EXOTERIC ASTROLOGY is the astrology of the personality, while ESOTERIC ASTROLOGY is the astrology of the soul. Esoteric astrology concerns itself not only with the soul's purpose, but also with the process by which the personality becomes the soul's instrument.

Return to Content Zodiac Signs Soul Purpose Astrology is the use of the basic astrological principles to help us develop ourselves from a spiritual point of view. We are all a mixture of the whole Zodiac, and need to appreciate and use all the Zodiac Signs. There follows a list of all the Zodiac Signs, and the pieces of your personality they reflect. The bracketed words are picture images that express some of the essence of the Sign. The underlined words are a quality of each Sign that helps us to enjoy life and be valuable people. The italic words suggest a focus that assists in developing the underlined quality. Under each Sign there are also listed some activities in which the abilities of the Sign would be useful, although most activities need the abilities of more than one Sign. Useful when starting something new, and also when being self-motivated. Learning to use the right amount of energy for each situation. Useful in gardening, cooking etc. Learning to make peaceful contact with nature. Useful when needing information, putting people at ease, writing. Learning to use both sides of your brain – balancing intuition and logic. Useful when home-making, empathising with a friend, giving quality time to little children. Learning to be steady and supportive in emotional situations. Useful at parties, when others are feeling down, giving a talk or teaching. Learning to stay loving and positive no matter what other people think. Useful when putting things in order, being careful making things, sorting out what is important. Learning to accept things and people as they are, as a basis for improving life. Useful in meetings, choosing colours, clothes or decor. Learning to gather all the information necessary to realise the correct decision. Useful when you need to be determined, for understanding and helping deep hurt in others. Learning to use painful times to grow and understand people better. Useful when enthusiasm is needed. Learning to share your interests, so that other people can expand their thinking. Useful for organising other people, when working out how to do something practical. Learning to reach what you decide you want, by using intention rather than heavy labour. Useful when others panic, when on your own. Learning that everyone has something to give, and that although people are equal in value, they are not all the same. Useful when meditating, in counseling. Learning to be in touch with spirit joy, so that it can be shared with everyone you meet.

