answering your letter, but I now take the pleasure in informing you that the BC is located nine miles north of the campground and is capable of seating people at one time.

God knew that Adam would one day need someone to hand him the TV remote. God knew that Adam would never buy a new fig leaf when his seat wore out and would therefore need Eve to get one for him. God knew that Adam would never remember which night was garbage night. God knew that if the world was to be populated, men would never be able to handle childbearing. The scripture account of creation indicates Adam needed someone to blame his troubles on when God caught him hiding in the garden. Adam Revealed Four-year-old Robert opened the big bible which had been in his family for years. Absolutely fascinated, he flicked through the old pages. Suddenly, something fell out of the bible. Robert picked up the object and looked at it. What he saw was an old dry leaf that had been pressed in between the pages. She begins to pray Please let me win the lotto. My children are starving. Suddenly there is a blinding flash of light as the heavens open and Edna is confronted by the voice of God Himself: And God created the healthful yogurt that Woman might keep the figure that Man found so fair. And Satan brought forth white flour from the wheat, and sugar from the cane, and combined them. And Woman went from size 2 to size And Man and Woman unfastened their belts following the repast. Then God brought forth the potato, naturally low in fat and brimming with potassium and good nutrition. Then Satan peeled off the healthful skin and sliced the starchy centre into chips and deep-fried them in animal fats adding copious quantities of salt. And Man put on more pounds. God then brought forth running shoes so that his Children might lose those extra pounds. And Satan came forth with a cable TV with remote control so Man would not have to toil changing the channels. And Man and Woman laughed and cried before the flickering light and started wearing stretch jogging suits. God then gave lean beef so that Man might consume fewer calories and still satisfy his appetite. Satan chuckled and created the National Health Service What did Adam say on the day before Christmas? Not an Adam joke - Prawn, Cod and Shark Saga Far away in the tropical waters of the Caribbean, two prawns were swimming around in the sea - one called Justin and the other called Christian. The prawns were constantly being harassed and threatened by sharks that inhabited the area. Horrified, Christian immediately swam away, afraid of being eaten by his old mate. Time passed and Justin found life as a shark boring and lonely. All his old mates simply swam away whenever he came close to them. While swimming alone one day he saw the cod again and he thought that perhaps he fish could change him back into a prawn. He approached the cod and begged to be changed back, and, lo and behold, he found himself turned back into a prawn. With tears of joy in his tiny little eyes Justin swam back to his friends and bought them all a cocktail. As he opened the coral gate memories came flooding back. That was the old me.

Ambition in America is still rewarded. America is the land of opportunity. Everybody can become a taxpayer. Americans are now in a daze from intoxication. Uncle Sam needs every taxpayer he can get. Children may be deductible, but they are still taxing. Congress does some strange things. The attitude of Congress toward hidden taxes is not to do away with them, but to hide them better. Every year around April 15 Americans have a rendezvous with debt. The rich and the poor are alike. They both complain about taxes. A fool and his money are soon parted. The rest of us wait until income tax time. Golf is a lot like taxes. You drive hard to get to the green and then wind up in the hole. Nothing makes a person more modest about their income than to fill out a tax form. I hate junk mail. About the time a man is cured of swearing, another income tax is due. Nothing has done more to stimulate the writing of fiction than the itemized deduction section of the income-tax forms. The income tax has made more liars out of the American people than golf. People who squawk about their income tax can be divided into two classes: The average man knows as much about the atomic bomb as he does about his income-tax form. Income taxes are not so bad and certainly could be worse. Suppose we had to pay on what we think we are worth? George Washington never told a lie, but then he never had to file a Form What the present income-tax form needs is a section which would explain the explanations. It has almost reached the point where, if a person takes a day off, he falls behind in his income-tax payments. Some of us can recall the day when a person who had to pay income tax was considered to be wealthy. No stretch of the imagination is as complete as the one used in filling out income-tax forms. Income tax is the fine you pay for thriving so fast. Income-tax forms should be more realistic by allowing the taxpayer to list Uncle Sam as a dependent. In Uncle Sam collected only 13 million dollars in income taxes. Come to think of it, these income-tax forms leave little to the imagination and even less to the taxpayer. Making out your own income tax return is something like a do-it-yourself mugging. Trying to curb inflation by raising taxes is like giving a drunk another drink to sober him up. If you think you can keep everything to yourself,. If the IRS gave green stamps, thousands of Americans would look forward to paying their income tax. Behind every successful man stands a woman and the IRS. One takes the credit, and the other takes the cash. A lot of people still have the first dollar they ever made - Uncle Sam has all the others. A harp is a piano after taxes. No respectable person is in favor of nudity, but after paying taxes, some of us may not have any other choice. Patriotism will probably never develop to the point of parading in honor of the "unknown taxpayer. The real patriot is a person who saves enough of his salary each week to pay his income tax. After