At The Unicorn Solution Consulting, we're all about providing innovative and bright ideas for every situation. Let us help you find that one idea that shines the brightest for your company. Call today to set up an initial consultation with our team of innovators.

This team continues to steer the company today with exactly the same clear purpose and the same clear understanding that each one of our clients requires dedicated, unique and individual care, because each one of our clients is a treasured member of the Unicorn family. At Unicorn, we are united in our belief that everyone needs not just a financial plan, not just a healthcare plan, not just a career plan, but an authentically holistic LIFE PLAN. We believe that each one of us can live with the freedom to pursue our own choices. We work with each client to understand their circumstances, their relationships, their worries, and their goals. In this way we can build, together with them, their own unique blueprint, for them to achieve financial independence and the freedom to live the life that they choose. So, along with financial planning services, Unicorn also offers healthcare opportunities for our family members, through physical exercise sessions, our traditional Chinese medicine partners, days out and opportunities to engage with the great outdoors. And, of course, fun and relaxation are important too! Oftentimes these get-togethers become meaningful family time as friends and family are always welcome. At the end of the day, the aim is peace, contentment and a joyful life, which we want to give you the opportunity to enjoy and share with your loved ones. Please do contact us anytime so that we can work with you to create your authentic, holistic, financial life plan. We look forward to getting to know you!

He is also a student of life. From a humble family background, enjoying nature and warm family ties in kampong society, Patrick has grown to take responsibility as a leader in many arenas: Patrick was called to financial planning by his desire provide for his family. This calling has evolved to become a passion and unwavering commitment to serve society by providing authentic financial planning for clients and friends until today. As Chairman, Patrick sees Unicorn as his family and treats everyone, without exception, as a family member. Consultants, office staff, kitchen staff and clients alike all are given his genuine and heartfelt care and concern as Patrick seeks to add value to each one of them in their Health, Relationships and Wealth.

Kevin Wilkinson, Managing Director Kevin has a wealth of experience, accumulated over five decades in the finance industry. He has lived and worked in Singapore for over 25 years, first as the head of a British private bank and later taking the reins as Chief Executive Officer of a local financial institution, before establishing Unicorn with the rest of the leadership team in He is extremely proud to be part of a practice that is built on sincere, lifelong relationships, tailor-making financial advice that is genuinely suited for each and every client. At the same time, he is realistic about his own hopes and expectations for the company and clear about his priorities in running the business.

Robin Tan Huan Hong, Executive Director Robin is an exceptional professional – a highly experienced financial planning specialist and skilled in investment risk management planning. Formerly a key investing committee member at a major local financial institution. I think it is very important for Unicorn to have a healthy balance sheet so that it can deliver on its promises over the long term. But it is more important that Unicorn profits in a wholesome way – by contributing to society. We do not merely want to create men of commercial success, but rather to stand out as an organisation of value. The blueprint that Unicorn creates for clients is a blueprint built around the totality of the individual, their health and relationships as well as their wealth and financial well-being. This is a unique approach, stemming from a sincere wish to be of as much help to the client as possible. The benefit that the client gets is enormous. If our life is worth living, it is worth planning for life. Business registration number R. Authenticity, trustworthiness and integrity are our guiding principles.

Unicorn microporous insulation panels The Unicorn insulating panels are provided in a wide variety of dimensions. The required length and width of the panel can be chosen more or less without restriction. Thicknesses of insulation panels from 4 mm up to 50 mm and various formats standard: Slatted and flexible panels are also provided. These panels can be bent in order to insulate curved shapes. Customized pressing molds deliver exactly the required dimensions in an application and reduce the cutting waste to a minimum. Using a customized press mold amounts in a considerable economical advantage for large order volumes.

Unicorn microporous pipe insulations The Unicorn shell technology allows maximum flexibility and economic efficiency for pipe insulations. One of the biggest challenges for the user when insulating is the very large number of different pipe diameters. Unicorn shell technology masters this challenge easily and quickly. The sections are available in widely variable thicknesses of pipe insulations and internal diameters with a length of up to mm. Since Unicorn shell technology provides compressed sections, the user benefits from an excellent cost- performance ratio.

Unicorn microporous VIP core material In using Unicorn core material, the Vacuum Insulation Panel manufacturer benefits from a list of important features typical of the microporous insulation material. Being the longest lasting among the core materials is a decisive asset of the microporous material. VIPs manufactured with silica cores can attain a service time of fifty years and more. Providing best in class stability makes the panels quick and easy to handle and reduces the damage loss to a minimum. Extraordinary thin panels are available in a thickness to as little as 4 mm. Wide customization of the panels ensures the optimum solution in differing contexts. The design of a customized mold reduces the cutting waste. Excellent thermal insulation is provided by the Unicorn core itself, even when the vacuum no longer exists. In the case of such a critical condition of a VIP the very low increase of volume compared to other core materials is additionally very important. Absolutely non-hazardous material offers three benefits. The REACH regulation is met, the disposal costs at the end of the duration of use are very low and handling the material is in no way detrimental to health. Typical applications for VIPs are building insulations with zero energy or plus energy houses, the latest generation of refrigerators and various applications within the cool-chain logistics segment. The latter could be cool boxes, cool car insulation or cool houses. Broad variety of options The use of a lamination enhances the performance of the insulation panel in two ways. It minimizes dust when handling the insulation material and reduces the risk of damage during installation, as the lamination provides an additional reinforcement. As an option the panels can be packed in POF shrink foil. Alternatively they can be laminated with aluminum or a non-woven glass fleece. The Unicorn VIP cores can be wrapped and sealed with a non-woven fabric. The user-friendly cutting service for panels and VIP cores allows a maximum of flexibility to ensure a fast and efficient installation. Ecologically effective throughout the entire life span All Unicorn insulating materials are free of organic binding agents. They consist of silica silicon oxide , an inorganic opacifying agent and non-hazardous fibres which are resistant to high temperatures. These inherently stable products are long-lasting, do not rot, are vermin resistant and easy to recycle. For these reasons the products are convincing economically as well as ecologically.