In the early morning hours of Sunday, August 31, in Paris, Diana, Princess of Wales, released her physical body and found the peace that she had not found in the adult years of her earthly sojourn. Five days later, Mother Teresa did the same, ending her saintly incarnation of ministering to the dying and the helpless in Calcutta, India. Although one was a celebrated royal in her thirties and the other, an elderly Catholic nun in her eighties, both had attained international renown. What message did the Universe want us to receive from the almost simultaneous departures of these two exceptional souls? In large part, this message was one of inspiration, for both of these beings were great uplifters of human consciousness. In their own individual ways and arenas of service, they both held their torches of illumination so that we could be made more aware of the all-too-often human conditions of suffering and pain. They both attempted to teach us that a primal part of our responsibility in being human lies in helping to alleviate the miseries of our brothers and sisters. The rising sign, according to esoteric teachings, indicates the path of the soul. Sagittarius is the Centaur-Archer, half human, half animal, aiming an arrow at that which will help uplift us from this conflicting and ironic condition. The Centaur teaches us that we also live in animal bodies, but are something more than animals. The experience of Sagittarius is the treading of the pathways of the earthbound world to seek and share the Light and Love of Divinity. Sagittarius, having been reborn as a result of the trials and testing in Scorpio, is the first intuitively aware sign. Instead of journeying into more peaceful and blissful realms, the Sagittarian purposefully remains in this world of conflict in order to help others who are struggling. Sagittarius is the spiritual warrior, using the strength of intuitive insight to pierce through the fog of astral energies and thus illuminate pathways to higher consciousness. The ruler of Sagittarius has traditionally been perceived as Jupiter. From the perspective of the soul, however, the true ruler is the Earth. The Earth is always degrees from the Sun in an astrological chart. The Tibetan Master, Djwhal Khul, said that the Earth is the place where sorrow is released and pain, purified. From the viewpoint of the great Cosmic Beings, the Earth is a kind of purgatory, a schoolhouse where souls can learn to love in a Divine way and spread the Light that will save the planet from perpetual darkness. Our Earth is a like a spaceship, progressing through the various realms of the universe. The entire human family is travelling on this spaceship. Sagittarius teaches us that no matter what our race, culture, religion, or status in life, by virtue of being incarnated in this time and place, we are all enduring the human condition. Through our pain we learn of our ultimately Divine essence; we develop greater compassion for others who are suffering. In this way, our lower selves become purged as we reach up toward greater realms and channel the Energy that will heal, and make healers of, others. The placement of the Earth in a Sagittarius-ascending chart shows where this spiritual journey takes place, that is, where the Sagittarius-rising person must walk the plains of the Earth, intermingle with other souls, and thus adapt to the conditions found there. Princess Diana had her Earth in the sign of Capricorn in the first house of true beingness. Capricorn is the sign of the public and of high positions of power. Thus Diana found herself in the limelight dealing with authoritarian figures. She was forced to adapt to a life of high expectations, where the eyes of the public were always upon her. Her spiritual task was to personify the power that was in her midst, imbue this power with Love, then to use this power to be an example of a humanitarian warrior and teacher. Her Earth was in the second house of stewardship, that is, the wise use of earthly resources to help realize the Divine Plan on the physical plane. She served and comforted them through the institution of the church, also ruled by Pisces. Another great inspirer who had Sagittarius rising was Eleanor Roosevelt. Roosevelt was the first wife of a U. During World War II she visited war-stricken victims in Europe to support them and bring the attention of the world to the affliction and pain that fighting can wreak upon Humanity. Having been relatively plain-looking and unglamorous since childhood, she was forced to act solely on her own behalf and to work within an Aries context of being a pioneer, standing up for principles and setting precedents. She blazed the trail for women to take leadership roles in the worldwide improvement of human conditions by being the only woman in the first American delegation to the United Nations and, later, the Chair of the Commission on the Status of Women under U. She was Chair of the U. Human Rights Commission and helped to draft a universal declaration of human rights. Perhaps her greatest offering was to spotlight the overwhelming need to first provide the people of the world with food, shelter, and clothing without imposing any political agendas on them. These three noble individuals fulfilled their Sagittarian ascendants by seeking to ease the miseries of all humans, not because they were of particular religious sects, races, or nationalities, but simply because they were human. Mother Teresa ministered as a devout Catholic in a country that was not her native one, to those who were not Christian. Princess Diana travelled from her homeland to express the need for all of us to care for those of other cultures and nationalities who are in pain and suffering. Eleanor Roosevelt rose above politics and fought for international recognition of basic rights of all humans, regardless of the nationalistic orientations of their governments. She believed in cultivating a mind that is "open like a window to currents of air and to light from all sides," a lucid description of Sagittarius-rising consciousness. All of these women, in true Sagittarian fashion, gave the world hope, courage, and inspiration. They embroiled themselves in some of the most distasteful aspects of human life so that they could infuse these with Light and Love and inspire others to do the same. They brought our attention to physical and emotional realities that must be eradicated in order for the whole of Humanity to evolve and showed us that the healing of the planet must begin with those who most cry out for help. These three Sagittarian ascendants have now continued their journeys to engage in even greater Work. Having transcended our world, however, these true bearers of Light, through our memory of their examples, continue to bestow their blessings of inspiration and wisdom upon us. Based on human individuality and freedom of choice, astrology incorporates and bridges many systems of thought. Astrology is neither a scapegoat for individual human responsibility nor does it pre-suppose that our lives are in the hands of fate. Astrology is a Divine gift to human souls to help them on their paths back to the Light from which they have come.

3: Soulsign - Soul Astrology, Meditation & Sound Healing

The subject of esoteric astrology (sometimes called the astrology of the soul) will be the focus of this half-day workshop. When presenting this subject, William's goal is not to teach people how to be astrologers.