all is said and done, the politicians say it and the taxpayers do it. It is reported that the politicians in Washington are thinking of abolishing the income tax and taking the income. Regardless of who wins the election they have to raise taxes to pay for the damage. If our President wants to abolish poverty, he can do it by abolishing the IRS. Poverty is what you experience the day after you pay your income tax. The chaplains who pray for the United States Senate and the House of Representatives might speak a word now and then on behalf of the taxpayers. Unquestionably, there is progress every where. The average American now pays out as much in taxes as he formerly received in wages. With a billion dollar budget, it ought to be possible to set aside enough money to teach the IRS the basic English necessary to write a readable income-tax form. Another American invention is the permanent temporary tax. The best tax law is the one that gets the most feathers with the least squawking. Which has made the biggest liars out of Americans - golf or the income tax? A man admitted he lied on his income-tax return - he listed himself as the head of the household! Life is one dodge after another - cars, taxes, and responsibilities. The best things in life are free - plus tax, of course. The way the cost of living and taxes are today, you might as well marry for love. The average man now lives thirty-one years longer than he did in He has to in order to get his taxes paid. A serious impediment to a successful marriage these days is the difficulty of supporting both the government and a spouse on one small income. Benjamin Franklin had an axiom, "A penny saved is a penny earned. The reward for saving money is being able to pay our taxes without borrowing. Our beloved country has made remarkable progress. Now politicians have arranged to spend taxes before they collect them. At no time is it easier to keep your mouth shut than during an audit of your income-tax return. Being a success today means the government takes away in taxes what you used to dream of earning. An American can consider himself a success when it costs him more to support the government than to support a family. Then, in , we started our own system of unfair taxation. Stay on your job and pay your taxes promptly. Thousands of workers in the government bureaus are counting on you. A penny saved is a penny taxed. We wonder why they call them "tax returns" when so little of it does. The best things in life are still free, but the tax experts are working overtime on the problem. Increasing taxes to stop inflation makes about as much sense as fanning a fire to cool its heat. Some tax loopholes become nooses. By the time you finish paying all your taxes, about all you have left is a receipt. They keep telling us about a tax-freeze plan. How about a tax-free plan? One can be born free and then be taxed to death. Save your pennies and the sales tax will take care of them. A Republican will consider every way of reducing taxes except cutting expenses. The reward for saving your money is being able to pay your taxes without borrowing. A tax-dodger is a man who does not love his country less, but loves his money more. A tax cut is like motherhood, apple pie, and the Star Spangled Banner - everybody is for it.

The day after his wife disappeared in a kayaking accident, an Anchorage man answered his door to find two grim-faced Alaska state troopers. Wilkens, but we have some information about your wife," said one trooper. Did you find her?! The troopers looked at each other. One said, "We have some bad news, some good news, and some really great news. Which do you want to hear first? Wilkens said, "Give me the bad news first. Submitted by Paul, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma A man went to see his doctor because he was suffering from a miserable cold. On his third visit the doctor told the man, "Go home and take a hot bath. As soon as you finish bathing throw open all the windows and stand in the draft. After examining it, he called the curator of a prestigious natural-history museum. To which the curator replied, "Bring him in. How in the world did you know? As he sat down to watch the film He was somewhat bemused but decided to try and ignore the dog. As the film progressed he noticed that the dog was reacting appropriately to the scenes. For laughter the dog wagged his tail and barked, for sadness he dropped his ears and whimpered, for violence he growled and bared his teeth. At the end of the film the audience applauded and the dog got up on all paws and barked and wagged his tail. A local business was looking for office help. They put a sign in the window, stating the following: Must be able to type, must be good with a computer and must be bilingual. We are an Equal Opportunity Employer. He looked at the receptionist and wagged his tail, then walked over to the sign, looked at it and whined. Getting the idea, the receptionist got the office manager. The office manager looked at the dog and was surprised, to say the least. However, the dog looked determined, so he lead him into the office. Inside, the dog jumped up on the chair and stared at the manager. The sign says you have to be able to type. He took out the page and trotted over to the manager and gave it to him, then jumped back on the chair. The manager was stunned, but then told the dog "the sign says you have to be good with a computer. The dog proceeded to enter and execute a perfect program, that worked flawlessly the first time. By this time the manager was totally dumb-founded! He looked at the dog and said "I realize that you are a very intelligent dog and have some interesting abilities. He was told a twin engine plane would be waiting for him at the airport. Arriving at the airfield, he spotted a plane warming up outside a hanger. The pilot taxied out, swung the plane into the wind and took off. Selected for my Friend Lindsay who is down with the Flu! An Irish priest is transferred to Texas It was a fine spring day in his new Texas mission parish. He walked to the window of his bedroom to get a deep breath of