Sunday, January 22, Roswell High: While I loved the show, and thought it was awesome, it barely scratched the surface of what the books delivered. All of her friends try everything they can do to help her, but she just keeps reliving the moment Nikolas was shot. Alex is the one friend who breaks through this depression with his determination and love for Isabel he slowly brings her out of her depression. Isabel realizes that Nikolas was dangerous, careless and he made her be too, and vows to be normal and never use her powers again. She tries to get over the pain of losing Nikolas by moving on with Alex, but he realizes what she is doing and tells her it is best if they just stay friends. This revelation leads her to admit to herself and Alex that he was the one who was always there for her, and if she had to choose between him and Nikolas she would choose Alex. Ray Iburg tells Michael and Max that he is the sole adult alien survivor of the crash. Ray explains the past to them through a memory hologram complete with emotions. Ray tells them that he and their parents were a part of a science team that were assigned to study Earth to determine if it would be suitable for colonization. Ray explained that the crash in was the fault of a fugitive stowaway from their ship. The alien who Ray only referred to as "Clyde" stole a very powerful artifact, a Stone of Midnight from the rulers of their planet, the Consortium. The Stones of Midnight possessed extraordinary powers and that "Clyde" used them to kill their parents, but somehow Ray survived. Ray feared for the safety of the kids and moved their pods to the cave, but when he went back for the fourth pod he saw that the military had found the ship, so to protect the kids he left them alone. Ray explained that they had far more powers than they knew and that he would teach them how to use them. He also explains to them that their race is very adaptive, that they can change their form to fit their environment, and social surroundings. When they traveled in space they would assume the body of the Roswell Aliens, small, hairless torsos; long thin arms; large heads with huge, almond-shaped black eyes when they traveled in space. Given that Earth was an oxygen based atmosphere and the dominant species was human, their bodies adapted to be human. Maria begins to wear the ring she found in the mall on a chain around her neck when Sassafras, her Persian cat comes in with a bloody paw. Maria goes to rub some aloe on it and she sees how a Robin in the bushes, tasted milk, felt the sun on her and the sensation of being scratched under her chin. Maria had formed a connection to Sassy as her and her friends had in the cave, and discovered she had healed the wound. At first she brushes these things off until she thinks of Liz while holding her lipstick and saw Liz at the mall. Maria believed that the crystal in the ring helped her channel her psychic ability. Michael moved in with his new foster family The Pascals who had three other, younger foster children. Begins to develop feelings for Maria, which become more intense after he Dreamwalks into her dream and sees her making out with a dark-haired guy. Michael shared with Maria the thin piece of indestructible metal he believed was from his ship, and Maria shared with Michael that she was psychic. To prove it Maria touches the metal while thinking of the ship and astral projects herself into a closed room with a guard in a grey uniform and the ship. Michael and Maria decide they can track Valenti if Maria has something of his. Michael steals a pen from Valenti and Maria begins to use it to track Valenti, but he was just at home yelling at Kyle. Michael worried about Maria after one of her astral projections, makes her promise not to do it again unless he was there. Maria promises, but decides to do it when she see Valenti driving in the desert, she feels she is onto something and as soon as she is able to move she goes under again and sees him walking down a hall with a guard in the same uniform she saw guarding the ship. Michael wanting to spend time with Maria sneaks out and heads over to her place where he finds her collapsed on the floor in the trance bleeding from her nose and red spots all over her. Their mouths were gaping circles with thin earthworm-length tentacles. The tentacles waved in the air, searching, searching. They had no noses and shallow bumpy depression where their eyes should be. Those bumps were their eyes, they had dozens of them. The people on their planet used them to hunt criminals. When Maria woke up she explained how she was psychic, and showed everyone the ring. Isabel quickly announced that the ring belonged to Nikolas, and Ray informed them that it was one of the