The astrology is based on an illusion. When we say that we are of such or such signs, we make it because we think that it corresponds to the position of the sun in the constellation in question at the time of our birth. In reality, it is false, because the sun is not absolutely there where it is sensible to be. Does it mean that the astrology is an enormous trickery? And indeed not, because even if it is not the reality, there is a gigantic thoughtform created by the humanity which supports the existence of the astrology and allows it to continue and to work in the shape which we know. This thought form is so powerful it has existed for millennia it works equally well for the northern hemisphere than the southern hemisphere, so that here too, astrology should be different. Indeed, the signs are related to seasons, or the southern hemisphere, seasons are reversed. To be more precise, if we take the signs Capricorn, Aquarius and Pisces are signs of winter in the southern hemisphere, they become signs of summer. Astrology, like science-ray refers to the fact that everything is fundamentally energy. Energy come from stellar constellations and energies are then transmuted into force by the person who receives them. These capacities for receiving and transmutation depend on the sensitivity developed by the receiver. I would like to recall a fundamental fact in the evolutionary processes that astrology will be able, at some point to prove this scientifically by any controversy. It is the fact that energy and forces poured over our lives and our planet incessantly and cyclically powerfully, however, these energies are now regarded as existing only when they evoke a response set. Treaty on the 7 Rays Vol. To date, the true esoteric astrology is not yet, so this party will provide bases and areas of study. Indeed, much research and discoveries are still to be done and as will not be revealed certain information, esoteric astrology will remain incomplete. We can point out some of these gaps: The actual age of the Earth. To have a proper understanding and carry out accurate inferences related to the constellations, planets and the Earth, there should be a fixed time at which the astrologers could count. This fixed time, we do not know now, this is information that is held by the hierarchy and will be issued in due course. The only data we have is dated the date, birthplace of the human kingdom on the planet. This rise, called the Great Approach, is the result of individualization and it occurred when the Sun was in Leo, there are about 21, years. The ability to set the earth on the chart. The existence of Vulcan and its position in the theme. Vulcan is a planet in etheric matter, this means it is not visible, either to the naked eye or a telescope. It has not yet taken shape. By cons, as it exists on the energy front, it is highly likely to be found one day by astronomers and cosmologists who study dark matter and dark energy. Astrology and human being: Before developing the specifics of the approach of the human being as esoteric astrology, we can examine the differences between this form of astrology and esoteric astrology, also called classical or orthodox. Astrology as we know it usually works and is valid for all individuals who are in involutive phase and construction phase of their personality, that is to say, in the lower curve of involution-evolution. It is insufficient or incorrect when a person begins to move forward on some disease or in other words, when the person becomes more sensitive and receptive to vibrations and influences of the soul. This is the stage where the personality is integrated and where the human being begins to ask questions that go beyond the strict confines of his own existence like: What can I do to useful to the world? When this stage is reached, the person becomes susceptible to more subtle energies, in connection with the soul. When the person does not live yet as a personality built, the chart shows "his destiny". The planetary influences condition and completely dominate one who has no conscious experience of the soul. As soon as a human being becomes aware that it is an embodied soul, the planetary influences in themselves fall sharply. The horoscope personality is no longer just the individual being able to control these energies. For this reason it is essential before any interpretation of theme, to determine more or less precisely the stage of evolution reached by the subject. This is the basic premise. This also implies that to be esoteric astrologer, it must itself have begun to function as a soul. The study of astrology comes to consider the study of a wide range of energies and forces that interact between them and impacting every human being. Some of these forces will have more influence on personality and more on the soul. The esoteric astrologer must be able to differentiate the capacity of the human being is subjected to these forces, or to use for its development. Esoteric Astrology is the function of indicating the extent of potential consciousness of a human being and thus its usefulness for all. In the future, astrology reveal the secret of effective coordination between the soul and form. In the future, we will see that astrology and Rays Science are inseparable. Indeed, the 7 rays are influenced by the 12 constellations, and therefore under their control Zodiac. Each planet relays a particular radius, and to obtain a full psychological analysis of a human being, the theme must be related with its card-ray. As noted previously, developments could be summarized in the ability that every human being to manifest increase its sensitivity and responsivity to energies more and more subtle. The individual basis, consisting of coarse material vibrating at a low level may not be receptive to energy relatively coarse, but life to life, as and measuring experience and expansions of consciousness achieved initiations for past gross, human beings with different body becomes more and more refined. Its degree of vibration increases, and it might resonate with the higher vibrations. As the diamond coming out of its matrix and then polished and shaped, it becomes a jewel he has always been able to let shine and radiate the purest light. In the future, esoteric astrology propose the following approach to the human being: For each individual, three horoscopes will be posed: The third will deal with the mental body: By overlaying and establishing lines of energy exchanges, the astrologers will get the geometry of the individual, showing trends energy in the incarnation lived. For the most advanced, two horoscopes will be prepared, that of the soul and the personality. This indicates the soul of the new orientation of the person, his inner life still in embryo. He will be personality related to the theme of the soul to identify areas of compliance and bottlenecks, barriers and tensions. This will bring up the expected pattern of life and the next stage of development. These stars are related to three aspects: Spirit, soul and body. Each season has its own pace, as can be seen when one observes the evolution of nature in one year. Winter is a time of preparation, cleaning and alignment for the energies of spring. We find no sign of fire in winter. It is a time of inspiration. During this season take place three major spiritual festivals Easter, Wesak and the Feast of the Will of Good or Pentecost takes place at each full moon of spring. There is no sign of water in the Spring. It is a time of high apnea. Summer is a time of transformation. The energy captured during the spring act in us and transform us. It is also time for distribution and materialize. There is no sign of air in Summer. It is a moment of lapse. Autumn is a time integration of energy, balance and tension to a new higher target. We find no evidence of Earth during this season. It is a time of low apnea. The signs of early season we are working on the mental plane, the signs of mid-season on an emotional and signs of end of season on the physical plane. Aries is the 1st sign of spring, we are working on the mental plane and as a sign of fire, the mental aspect is doubly intensified in this sign. In spring, we are in a moment of impregnation. So, Aries refers us to plan, big ideas, what is Essential. This is the month of the pulse spark of life. As as the year goes on, even if consciously we do not always perceive, we cross the 12 zodiac signs and bear their energy. Lived consciously, it can promote an understanding of changes or disruptions feelings, mood, energy. This also explains the changes in behavior and mood, the emergence of new ideas and interests. Use it wisely, it puts us in harmony with the rhythms of the universe, helps us to accelerate our evolutionary process and accompanies us in our service action. For example, it is not uncommon during the month of Scorpio, we feel tested, beset by old demons of emotional difficulties. Far from being a period of torment, this can give us the opportunity of a significant increase on the release of our emotional nature. It is also a month that promotes access to revelations and enlightenment. By stage of development of each and the energies that determine the sensitivity and responsiveness to these energies will be different. Each year is published on the site www. Each sign is involved in one or more triangles of constellations and planets are governed by three see table in the documents section. The planets each have a particular impact on humans. The planet known as "hierarchical" is connected with the Spirit. The planet known as "Esoteric" is related to the Soul. The planet known as "exoteric" is related to the personality. Aries is part of the triangle of constellations of R1 and R7. Uranus R7 is the planet hierarchical Mercury R4is the planet esoteric March R6 is the world exoteric Humans polarized on the level of the Spirit universal consciousness , working with the energy of the planets line of each sign.