the beautiful day outside. He then noticed there was a jackass lying dead in the middle of his front lawn. He promptly called the local police station. The conversation went like this: This is Sergeant Jones. How might I help you? As he steps off the curb a car comes screaming around the corner and heads straight for him. The man walks faster, trying to hurry across the street, but the car changes lanes and is still coming at him. So the guy turns around to go back, but the car changes lanes again and is still coming at him. By now, the car is so close and the man so scared that he just freezes and stops in the middle of the road. The car gets real close, then swerves at the last possible moment and stops next to the man. The driver rolls down the window. It says, "Not as easy as it looks is it. The Monday Afternoon Club, an organization of wealthy city women Most of them had lived in the city all their lives, and had never seen such a thing. The day came, and the ladies filed into the rented bus which whisked them off to their destination. On the way, they watched out the windows as the city squalor turned into lovely, unpolluted countryside. After they arrived, they were greeted by the farmer who invited them to look him up should they have any questions. Myrtle, after looking about, and being amazed by what she saw, stepped into a building and viewed something she thought was quite remarkable. She saw the farmer walk by and hailed him - he sauntered in. Three boys are in the schoolyard bragging of how great their fathers are. The first one says: He can fire an arrow, and start to run, I tell you, he gets there before the arrow". The second one says: My father is a hunter. He can shoot his gun and be there before the bullet". The third one listens to the other two and shakes his head. My father works for the Christian Jokes Which Way to Heaven? Reverend Billy Graham tells of a time early in his ministry when he arrived in a small town to preach a sermon. Wanting to mail a letter, he asked a young boy where the post office was. When the boy had told him, Dr. To help you understand my sermon, I want you all to read Mark. He wanted to know how many had read Mark. Every hand went up. The minister smiled and said, "Mark has only sixteen chapters. I will now proceed with my sermon on the sin of lying. The man said, "I was praying and the Lord told me to come to this church. The next Sunday the man returned. The deacon asked, "Did you get a different answer? At one house, it was obvious that someone was home, but nobody came to the door even though the preacher knocked several times. Finally, the preacher took out his card, wrote out "Revelation 3: Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and dine with him, and he with me. I heard your voice in the garden, and I was afraid because I was naked; and I hid myself. The man returned just before the conclusion of the service. Afterwards the pastor asked the man where he had gone. They are always breaking things, stealing things, lying, and making all kinds of general trouble. The parents have tried everything to get the boys to change, to no avail. Finally, out of options, they ask their pastor if he can help. He says he will talk to the boys, but only one at a time. The parents drop off the youngest and go home, promising to return to get him soon. Finally, the Pastor says, "Where is God? The pastor begins to look stern and loudly says, "Where is God? Then he moved to one side, getting wound up in the cord and nearly tripping before jerking it again. After several circles and jerks, a little girl in the third pew leaned toward her mother and whispered, "If he gets loose, will he hurt us? When they knocked on one door, it was immediately clear the woman who answered was not happy to see them. She told them in no uncertain terms that she did not want to hear their message, and before they could say anything more, she slammed the door in their faces. To her surprise, however, the door did not close; in fact, it bounced back open. She tried again, really putting her back into it, and slammed it again with the same result - the door bounced back open. Convinced these rude young people were sticking their foot in her door, she reared back to give it a slam that would teach them a lesson. Just then, one of them said quietly: Suddenly, something fell out of the Bible, and he picked it up and looked at it closely. It was an old leaf from a tree that had been pressed in between the pages. However, the boy is very small and the doorbell is too high for him to reach. His friends were writing letters to Santa Claus, but Johnnie decided to go one better. So Johnnie threw away the letter and started again. I could never ever keep that promise. Suddenly Johnnie had an idea. He went downstairs to the living room. Taking the statue to the kitchen he wrapped it in newspapers and stuffed it into a grocery bag. He took the bag upstairs to his room, opened the closet and placed the package in the farthest, darkest corner. He then closed the closet door, took a new sheet of paper and wrote, "Dear Jesus, if you ever want to see your mother again The priest said, "Then stand over there against the wall. I thought you were getting a group together to go right now. A man had a habit of grumbling at the food his wife placed before him at family meals. Then he would ask the blessing. One day after his usual combination complaint-prayer, his little girl asked, "Daddy, does God hear us when we pray? However, his pride was quickly turned to humility He decided to send an angel down to Earth to check it out. So he called one of His best angels and sent the angel to Earth for a time. Well, he thought for a moment and said, maybe I had better send down a second angel to get another point of view. So God called another angel and sent her to Earth for a time too. God said this was not good. Do you know what that E-mail said???? The song leader then stood very cautiously and announced with a smile, "For our closing song, let us sing Hymn He had lived a perfect life and had a clear idea in his mind what heaven would be like. He had