Stones of Midnight, the one that the stowaway had stolen, and that somehow Nikolas found it. Ray also deduced that the Consortium hired the Bounty Hunters to hunt "Clyde" for stealing it. By using it Maria unknowingly alerted them to the Stone and they were using psychic attacks to kill her. Michael midway through it takes the ring so he is the one who dies. While dead he fights the aliens who kill him, but he is revived by the group when they form a connection like they did in the cave. During most of the book Max and Liz are dealing with their feelings and Max tells Liz that the kiss at the Mall meant nothing, to protect her. Liz is devastated but Maria encourages her to go out with someone else. Jerry Cifarelli is a boy who has had a crush on Liz forever, and Liz agrees to go out with him. Max gets jealous and after learning to change his appearance from Ray, he changes his features and follows them on a date. Liz refuses to allow that to happen reminding him that their group all of them are the reason that Michael is alive because of their connection. Just as Max realizes it and pulls Liz close to him, Max collapses. Liz dates Jerry Cifarelli. The ship that crashed is being stored somewhere and Valenti is connected to it. Maria uses the Stone of Midnight to gain powers. Michael dies but is brought back by the group. Max collapses Powers Introduced: Stones of Midnight - The Stones of Midnight at this point we are unsure how many there are, or if they all possess the same abilities, or each one has a different set. The one that we do know of gives the alien the ability to kill from a distance, and enhances their powers. If a human uses the Stone they gain the powers of the alien that include forming connections, Molecular Manipulation, and Healing. Humans also gain a power that the aliens assumably have, astral projection. The Stones of Midnight were never used in the show, but the Healing Stones were most likely loosely based on them, as was Liz gaining powers. They can do a light superficial scan or delve deeper into memories. They do not need to make physical contact, but must be in the vicinity of the person. So far Max, Isabel or Michael have yet learn how to do this, and it is unclear if Nikolas could. The only one we have seen with this ability is Ray. Tess possessed this power on the show. Memory Projections - All of the aliens have the ability to create a holographic image of memories to share with others. These are not just holograms as they also project the emotions of everyone from the memory. So far only Ray has been shown to use this ability. This power was never used on the show. This power also allows them to alter their physical appearance. So far only Ray and Max have been shown to be able to use this ability, with Ray being able to quickly and easily do it and Max, having just learned it takes a bit longer. You not only change your physical appearance but can also change your vocal chords. This ability is an extension of their Molecular Manipulation. On the show Nasedo possessed this ability, and the others had the potential to learn it as well, with Michael being able to change his fingerprints, and transforming a mask to appear as a face.

2: The Seeker (Roswell High, #3) by Melinda Metz

The Seeker (Roswell High, #3): 3,5 estrellas. A diferencia del segundo libro de la serie, este sÃ- continÃ- a el final de su antecesor, o al menos lo hace de forma mÃ- s evidente.