In this course, you will learn about the 12 signs through their elemental groupings, receive a solid orientation to the natal chart, and the basic soul-focused perspective of Evolutionary Astrology. You will learn the astronomy associated with the astrological birth chart.

What is Astrology Astrology is the interpretation of the positions of planets in the sky. From our point of view, standing on the Earth, all the planets move round us within the same plane. Astrologers divide this plane into 12 equal parts, which they call the 12 Signs of the Zodiac, starting at 0 degrees Aries the same as sailors do. An astrologer draws a chart of the planetary positions in the Zodiac for the moment of your birth. This chart is called your Birth Chart, and is a like a snapshot of your personality, it mirrors your qualities and how you tend to perceive life. An astrologer interprets this chart in terms of your personality and life experience by looking at the relationships and interaction between planets, and where they are located within the Zodiac. It is crucial to remember that astrology neither makes us what we are, nor creates life. The Birth Chart describes us, as a map describes a landscape or a mirror reflects a face. The elements of Astrology An astrological birth chart consists of: The Planets represent life energy flowing through us with different functions, in Zodiac Signs , showing the style or manner in which each energy is expressed, in Houses , showing which areas of our life encourage us to use that energy, and which activities get the energy going. The Aspects between planets show how we get on inside ourselves, which is reflected out into our world. The Nodes of the Moon show our spiritual direction, or soul purpose, through our life. How do I work? When I read your Birth Chart, I am using the science of astrology to help me find and describe the basic bones of your character and how your energy works in the different areas of your life. I have practising for over forty years, and these days, when tuning in to a client, I find that teaching and assistance intuitively come through that specifically address their particular needs at the time. My Readings benefit people who are interested in making some sense of their lives, people who are wanting to find the direction for their next steps, who wish to have more insight into how their behavior is creating the individual world in which they live, and how to improve it. We talk about what you want to know, what is currently important to you, and I explain where the information comes from as we go along. I am not able to predict specific events and do not try to do so. Instead, when looking at the future, I focus on how each person can make fullest use of the times that lie ahead. What do you receive from a Chart Reading? Readings last up to an hour, and are recorded for you, so that you can to listen again at your leisure. I am often told that answers come to light later that were forgotten, or not heard during the Reading itself. You also receive your Birth Chart, which is drawn in colours for easy understanding. I am happy to work from Charts which have been drawn by others, and I can also focus on specific questions, and update previously interpreted Charts if required. Some people may have brief points which they wish to be clarified and a reduced fee can be arranged for this. Suggestions as to what we can talk about click here. What talks do I give? I enjoy giving talks introducing Astrology and explaining how it works, and I can give demonstrations using birth dates from members of the audience if desired.