foregone all the earthly pleasures and just knew his rewards were going to be great. He had gone over repeatedly in his mind how much great fun he was going to have in heaven. As he was waiting, he saw a cloud pass by. As the cloud got closer, he saw people on the cloud having a great time. They were singing, dancing, and having great fun. They were dining on exquisite food, wearing the best clothes, and drinking the best wines, and laughter and merriment echoed through the sky. Yes, that was what he had expected it would be like. His escort arrived at the gate. The escort told the man that he had lived a good life and he was going to now take him to his new home. The man said, "If it is all the same to you, I would like to live on that cloud! However, the man persisted so the escort asked him to wait while he went to talk to the "Boss". Upon returning, the escort stated the "Boss" had always allowed people to choose but made it clear that he would be much happier in his originally intended home. In an instant, the man was standing in the hottest, smelliest, and most disgusting place he had ever seen in his whole life. The strange noises were blood curdling and the whole place was chaos. He was in Hell. An escort arrived to take him to his job. There must be some mistake; the place I requested was a nice cloud with people singing, dancing, and having the best time of their life! The man asked why the escort was laughing so hard. The escort replied, "You new people are so funny- you think you can show up here and get an assignment in the advertising department! You think you can get a promotion like that right away! He was very grieved because he had worked so hard for his money and wanted to be able to take it with him to heaven. So he began to pray that he might be able to take some of his wealth with him. An angel heard his plea and appeared to him. The man continued to pray that his wealth could follow him. The angel reappeared and informed the man that God had decided to allow him to take one suitcase with him. Overjoyed, the man gathered his largest suitcase and filled it with pure gold bars and placed it beside his bed. Soon afterward, he died and showed up at the gates of heaven to greet St. Peter that he had permission and asked him to verify his story with the Lord. Peter opened the suitcase to inspect the worldly items that the man found too precious to leave behind and exclaimed, "You brought pavement? After considerable deliberation, she settled on "bathroom commode," but when she wrote that down, it still sounded too forward, so, after the first page of her letter, she referred to the bathroom commode as "BC. He put the remainder of the letter on the desk of the senior member of his staff without noticing that the staffer would have no way of knowing what "BC" meant. Then the owner went off to town to run some errands. Dear Madam, I regret very much the delay in answering your letter, but I now take the pleasure in informing you that the BC is located nine miles north of the campground and is capable of seating people at one time. I admit it is quite a distance away if you are in the habit of going regularly, but no doubt you will be pleased to know that a great number of people take their lunches along and make a day of it. They usually arrive early and stay late. The last time my wife and I went was six years ago, and it was so crowded we had to stand up the whole time we were there. It may interest you to know that right now there is a supper planned to raise money to buy more seats. As we grow older, it seems to be more of an effort, particularly in cold weather. If you decide to come down to our campground, perhaps I could go with you the first time, sit with you, and introduce you to all the folks. Remember, this is a friendly community.

The best military jokes A marine general, an army general, and a navy admiral were discussing who had the toughest men. Private, get over here! The general says, "See? That man has balls! The marine general says, "See that man over there? Kill him and then kill yourself. The marine general says, "See? Now that man has balls! We did, however, want to let each of you know your efforts were appreciated. You will be given two pounds sterling for each inch of distance between those parts. As the general begins the measurement: Son, where is your left pinky? They immediately impounded the aircraft and hauled the pilot into an interrogation room. The Air Force started a full FBI background check on the pilot and held him overnight during the investigation. They gassed up his airplane, gave him a terrifying "you-did-not-see-a-base" briefing, complete with threats of spending the rest of his life in prison, told him Vegas was that-a-way on such-and-such a heading, and sent him on his way. The day after that though, to the total disbelief of the Air Force, the same Cessna showed up again. Only this time there were two people in the plane. The same pilot jumped out and said, "Do anything you want to me, but my wife is in the plane and you have to tell her where I was last night! Jones explained the basics of the GI Insurance to the new recruits, and then said: Now," he concluded, "which group do you think they are going to send into battle first? The Army will post guards around the place. The Navy will turn out the lights and lock the doors. The Marines will kill everybody inside and set up a headquarters. The Air Force will take out a 5 year lease with an option to buy. Please keep your photo and return the others. One sat in the window seat, the other sat in the middle seat. Just before take-off, an Army soldier got on and took the aisle seat next to the two Marines. The Soldier returned and they all sat back and enjoyed the rest of the short flight to Houston. As the plane was landing, the Soldier slipped his feet into his shoes and knew immediately what had happened. This spitting in shoes and peeing in cokes? Put up your hand if you are the laziest. Out of breath he asked, "Please, may I hide under your skirt. A moment later two Military Police ran up and asked, "Sister, have you seen a soldier?"