Development[edit] Pocket Books created the core idea for the Roswell High series. Metz and her writing partner Laura J. Metz was chosen to write the books, and she and Burns worked together to further develop the series. Though Liz withdraws from Max when she finds out that they are aliens, she slowly realizes that Max loves her and poses no danger to her. Liz keeps his secret from Sheriff Valenti and the publisher of the local tabloid, DuPris, despite their suspicions. But she tells her best friend, Maria DeLuca. The six of them figure out a way to put aside their fears and trust each other. But after a new guy, Nikolas, comes to town, strange events happen. Michael soon realizes Nikolas is one of them, the fourth alien who also came out of the pods. Nikolas left his pod first and moved to California after being adopted. Max gets hired at the UFO Museum. Sheriff Valenti is suspicious about the recent strange occurrences. Therefore, he interrogates Liz. Liz takes Max and go after Nikolas, who is accompanied by Isabel. They start a fight. Isabel keeps defending her new boyfriend. Angry, Nikolas touches and seriously hurts Liz. While Max heals her, Nikolas and Isabel take off. Isabel and Nikolas must be there. Isabel has just knocked the guard down with her power when they arrive. Max and Liz stick together. Almost caught by the sheriff, they share a passionate kiss. Valenti finds the couple first and fires a shot at Nikolas. Before getting to Isabel, Liz distracts him. Isabel, Max, and the others are now all right, but Valenti has caught Liz. Then Ray Iburg appears and sends Valenti a kiss good night. The Seeker [edit] After Nikolas was killed in the mall, Isabel suffered an emotional breakdown. Alex stood by her and brought her back. Max told Liz their kiss from the mall meant nothing and he wished he stayed away from her. Liz was hurt and started dating a guy from school. Ray began teaching Max and Michael how to do things with their power. He also explained that their ship was crashed by a stowaway who had stolen a powerful ring. Maria and Michael start doing things together. At first, they thought they were just friends, but then they realize it was much more than that. Maria thinks she has psychic abilities because she gets flashes of certain things. In the end, after Maria is almost killed but Michael risks his life for her, Ray tells them it was a manipulation of some alien bounty hunters who were looking for the alien ring Maria had taken from the mall. Finally Ray takes the ring and hides it. The Watcher [edit] Max is hit by an alien phase. Ray explains that it is called akino and is usual back on their home planet. Every teenager contracts it when he or she reaches maturity. The problem is, Max will die unless he is healed by crystals from their planet, crystals that are on their spaceship. Max soon loses weight, strength, and his powers. They plan a dangerous escape in order to recover the crystals. Liz supports Max, and they decide that if he survives, they can become more than friends. Michael, Isabel and Ray go to the secret location of the spaceship. Ray is killed, and Michael is captured. Only Isabel comes back with the crystals. After three days, a boy comes to the Evanses. He proves to be the fifth alien from the pods and was raised in captivity by Valenti. His name is Adam. He also forms a crush on Liz. Adam kills the sheriff and then tries to kill Max. Then he starts a huge fire. They are all safe now. Michael has fallen for Cameron and she for him Maria is upset over it , and they fight when he discovers the truth about her. Cameron leaves town but comes back to the gang just in time to rescue them. Eventually the teens discover that the local UFO newspaper publisher is the evil stowaway that they were told crashed the ship all those years ago and that he was remote controlling Adam when Clean Slate was destroyed. This guy can teleport, and Max learns to do so as well. DuPris the bad alien has searched for 50 years for one of the three Stones of Midnight the homeworld has as a power source, and he gets the ring containing one the gang has. The gang tries to send DuPris to his enemies through a wormhole, adopting his appearance as part of their efforts. They send him through with the bounty hunters but discover that it was Alex they sent through, and the real DuPris escapes with the ring. The Vanished [edit] Cameron has left town. Maria suggests that DuPris may have hidden the ship in Carlsbad Caverns. During their trip to the Caverns, the teens find the ship hidden in the cave and run into a chemical weapon trap set by Mr. Manes, deadly to aliens- Liz and Maria drag their friends to safety. They have a confrontation with DuPris, discovering that Mr. DuPris teleports the ship away, and an attempt by Mr. Manes to bring Alex home using a Clean Slate device that absorbed Stone energy fails. Michael meets a stranger outside the museum, and it turns out to be his unknown brother who slipped through with Alex. Alex thinks he might want the Stone that he used to get home. Max wants her to join the collective consciousness while Michael and Isabel herself do not. Supposedly DuPris is the leader of the rebel faction wanting to destroy the consciousness with the Stones of Midnight. Trevor claims that the condition is survivable without merging. He is telling the truth, although it takes the use of a Stone to do it. DuPris is killed in a battle. The Stones are necessary to survive akino and to destroy the collective consciousness, and the gang now has two of the three stones their world had. Max is lost to the consciousness, in a comatose state. Michael has two of the three Stones of Midnight. Alex, Isabel, and Liz reach out to Max while trying to hide the true aim of the group from the consciousness. Michael, Trevor, and Maria attempt to find a way to shatter the consciousness without hurting Max. Michael and Trevor bond as brothers. Isabel and Trevor are attracted to each other. Liz keeps trying to get through to Max. The group finally figure out a way to shatter the consciousness. They use the Stones of Midnight in their possession to open a wormhole to the alien planet. The consciousness has the third Stone of Midnight. Using a device they get from Kyle Valenti who is now in a mental asylum for saying that aliens killed his father , they neutralize that Stone. Max is dispersed into his molecules too - but Liz connects with him and brings him back. Trevor returns to his home planet through the wormhole to rebuild a new world order. Isabel decides not to go with him because her family is on Earth. The group is reunited happily at the end.

3: Roswell (TV Series " - IMDb

"The Seeker" is the third book in the Roswell High series by Melinda Metz. I thought it was REALLY funny and well-written. It has a definat stupid aspect to it, but it's "funny-ness" counteracts that well.