Esoteric Astrology ~ The Revealer of the Soul's Intention ~ When walking upon the spiritual path, understanding the motives and intentions of the Soul is paramount.

Saturn is moving retrograde in Sagittarius, Jupiter is also moving retrograde, although He comes out of retrograde on 8th April, and we have had the last of the Uranus-Pluto Square alignments. We are now approaching another lunar eclipse in the sign of Libra, so the energy is very high and although it can be tense, it is a great time for breakthroughs and to initiate and achieve things. Libra is a very interesting sign. Firstly, we must take into account that Libra is an air sign and also a Cardinal sign. Cardinal signs such as Aries, Cancer, Libra and Capricorn are all in sync with the beginning of the seasons, for those of us who live in the northern hemisphere. As we know, there are 12 signs in the Zodiac. Each one of the signs, starting from Aries and ending in Pisces, has an opposite sign. This is the place where you will start to get a sense of what Libra is about and how it will manifest for you. If you began counting from the first Zodiac sign starting with Aries, Libra is the first Zodiac sign that will have an opposite sign, which will be Aries and which is also the Sun sign we are currently in. Also, Libra is the sign that is in the middle of the 12 Zodiac signs, so right there we get a sense that Libra is connected with a sense of relationship and relating, as Libra is the first sign in the Zodiac that makes an opposite sign. As Libra is in the middle of the 12 signs, this also symbolises on some level, balance, which is what the symbol of Libra actually is. It is the image of the balance scales, which is connected with fairness, law and justice and diplomacy. So the sign of Libra is where you learn to relate and integrate yourself and really get a sense of what relationships are about. It is where you will make an accommodation to another individual in a one-to-one relationship. Do bear in mind that these relationships do not necessarily have to be intimate ones. Although the area of intimate relationships do become more magnified around this time, if you are currently single, this can be a great time to socialise and seek where areas of your relationships can develop. Libra is ruled by the planet Venus, and Venus is currently in the sign of Taurus, so She is sure to bring harmony and cooperation to relationships on all levels. This is the time to bring things to a head, down to earth and under your focus. Lunar eclipses very often tend to bring things to a head, to manifestation, or to fruition. It will add to and colour the event even more. This is a time when relationships come into full manifestation, whether it is an ending or a beginning. Very often, business agreements could be finalised or resolved in some way shape or form. It can also be the beginning and the end of a conflict between two competitors, enemies or rivals. It all depends from which angle it is approached. There is going to be very powerful and initiating energy around relationships, You will be more inclined to be more good-natured, gracious, charming and easier to get along with. Libra is also an air sign, which is very much mental orientated and connected to the mind. Libra has a tendency to have very strong ideals, especially in the area of relationships, and because of this, do not be surprised if your thoughts are turned to interests such as the arts, music, dancing, painting or even ballet, where you may seek that ideal. Libra energy loves the idea of love or being in love. You could go on a search for the romantic ideal. This is a very strong time when you may heighten your perception of beauty, and that will be reflected in your appearance. You could change your hairstyle or type of makeup, or you could dress in a new way; lovelier and more glamorous in this particular Full Moon eclipse period. Anything that will allow you to look more attractive to a potential partner is possible around this time. You can become another person orientated and want to interact on a one-to-one basis much more than usual. It is probable that you will make connections with other people which will provide a distinct and beneficial union and this will make your affairs flow along in a more harmonious and balanced way. The Libra archetype is highly civilised in spirit and is expressed through working with others in order to create an atmosphere of cooperation, where people with opposing viewpoints can achieve a balanced and mutual satisfying accord. This is one of the reasons why Libra is often associated with the gifted diplomat and peacemaker in both personal and professional life. Even though the willingness of this sign is to harmonise rather than antagonise, it has earned Libra the reputation of being indecisive. This is because the Libra archetype has a tendency to see an objective truth on both sides and it is constantly trying to weigh up its options to gain balance. So as we are in the new season of Spring, be mindful of relationships that you are creating and those that already exist. Be sure to focus your attention on harmony, balance, fairness and diplomacy on all levels. If you are single at this particular period, be sure to socialise and seek to harmonise through your charm.
